NOTIFICATION.

The 7th September 1875.—The following rules, framed by the Board of Revenue, L.P., under Section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act) of 1871, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information.

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules framed by the Board of Revenue, L. P., with the consent of the Local Government, under Section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act), 1871.

SECTION I.

PRELIMINARY.

THE rules governing service pensions, extraordinary pensions, and gratuities for service not entitling to pension, are contained in the Civil Pension Code published under the authority of the Government of India. The following instructions therefore apply to territorial and political pensions only, disbursed through the revenue authorities.

SECTION II.

THE PLACE AND TIMES AT WHICH, AND THE PERSONS TO WHOM, PENSIONS ARE TO BE PAID.

1. As a general rule, pensions are payable at the district treasury upon which a permanent payable order has been issued by the Accountant-General.

2. But pensioners residing within any sub-division of a district, and not under Clause 8 of this Section, exempted from attendance in person, may, by presenting themselves monthly before the Sub-divisional Officer, obtain payment of their pensions by cheque upon the sub-divisional treasure chest, their attendance on each occasion at the district head-quarters being dispensed with. In these cases the responsibility of the District Officer will remain undisturbed, and payment will not be made till the Sub-divisional Officer, having forwarded the pensioner's receipt and his life certificate to the District Officer, obtains in return a cheque for the amount of pension due.

3. Moreover, once in every six months the permanent orders of every sub-division will be recalled to the head-quarters of the district, and pensioners will be required to present themselves for payment before the District Officer.

4. A Commissioner may, on application and on sufficient cause shown, permit transfer of payment from a treasury in his division to any other treasury in British India. This power does not extend to political pensions in cases where the pensioner resides, by order of Government, in a particular place.

5. Copy of the order directing the transfer should be forwarded by the Commissioner to the Accountant-General, Bengal, together with a brief narrative of the origin and particulars of the pension; and the District Officer of the district from which the payment is transferred, should be instructed to return his portion of the permanent payable order to the Accountant-General. The Accountant-General will then issue a fresh permanent payable order to the officer who will in future pay the pension, or, if that officer belongs to another province, will move the Accountant-General of such province to do so.

6. As a rule, pensions shall be paid monthly.

7. Should a pensioner neglect or omit to apply for payment for six months, the District Officer shall obtain the sanction of the Commissioner before paying the arrears or continuing the payment of the pension for the future. Should the neglect or omission to apply for payment extend to one year, the sanction of the Board of Revenue must be obtained. When an interval of two years has been allowed to elapse, the case must be laid before Government for orders.

8. Except in the cases specified below, pensioners must appear in person at the time of taking payment of their pensions:—

(a) Pensioners of rank, who may be exempted by order of Government from appearing personally before the District Officer;

(b) Female pensioners, who, according to custom, cannot with propriety appear in public; and

(c) Pensioners who are disabled from appearing by illness or bodily infirmity.

In cases (b) and (c) the Commissioners shall have power to grant exemption from personal attendance.

9. Pensions of pensioners of rank, specially exempted by Government, shall be paid to an agent holding a power-of-attorney, upon the production of the permanent order and of a separate receipt.

10. Pensions of pensioners exempted under heads (b) and (c) of Clause 8 of this Section may be paid to an agent on their behalf on production of a life certificate signed by an officer of Government, or by some other well-known and trustworthy person, of the permanent order, and of a separate receipt.

11. Commissioners may authorize the payment of arrears due to a deceased pensioner (after such investigations as shall satisfy them of the actual date of the pensioner's demise, and that the persons applying for the arrears due are his legal heirs) in cases in which the arrear is due for a period not exceeding one year. When the arrear is due for a period exceeding one year, reference shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

SECTION III.

ENQUIRIES INTO THE IDENTITY OF CLAIMANTS.

1. Pensioners who appear in person to receive payment must be identified by comparison with the particulars given in the portion of the permanent payable order kept by the disbursing officer, who should take every precaution against fraudulent personation. Females, or respectable male pensioners, who may reasonably object to appear at his public office, may be identified by him in private, or at his own house.

2. In the case of female pensioners not exempted from personal attendance under Clause 8 of Section II, a female may be employed to assist in the identification.

3. In the case of pensioners exempted from attendance under Clause 8 of Section 2, the disbursing officer must take all possible precautions to prevent imposition, and must, before the first payment in each year, require proof, not only of the existence of the pensioner, but also, when the exemption is based on the ground of illness or bodily infirmity, of the pensioner's inability to appear. The opportunities afforded by visits, and by the cold-weather tours of European officers, should be taken advantage of to verify the continued existence of such male pensioners as are exempted from personal attendance.

4. When a pensioner can write, his signature on the receipt should be compared with that on the disbursing officer's portion of the permanent payable order at the time of payment.

5. In all cases of exemption of male pensioners from personal attendance to draw their pensions, if the disbursing officer entertains any doubt, which he has no convenient means of removing, he should refer the case to the Commissioner for orders. Payment of the pension, however, should not be suspended pending the result of such reference.

SECTION IV.

DELIVERY OF CERTIFICATES TO PENSIONERS.

1. On the receipt, by the disbursing officer of the permanent payable order, he shall summon the pensioner, and on his appearing, shall make over to him his portion of the permanent payable order, and explain to him at what times he can draw his pension, and how he must proceed for the purpose. No other certificate need be given.

2. When the pensioner is exempted from appearance in person under Clause 8, Section 2, the permanent order may be made over to any person authorized to act on the pensioner's behalf.

3. When the pensioner's portion of the permanent payable order is much worn, or its back is filled with entries of payment, he should return it to the disbursing officer, who will forward both portions of the order to the Accountant-General, and obtain from him a duplicate order bearing the same number and date.

4. If the pensioner loses his portion, the disbursing officer's half may be returned to the Accountant-General, who will issue a duplicate order, bearing the same number and date as the original.

SECTION V.

RECORDS TO BE KEPT ON THE SUBJECT OF PENSIONS, CORRECTION AND TRANSMISSION OF SUCH RECORDS, AND REGISTERS OF CERTIFICATES DELIVERED TO PENSIONERS.

1. In each Collectorate a list of pensions shall be kept up in the form given in Appendix A. (N.B.—This will take the place of Register 55.)

2. All pensions not drawn for two years shall be struck off this register. If renewed by order of Government, a fresh entry will be made in the register.

3. Should a pension not be claimed for six months, the counterpart of the permanent order shall be returned to the Accountant-General.

If the pensioner afterwards appear, the District Officer may, subject to the rule contained in Clause 7, Section 2, reclaim the permanent order and renew the payment, and, subject to the same rule, may make payment of arrears.

4. Upon the death of a pensioner, the Collector should at once report the circumstance to the Accountant-General and return the original permanent order to his office.

5. When pensions are granted the Accountant-General issues permanent payable orders to the disbursing officer of the station at which the pension is payable, directing him to pay periodically, until further notice, the amount of the pension upon the production of the counterpart of the order and a separate receipt according to the prescribed form. These orders should be entered in the register of permanent orders prescribed by the Comptroller-General in his Circular No. 171, dated 15th April 1874.

6. When under Clauses 2 and 3, Section 2, payment of any pension is permitted at a sub-division, the permanent order of such pension shall be forwarded to the sub-division, a note to that effect being made in the register of permanent orders at the head-quarters station. At each sub-division a register of permanent order so received shall be kept up in the same form as the register prescribed for the head-quarters station.

7. Upon presentation of a claim for payment, the Collector should at once record the sum paid upon the permanent order, and enter the amount in the cash-book, and submit the separate receipt (Appendix B) with his treasury account to the Accountant-General, as a voucher in support of the charge.

SECTION VI.

DISPOSAL OF CLAIMS TO RIGHT OF SUCCESSION TO, OR TO PARTICIPATION IN, PENSIONS OR GRANTS, AND GRANT OF CERTIFICATE TO CIVIL COURT IN CERTAIN CASES.

1. The Board of Revenue is competent to sanction the continuance of hereditary pensions when the hereditary title has been already recognised by Government or decreed by a competent court of justice. But it is to be borne in mind that the Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the permanent settlement, and that if a pension has unadvisedly been continued to heirs, the hereditary nature of the gratuity may, on the death of the incumbent, again be questioned.

2. As a general principle, pecuniary grants will not be continued after the death of the parties in whose favour they were originally made. Pensioners whose pensions are granted for life only, and are resumable at their decease, are to be in no way encouraged by the local officers to hope that their pensions will be continued to their heirs, and thereby induced to neglect making a proper provision for their families. The Board is to submit to Government for decision any case in which it may be of opinion, on the decease of a life-pensioner, that the pension, or any part thereof, should be continued to the heirs.

3. The principles laid down in the memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, printed in Appendix C, are, under the orders of Government, to be followed in recommending, or deciding upon, the continuance or discontinuance to heirs of the various classes of pensions with which the memorandum deals.

4. As a rule, the distribution of pensions is irrespective of Hindu or Mahomedan law, and dependent on the pleasure of Government only.

In cases where the original grant of a pension to two or more persons was joint and undivided, the survivor or survivors will be considered entitled to retain only an exact half, or lesser share, according to circumstances, of the whole sum, without reference to sex.

5. But when the grant was of a specific sum annually payable in perpetuity and unconditionally, the District Officer may, with the sanction of the Commissioner and the Board of Revenue, grant a certificate to the civil court under Section 6, Act XXIII of 1871, where the question at issue is the right of one or other of two parties to receive any portion of such grant.

APPENDIX C.

(See Section 6, Clause 3.)

Memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, on pensions and charitable or other allowances, dated 12th May 1845.

THE Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the permanent settlement.

Section 74, Regulation VIII, 1793, provided "with respect to any of the existing established zemindari charges, such as pensions, charitable or other allowances, which it may be thought proper to continue, they shall be paid by the Collectors, &c."

Regulation XXIV, 1793, prescribed the rules for determining their continuance or discontinuance; the fundamental principle being that all such pensions and allowances were gratuitous.

The following are the principal provisions of that Regulation:—

"Pensions received by virtue of sunnuds granted before the Dewanny, or since granted with the sanction of Government, and pensions received from before 1179 (Country Era), to be continued to the grantees or original holders. But if the grantees or original holders be dead, the pensions not to be continued to their heirs or descendants without the sanction of Government; and—

"No pension after the death of the person then entitled to it to be continued to his descendants without the like sanction, whether the grant was, in either case, according to the terms of it, hereditary or otherwise

"Whenever Government orders the continuance of a pension, whether to the original holder or his heir, the Collector to give him a certificate, stating the title of the party thereto during his or her life.

"The Collector to keep a register of these certificates, noting therein such personal identifications of the parties as might detect any attempt to transfer the certificates to others.

"The pensions and allowances being gratuitous, the determining upon the continuance or discontinuance of them under the rules prescribed reserved to Government."

It appears to me plain that according to this Regulation every pension confirmed was to be confirmed as a life pension only, and that on the death of any pensioners the case of any new claimant was to be submitted to Government for its determination.

Section 6 of Regulation XXIV, 1803 (Ceded Provinces), provided that pensions granted to fakers and other religious persons for the purpose of lighting mausoleums or mosques, or for that of repairing them, as also to enable them to perform their religious ceremonies usual in the Mohurram, were to be continued; but that pensions of this description were to be considered as of a personal nature, and that the Collector was to be responsible for their being applied to the purpose for which they were bestowed.

Certificates were under this Regulation to be granted for pensions renewed on the death of pensioner, and registers of certificates to be kept as under Regulation XXIV, 1793, and Section 16 declared that the continuance or discontinuance of pensions was, after the death of the persons then receiving them, to depend solely on the pleasure of Government.

I reconcile Sections 6 and 16 in this way. Pensions received by fakers at the date of the Regulation for certain purposes were to be continued to them, but if they applied them to other purposes they would be resumed. On the death of the then holders, the pensions were to be continued to their successors or not as Government might determine, each renewal requiring a specific order.

By Section 30, Regulation XII, 1805, the provisions of Regulation XXIV, 1793, were made applicable to pensions and allowances granted for religious purposes in Cuttack with these provisos—

I.—That pensions obtained from the Government of Berar, under grants prior to October 1803, should be continued to the then incumbents, and, on their death, should descend to their heirs and successors, or revert to Government, as should appear to the Governor-General in Council, on a consideration of the tenor of the grant, and all the circumstances of the case, to be proper, under Section 4 of the said Regulation.

II.—Pensions received, under whatever authority, for three or more years before October 1803, to be continued to the then incumbents for life, but on their death to revert to Government, unless any particular reasons should appear to Government to exist for continuing them to their heirs and successors.

In the terms "on a consideration of the tenor of the grant" contained in the proviso I, we find the first indication of Government prescribing a rule to itself respecting the continuance of a pension to heirs and successors of incumbents. Section 4, Regulation XXIV, 1793, to which reference is made, contains no such rule.

By Section 7, Regulation XXII, 1806, the Board of Revenue were instructed, in determining whether, on the death of a pensioner, the pension, or any part of it, should be continued to heirs or successors, "to ascertain particularly the situation and circumstances of the person" claiming the continuance of the pension, and not to comply with any applications of that nature unless, on the ground of poverty or other substantial reason, the party claiming it shall have a strong claim on the indulgence of Government."

This relates to pensions to a certain amount (fifty rupees) left to the Board's decision, but I presume the principle was applicable to all.

Section 8 enjoined Collectors to discontinue the payment of all pensions, where the persons to whom they had been adjudged had died, until it could be determined whether they were to be continued to heirs.

Section 9 had in view the commutation of money pensions for grants of waste land or property.

It begins by repeating the declaration that pensions are gratuitous, and that the continuance or discontinuance of them is to depend on the pleasure of Government.

It then enacts that adjudged pensions are not to be commuted for grants of land, except with the consent of the pensioner, and adds these further provisos:—

That pensions granted for, and bona fide appropriated to, the support of institutions, either of the Hindoo or Mahomedan religion, shall be continued for the support of such institutions, unless the present incumbents or their successors shall, of their own free will and accord, agree to accept waste lands in lieu of the said pensions, and that no pensions which are declared to be hereditary, either by the terms of the grant, or by any existing Regulations, shall be commuted without the consent of the present pensioners or their successors.

The first proviso has been quoted as containing an abstract rule that pensions for the support of the institutions therein described shall be continued in perpetuity; but considering the whole scope of the section, it seems to me rather to mean that so long as the allowances are continued by the pleasure of Government, they shall be continued in the shape of money payments, unless the incumbent for the time being consents to a commutation for land.

So also in respect of pensions which, in consideration of the terms of the grant, the Government may hereafter continue to the heirs of present incumbents. These shall likewise be continued in the shape of money payments, unless with the consent of the heir to whom it is continued it shall be commuted for land.

The same rule to apply to pensions declared hereditary by the Regulations, i.e., those described in Section 2, Regulation XXXIV, 1795, and Section 2, Regulation XXIV, 1803, which are declared to be property, and liable to be sued for and inherited as such, and are distinct from the gratuitous pensions.

Suppose, then, a case in which the grant was not hereditary by the terms of it, but which the Government thought it right to continue to the heir of a deceased incumbent, they might insist on his taking land in lieu of it, or renouncing all claim to the allowance.

Sections 2 and 3, Regulation XI, 1813, enact that all pensions shall be stopped until those receiving them prove that they are either the original grantees, or that they have been regularly declared entitled to succeed to the enjoyment of the pensions, and that new registers shall be made and corrected as often as any pensions revert wholly on in part to Government, or whenever other individuals than those by whom the pensions are at present received shall be adjudged entitled to the reversion of them.

So far, then, as the law is concerned, it appears to me that the continuance or discontinuance of any pension or allowance on the death of an incumbent rests entirely in the discretion of Government, that when continued it should be for the life of the applicant only.

In practice, I believe, the Government has very much fettered itself in the exercise of this discretion.

NOTIFICATION.

The 26th August 1875.—In modification of the Notification dated the 27th December 1872, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 29th January 1873, the following revised Rules for the regulation of vessels having gunpowder on board having received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under clause (O), section 7, Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports' Act, 1875), are published for general information.

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Revised Rules for the regulation of Vessels having Gunpowder on board.

1. UNDER the provisions of sections 7 (O), 28, 29, and 33 of Act XII of 1875, it is hereby notified that all inward-bound vessels carrying gunpowder, the total quantity of which is in excess of 5lbs, are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge, and the Master of any vessel lying within the Port, or in the river above Budge-Budge, which shall have on board any gunpowder in excess of 5lbs, will be liable to the penalty provided in section 34 of the said Act XII of 1875: Provided that boats will be permitted to bring as far as Neemuck Mehal Ghât, under cover of a pass to be granted by the Commissioners, 50lbs of gunpowder, the property of dealers and consignees.

2. All such gunpowder, in excess of the prescribed quantity, 5lbs, must be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore.

3. The magazine-keeper will take charge of the gunpowder immediately on its being conveyed to the shore at Moyapore, and will deposit it in the magazine.

4. For the convenience of vessels having gunpowder on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance off the magazine for landing and shipping powder. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing ship's powder, but the responsibility of the keeper in respect of the powder will not commence until it is landed on the bank, and will cease as soon as it is shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to ensure the safety of the powder while in the boat, but the landing and shipping is at the risk of the vessel.

5. Vessels bringing consignments of trade or Government powder will be liable to pay landing charges for the use of the boat if the magazine boat is used; and should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or receive ship's powder, such vessels must be accommodated before the boat can be used to discharge powder or ammunition brought as cargo.

6. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, masters of vessels requiring the use of the powder-boat are required to hoist a flag at the foretopmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have boat and coolies in attendance.

7. Masters of vessels are required to mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of gunpowder previously to their being landed, and, if not marked, they will not be received by the magazine boat.

8. Gunpowder shall not be landed or received into the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

9. The magazine-keeper shall give to the Master or other person making the deposit a receipt for the number of packages, and he shall be accountable to such master or other person for the re-delivery of such packages.

10. A native clerk will be always in attendance in the powder-boat, and will grant the Master the receipt specified in the foregoing rule.

11. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather or by being in distress, from landing or depositing such gunpowder, in excess of the quantity allowed as aforesaid, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Metten Broose Ghât, and the Master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Conservator of his having such gunpowder on board, and shall obey his directions relating to the same.

12. Masters of vessels outward-bound, who may require gunpowder for their outward voyage, shall not take gunpowder on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding 5lbs.

13. Masters of vessels who have deposited ship's powder at the magazine should inform the Deputy Conservator of the date on which the vessels will pass the magazine outward-bound, and on receipt of this information orders will be forwarded to the keeper to place the powder in the boat, and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward-bound vessel. Before delivering the powder, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper must be given up.

14. Delivery of powder into boats at the magazine for conveyance to Calcutta will only be granted upon orders issued from the office of the Commissioners.

15. No boat containing powder shall be allowed to proceed above Neemuck Mehal Ghât. All powder shall be landed at Neemuck Mehal Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at any other ghât, except with the special permission of the Commissioners.

16. The two foregoing rules shall not apply to Government powder-boats, which will be allowed to enter the port and discharge their powder under the rules laid down by the Inspector-General of Ordnance.

17. No smoking, and no fire or light of any description, shall be permitted on board of any boat having gunpowder, combustible ammunition, or inflammable oil on board.

18. No powder shall be landed within the Port at any time when artificial light is required to be used.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

It is ordered that the Money Rules now in force, and the Rules of the 22nd of December 1847, and rules 58 and 59 of the rules of the 7th of February 1866, be, and the same are, hereby repealed. And it is ordered that the following rules be read and passed as the rules and orders of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to take effect from the 1st day of December 1875.

MONEY RULES.

[ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE.]

1. All sums of money and securities for money now in deposit in the Bank of Bengal in account with the Accountant-General of the Court, as also in account with the Registrar of the Court in its Original Jurisdiction, [not being deposits on account of sales by that Officer] shall be transferred to the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India, and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal, with the privilege of the Accountant-General of the Court, to the credit of the several causes or matters to the credit of which they respectively now stand.

2. Except as provided in Rules 21 and 22, all sums of money, or securities for money, ordered to be paid or delivered into Court on account of any cause or matter, shall be paid, or endorsed and delivered, to the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India (a) and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal (b) [or such officer or officers as shall for the time being have the custody of the funds of suitors, hereinafter mentioned as “such officer or officers as aforesaid”], and shall be the payment or delivery of money, or securities for money, out of Court, a copy thereof, countersigned by a Judge of the Court, shall be obtained from the Registrar's Office and carried to the Court by the person or persons to whom such payment or delivery is to be made. The Accountant-General, on such copy being produced to him, shall enter the same in his books, and mark "intratur" at the foot of such copy, and subscribe his name thereto, and shall, by a certificate or draft under his hand, specify the date of the decree or order, and the particulars of the money, or securities for money, to be paid or delivered out thereunder, and the name of the cause or matter in which the decree or order has been made, and enter such certificate or draft in his books. He shall then, having satisfied himself as to the identity of the person or persons to whom payment or delivery under the decree or order is to be made, and upon a proper receipt being given to him, deliver his certificate or draft, with the copy of the decree or order, to such person or persons, who shall take the same to the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid], and shall, upon receiving the money or securities for money, specified in such certificate or draft, give a receipt for the same to the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid], which decree or order, certificate or draft and receipt, shall be a sufficient warrant and authority to the Bank of Bengal for paying or delivering the money, or securities for money, specified in such certificate or draft, as also for writing off the same from the account kept by him with the Accountant-General of the Court.

15. When periodical payments are directed to be made out of any fund in Court, the procedure prescribed by the last preceding rule shall be followed with respect to the first of such payments. Every payment after the first shall be made as follows:—Upon the application of the person or persons entitled to such payment, the Accountant-General of the Court shall issue a cheque or draft for the amount upon the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India, and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid] in favor of such person or persons; and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid] in every such case shall take and keep the cheque or draft, and pay the amount specified therein without requiring the production of any further copy of the decree or order under which such payment is to be made, or any other document.

payment by any previous decree or order directed to be made out of any fund in Court, shall be obtained from the Registrar's Office by the person or persons interested, and produced to the Accountant-General of the Court, and, after the same shall have been entered in his books, shall be taken and delivered to the Secretary and Treasurer of the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid].

Sums in cash retained for periodical payments when to be invested.

17. Every sum retained in cash to meet any periodical payments, unless claimed and taken out within six months of its being so retained, shall, when the same shall exceed Rs. 600, be invested under the provisions of the 9th of these rules.

18. For the purpose of carrying into effect any decree or order for the payment or delivery of money or Government securities out of Court, the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India, and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid], with the privity of the Accountant-General of the Court, shall be at liberty to sell and sub-divide the Government securities standing to the credit of such fund, or a sufficient portion thereof.

19. When money, or securities for money, shall be paid or delivered into Court under Rule 13, or when interest shall be received under Rule 11, the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India, and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid], shall debit the commission payable thereon to the Accountant-General of the Court in the account of such money, security for money, or interest, and shall credit the amount in the commission account of the Accountant-General of the Court.

20. The Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India, and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal [or such officer or officers as aforesaid], shall, at the commencement of every quarter, transfer to the Government account at the Bank of Bengal the amount placed to credit of the commission account of the Accountant-General of the Court during the previous quarter. On such transfer being made, the Accountant-General of the Court shall notify the same to the Accountant-General of Bengal.

21. When fines are imposed by the Court, the same shall be paid to the Accountant-General of the Court, and shall by him be paid into the Government account at the Bank of Bengal, less awards to prosecutors. The Accountant-General of the Court shall, at the commencement of every quarter, deliver to the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India, an account of the fines realized and compensation to prosecutors awarded out of them.

22. Save as provided in the last preceding rule, all sums of money, or securities for money, to be paid or delivered into Court on account of any matter in its Original Criminal Jurisdiction, shall be paid or delivered by the person or persons by whom such payment or delivery is to be made direct into the Bank of Bengal to the account of the Accountant-General of the Court by his description of office, in addition to his name, such securities for money being first endorsed by the person or persons aforesaid to the Accountant-General of the Court by his description of office, in addition to his name.

23. When an order is made for the payment out of any money deposited in Court under the last preceding rule, such payment shall be made by means of a cheque or draft in writing drawn by the Accountant-General of the Court in favor of the person or persons to whom such payment is to be made. Such certificate or draft shall be signed by the Accountant-General in his own name, coupled with his official description.

24. When an order is made for the delivery out of any securities for money deposited in Court under Rule 22, the Accountant-General of the Court shall, by means of a certificate, take out such securities from the Bank of Bengal, and shall endorse and deliver the same to the person or persons to whom such delivery is to be made.

25. The Accountant-General of the Court shall, at the commencement of every quarter, deliver to the Chief Justice an account of all deposits made in the Court's Original Criminal Jurisdiction, and the Chief Justice shall make such order as to the investment of the uninvested deposits or otherwise, as to him shall seem fit.

26. When payment or delivery of any money, or securities for money, is directed to be made out of Court to persons as partners, or suing or sued as such, the Accountant-General's certificate, or cheque, or draft for the same, may be issued to any such partners.

27. When payment or delivery of any money, or securities for money, is directed to be made out of Court to the legal personal representatives of any person, the Accountant-General's certificate, or cheque, or draft for the same, or any portion thereof for the time being remaining unpaid or undelivered, may, upon proof to the Accountant-General of the death of any such legal personal representatives, whether before, on, or after the day of the date of the decree or order, be issued to the survivor or survivors of them.

28. When payment or delivery of any money, or securities for money, is directed to be made out of Court to any person named in the decree or order, or his legal personal representatives, the same, or any portion thereof for the time being remaining unpaid or undelivered, may, upon proof to the Accountant-General of the death of such person, whether before, on, or after the day of the date of the decree or order, be issued to such legal representatives or the survivors or survivor of them.

29. Unless otherwise ordered, payment or delivery of money, or securities for money, under either of the two last preceding rules, shall not be made to a personal representative constituted under a foreign grant of probate or letters of administration, or to an Administrator ad-litem.

30. When any person to whom payment or delivery of any money, or securities for money, is directed to be made out of Court, by a power-of-attorney, authorizes such payment or delivery to be made to some other person or persons, and such power is produced to the Accountant-General of the Court, that officer shall satisfy himself as to the sufficiency of the power, and as to whether it has been duly stamped and executed. If satisfied that it is in all respects proper to be acted upon, he shall cause an entry thereof to be made in his books, and mark "entered" at the foot or on the back thereof, and authenticate the same with his initials. He shall then deliver the same, together with his certificate, or draft, or cheque, to the person named therein, having first satisfied himself as to his identity.

31. No money, or securities for money, in deposit in the Bank of Bengal to the credit of the Official Assignee of the Insolvent Court, shall be paid or delivered out, except the cheque or order for such payment or delivery be countersigned by the Accountant-General of the Court, describing himself as such.

32. Any person having an interest may, as of course, upon payment of the established fees, obtain from the Accountant-General of the Court a certificate of the state of any account in his books, or of the non-compliance with any decree or order directing the payment or delivery into Court of money, or securities for money, or a copy of any account in the books of the office relating to the funds in any cause or matter.

33. All the books of the Accountant-General of the Court, as well those in which orders or certificates are entered, as those in which the accounts are kept, shall, at all times during office hours, be open to the inspection of suitors or their attorneys, upon payment of the established fees.

34. Every officer of the High Court, or Insolvent Court, required to give security for the due performance of his duties, or for any money, or securities for money, in any way in his official possession, shall, at the commencement of every quarter, report to the Chief Justice whether his sureties are living, and, if living, where they are, and whether to his belief they are solvent.

35. When any surety or sureties for any such officer, as aforesaid, shall die, or become insolvent, the officer for whom he or they was or is or were or are surety or sureties, shall immediately notify the same in writing to the Chief Justice, who shall thereupon make such order for the substitution of a new surety, or new sureties, as to him shall seem fit.

[REGISTRAR'S OFFICE.]

36. When, upon a sale by or with the approval of the Registrar, a deposit is required to be made by the purchaser, the same shall be made with the Registrar.

37. If the amount to be deposited shall consist partly or wholly of Government securities, such securities shall be endorsed by the person making the deposit to the Registrar by his description of office, in addition to his name, in the cause or matter in which the sale shall have been made.

38. The Registrar shall, as soon as possible after the receipt by him of any money, or securities for money, under the last preceding rule, deposit the same in the Bank of Bengal, in an account to be opened by him in his name and description of office, and entitled in the cause or matter in which such money, or securities for money, shall be received by him as aforesaid.

39. When any other deposit is required to be made with the Registrar, on account of any cause or matter, the money, or securities for money so to be deposited, shall be paid or delivered by the person or persons making the deposit direct into the Bank of Bengal, to the account of the Registrar of the High Court, Original Jurisdiction, by his description of office, in addition to his name; such securities for money being first endorsed by the person or persons aforesaid to the Registrar by his description of office, in addition to his name.

40. When an order is made for the payment out of money deposited with the Registrar as aforesaid, such payment shall be made by means of a cheque in writing drawn by the Registrar in favor of the person or persons to whom such payment is to be made. Such cheque shall be signed by the Registrar in his own name, coupled with his official description.

41. When an order is made for the delivery out of any securities for money deposited with the Registrar as aforesaid, that officer shall, by means of a certificate, take out such securities from the Bank of Bengal, and shall endorse and deliver the same to the person or persons to whom such delivery is to be made.

Only deposits on sale, and as security for costs, to be made with the Registrar.

43. When a purchaser at a sale by the Registrar shall obtain an order for the payment into Court of the balance of his purchase-money, the order shall be drawn up with a direction for the transfer by the Registrar of the amount deposited with him on account of the purchase-money, less his commission [unless the same shall have been already paid by means of High Court stamps], to the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal with the privity of the Accountant-General of this Court, to the credit of the cause or matter to the credit of which the balance of the purchase-money is to be paid.

Registrar's commission on sale to be retained.

44. The Registrar's commission, when retained as aforesaid, shall be transferred by him into the Government account at the Bank of Bengal, and such transfer shall be notified by him to the Accountant-General of the Government of Bengal.

45. The Registrar shall, at the commencement of every quarter, deliver to the Chief Justice an account of every deposit made with him as aforesaid, and the Chief Justice shall make such order as to the investment of uninvested deposits, or otherwise as to him shall seem fit.

42. Unless for special reasons otherwise ordered, no deposits shall be made with the Registrar other than deposits on account of any sale by that officer, or as security for costs.

at a sale by the Registrar shall obtain an order for the payment into Court of the balance of his purchase-money, the order shall be drawn up with a direction for the transfer by the Registrar of the amount deposited with him on account of the purchase-money, less his commission [unless the same shall have been already paid by means of High Court stamps], to the Comptroller-General of Accounts for the time being of the Government of India and the Secretary and Treasurer for the time being of the Bank of Bengal with the privity of the Accountant-General of this Court, to the credit of the cause or matter to the credit of which the balance of the purchase-money is to be paid.

him into the Government account at the Bank of Bengal, and such transfer shall be notified by him to the Accountant-General of the Government of Bengal.

at the commencement of every quarter, deliver to the Chief Justice an account of every deposit made with him as aforesaid, and the Chief Justice shall make such order as to the investment of uninvested deposits, or otherwise as to him shall seem fit.

* * The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

Notification.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 1707 A. of 1875, dated the 21st August 1875.

THE following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December 1875, at noon:—

Hawalbagh.—Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate, and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price, Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to 1, 2 3—markets at the (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi foot of the hills (via Naini Tal) and (3) Ramnagar (via Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly railway station, 60 miles, over a pukka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad railway station, 48 miles, on partly pukka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, via Kashipur, of which 25 miles, more or less, are a kutcha fair-weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga, north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles, and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

Ayar Toli.—In Kattyur, consisting of about 2,546 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and nearly 1,500 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be uncultivable. A portion of the estate named Binculi, 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath temple, at an annual rent of Rs. 24. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,400 feet. Upset price, Rs. 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 21 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately, at the upset prices named, and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876, when possession will be given: failing payment in full, the deposit will be forfeited, and the estate resold.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces.

A. COLVIN, Offg. Secretary to Government, North Western Provinces.

Notice of Sale of Tents, &c.

NOTICE is hereby given that about 50 Tents and Pals, the property of Government, will be sold by auction at the Darbhanga Railway Station on Monday, September 27th. Sale to commence at 8 A.M.

E. S. MOSELEY, Offg. Collector.
DARBHANGA COLLECTORATE, the 4th September 1875.

PART VI.

Bill of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

[First Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 2nd September 1875, and was referred to a Select Committee with instructions to make their report thereon in three months.

No. 9 of 1875.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Opium.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the law relating to opium; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

Short title.

Local extent.

Commencement.

1. This Act may be called "The Indian Opium Act, 1875."

It extends to the whole of British India;

And it shall come into force as follows:—

(a) In the Provinces respectively subject to the Governors in Council of Fort Saint George and Bombay, at once:

(b) In each of the other Provinces of British India, on such day as the Governor-General in Council, by notification in the Gazette of India, directs in that behalf.

2. Sections eight to sixteen (both inclusive) of Bombay Regulation XXI of 1827 are hereby repealed.

Repeal of Bombay Regulation XXI of 1827, sections 8 to 16.

3. Unless in accordance with rules framed under this Act, or with any enactment for the time being in force, no one shall—

Prohibition of poppy cultivation and possession, &c., of opium.

(a) cultivate the poppy or manufacture opium;

(b) possess any quantity of opium exceeding five tolahs in weight;

(c) transport opium from one place to another; or

(d) sell opium or preparations or admixtures of opium.

4. The Local Government may make rules to regulate, within the whole or any part of the territories subject to such Government, all or any of the following matters:—

(a) the cultivation of the poppy;

(b) the possession of any quantity of opium exceeding five tolahs in weight;

(c) the transport of opium; and

(d) the sale of opium and of preparations and admixtures of opium.

The Local Government may from time to time alter and add to such rules.

Such rules, alterations, and additions shall be submitted for the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, and on receiving such sanction, shall be published in the local official Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

5. Whoever cultivates the poppy in contravention of rules made and published under section four, or before such rules are made and published as aforesaid, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and, in default of payment of such fine, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months; and the poppy so cultivated, and the opium (if any) produced therefrom, may be confiscated by the convicting Magistrate.

6. Whoever, not being authorized in this behalf under rules made and published under this Act, or before such rules are so made and published, has in his possession a greater quantity of opium than five tolahs weight, and whoever transports opium in contravention of rules so made and published, or before such rules are so made and published, shall for every such offence be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and, in default of payment of such fine, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months:

Provided that if the opium in respect of which such offence is committed exceeds the weight of twenty seers, the fine may be increased at a rate not exceeding fifty rupees the seer for all the opium so found in excess.

On any conviction under this section, the opium, together with the vessels, packages, and coverings in which it is found, and the animals and conveyances used in carrying it, may be confiscated by the convicting Magistrate.

7. Whoever sells opium in contravention of rules so made and published, or before such rules are so made and published, shall for every such offence be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and, in default of payment of such fine, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The poppy is grown extensively in Lower Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, and Central India, and to some slight extent in the Panjab, the Central Provinces, Berar, and Mysore, and in part of Bombay. Little or no opium is produced in Madras, British Burmah, or Assam.

The attention of Local Governments and of the Government of India has of late been frequently drawn to the insufficiency of the existing law on the subject.

In the Bengal Presidency, including the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, and the Panjab, the law is clear and satisfactory.

But in some of the more recently formed Administrations, such as the Central Provinces, Assam, and British Burmah, the applicability of the Bengal law is doubtful, and in Bombay and Madras the law on the subject is altogether defective.

In the Bombay Presidency, the same control is in point of fact exercised as in Bengal for checking the growth of the poppy and the manufacture of opium; but the legal authority for this action is insufficient.

In Madras no check, either legislative or administrative, exists at present on the growth of the poppy or the transport, possession, or storage of opium, and practices have resulted injurious alike to the public revenue and to public morality and health.

The Governments of Madras and Bombay have both contemplated supplying these defects by local legislation. But it is considered expedient by one simple and comprehensive imperial law to ensure that the imperial revenue derived from opium is nowhere left without adequate protection.

The Bill, as now introduced, will not alter the state of things prevailing in the Bengal Presidency, nor will it involve any alteration of practice inconsistent with the system of export duty in force in Western India. The control exercised by the State in Bengal and Northern India is equally necessary, whichever system prevails. The power which Government by law possesses in the Bengal Presidency will now be extended to all parts of India,—doubts, where they exist, will be removed—and the needed legislation will be provided for Madras and Bombay.

ESTABLISHMENT OF AUTHORIZED LODGING-HOUSES FOR STUDENTS AT GOVERNMENT COLLEGES AND HIGHER ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 30th August 1875.

THERE is a matter subsidiary to higher education in regard to which the Government may possibly be able to render help to the students and their parents, and that is the establishing of "hostels," or lodging-houses, where the young men, while at the colleges, the high schools, and the zillah schools, may live under a certain degree of supervision.

2. I have frequently heard from the civil authorities, from the educational officers, and from native gentlemen, that parents find it difficult to place their sons, while at school or college, under proper care and tutelage. If the parents live at the place where the school or college is established, or if they can find relatives or friends on the spot to act as guardians, then they experience no difficulty. But it very often happens that the students have their parental homes at a distance, or have no friends or relatives on the spot; nevertheless they must attend school or college, and while there must live as they best can. Thus circumstanced they sometimes lodge miserably: as they live according to their own pleasure, they are exposed to temptation; and if they fall into habits alike injurious to their morals and their studies, there is hardly any room for surprise. These considerations do, as I understand, justly and naturally cause anxiety to many parents and guardians. The difficulty is, in many cases, inevitable, and is to some extent inherent in the nature of the case. If not combated it must in some degree be detrimental to the character of our higher education, and to the disposition of the rising generation. My object is to consider whether Government cannot assist the parents in combating it.

3. Further, I imagine that if this difficulty could be satisfactorily overcome, the attendance at the higher schools and colleges would be increased; for it may well be that at present many parents or guardians are deterred from sending their sons or wards to schools or colleges at distant places.

4. The matter has, I understand, been long under consideration in Bengal. For this reason hostels, or lodging-houses, have been established near colleges at Calcutta, Dacca, and other places with partial or varying success, and at some of our normal schools with entire success. It seems to me reasonable that Government should encourage the formation of such institutions at all our principal schools and colleges, and should contribute something towards the cost of supervising such establishments, provided that all other charges were met by the parents and students.

5. There appears to be a consensus of opinion that lodging-houses might be advantageously established for such students. These institutions might be under the care of masters belonging to the Government colleges or schools, and selected on account of presumed fitness for such duty, and might be of two kinds, viz. (a) those in which the lodging-house master would be appointed by the boy's parent as guardian for the time; the master would then feed the boy and control him absolutely as if he were his own child: (b) those in which the lodging-house master would merely provide a lodging; this might be a house or a set of thatched huts, in which a limited number of boys might live together. They would arrange for their own food, and would be generally at liberty. The master would charge rent to each lodger, would exercise only a general supervision, but would expel any lodger who seriously misbehaved. The lodgers would live more cheaply and comfortably than in stray lodgings: they would work with less interruption; and though there would not be an absolute restraint on them, yet they would be free from immediate temptation to vice, and live on the whole more steadily than the stray lodgers.

6. The idea of the scheme is not, as a primary object, to introduce a more expensive or civilized way of living among the boys, nor to induce them to adopt a style beyond their ordinary means or usual prospects, but by Government aid to enable the authorized lodging-house masters to bring the boys and young men under control. Under this scheme, however, in large places like Dacca or Calcutta, enterprising college masters might be permitted to open a more expensive higher class house suitable for the sons of richer parents.

7. According to this principle, I would propose to authorize the heads of Government colleges, of high schools, and of zillah schools, to establish lodging-houses, and to appoint some of the native masters to supervise them. Each person so appointed might receive from Government (in addition to his pay) a certain rate per mensem for each student so living with him, of which a part would be for the master's trouble, and a part to help him in providing lodging, provided that no person should receive more than fifty rupees a month from Government on this account. It would be understood that more than one or several hostels, or lodging-houses, might be conveniently attached to each school or college. The masters wishing, with the sanction of their superiors, to establish such institutions, would submit their terms to the head of the school or college, which, if approved by him, would be notified to all concerned. The principals of the colleges, the head-masters of the schools, and the district committees, would be expected to exercise a general supervision, so as to make the hostels, or lodging-houses, as worthy as possible of the confidence of the students, and of their parents or guardians.

8. There remains the determination of the rate of head-money which Government might undertake to pay under the plan just described, which would of course mainly depend on financial considerations. The first point is the probable number of youths for whom head-money would have to be given. In 1874 the number of students at Government colleges and higher English schools stood thus:—

Government colleges	803
Ditto	higher English schools	10,776
Total				11,579

It is difficult to anticipate what portion of this number will elect to live at these lodging-houses; perhaps one-third, or 3,860, might so elect. If head-money at the rate of four annas per mensem were allowed on this number, the cost would be Rs. 965 per mensem, or Rs. 11,580 per annum; or, if at the rate of eight annas, then Rs. 1,930 per mensem, or Rs. 23,160 per annum.

9. It would be necessary to determine a total limit of cost. I would fix that at Rs. 15,000 in all for one year experimentally, and I would leave it to the Director of Public Instruction to consider and settle the details of the rates of head-money, provided that in no case should the rate be more than eight annas or less than four. The Director might see fit to graduate the rates according to the classes: a better rate might be allowed for the collegiate classes, and a lesser rate to the other classes. I would also leave it to the Director to settle the allotments to the several Government colleges and schools out of the aggregate allowance of Rs. 15,000.

10. I desire that a copy of this Minute be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for report after consulting his European and native officers and other native gentlemen, as he may deem desirable; and his report will be awaited by Government before any orders are issued on the subject.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

ADDITIONAL COLLEGES AND HIGH SCHOOLS.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 30th August 1875.

HAVING carefully considered the existing provision for the highest sort of education in the provinces under the Government of Bengal, with a view to ascertaining whether anything remains at present to be done in this direction, I desire to record the following observations and proposals.

2. It were perhaps superfluous to repeat what has been stated on previous occasions, to the effect that the great attention which is being paid to primary education is in no wise antagonistic to higher education. Much as the Government of Bengal may be convinced of the need of extending and elevating primary education, it is equally convinced of the need of extending and elevating high education also. Much as high education may have established itself in Bengal, it has not spread itself nearly enough. Superior as the "high" education may be to anything which existed in former times, it is yet far from being high enough, and ought, if possible, to be rendered higher still. The best informed Bengalees will probably admit that high education in Bengal, greatly as it may have advanced, needs much further progress both as regards quality and quantity.

3. While a share of the State resources available for educational purposes is allowed to primary education, it is well that a share should continue to be allowed to high education also, in order to set before the people an example of what may be attained in this most important respect.

4. At the present time collegiate establishments supply the means of attaining this higher education, and my object in this Minute is to consider the adequacy or otherwise of this provision in the several parts of the country.

5. It must be admitted that Central and Eastern Bengal, comprising the Presidency, the Burdwan, and the Dacca Divisions, are well supplied with colleges. The colleges at the Presidency, at Hooghly, and at Dacca, have a supervising and teaching staff quite strong enough for the numbers that attend the higher classes; the only desideratum being this, that much larger numbers should study for the First Arts examination and University degrees. The colleges at Kishnagurh and Berhampore were for divers reasons, among which was the paucity of higher students, reduced from the rank of full colleges to a rank corresponding to that of high schools: that is to say, the teaching for University degrees was discontinued, that for the First Arts examination only being maintained. Those interested in the Kishnagurh College asked for its restoration to its former status. It was suggested to them that there might be some hope of this if a certain sum of money were raised by private munificence: this has now been arranged, and I propose to take the restoration into consideration. Whether the friends of the Berhampore College, if they desire to see that institution restored to its former status, will make any similar effort remains to be seen. If they can do so with any chance of success, especially as regards producing a sufficient number of students, the same measure will be meted out to them as to the Kishnagurh community. The Midnapore High School has made a fair beginning, but I hope that it will be regarded only as a preparatory institution for the colleges, as the First Arts standard, up to which it teaches, does not constitute a University degree, but is only a step towards such degree.

6. For the province of Behar, including the Patna and the Bhagulpore Divisions, there is the Patna College, well established with an efficient staff. The numbers in its higher classes are small, as compared with the wealth and population of the province. According to the ratio existing in Central and Eastern Bengal, we might expect to see more than one college in Behar, at some such place as Bhagulpore. But at present there does not appear to be any demand for such additional college; and the facilities for communication by railway between the districts round Bhagulpore and the districts round Patna are very great.

7. Hitherto there has been no college established in Orissa, and during my visit to that province complaints were made that if Orya young men passed the First Arts examination of the University, they could not prosecute their studies for a degree without proceeding to Bengal. Having signified my willingness to propose the conversion of the Cuttack High School into a college, provided that a certain sum could be raised by private subscription, I have been glad to learn that the amount required is likely to be raised.

8. There remain the large tracts of Northern Bengal, of Chutia Nagpore, and of Chittagong, for which no sort of collegiate provision exists at present.

9. Northern Bengal comprises the new division of Rajshahye-cum-Cooch Behar, and the districts of Rungpore, Dinagepore, Bogra, Pubna, Rajshahye, Maldah, Julpigoree, Darjeeling, and the State of Cooch Behar—an area of 20,671 square miles, and a population of 8,585,054 souls. Rungpore is one of the most rapidly advancing districts in Bengal. Dinagepore is also a very fine district, with a large and rapidly developing trade. A railway is being constructed from one end to the other of this territory, and will promote the civilization of the country in numberless ways. We ought, therefore, by high education, to prepare the people to make due use of these advantages. The number of scholars at its schools may be thus stated for 1873-74:—

Middle	12,316
Primary	45,724
Total					60,724

In respect to high education, this tract is considerably behind Central and Eastern Bengal. It is often difficult to find natives of this region sufficiently educated for the higher posts for which they would otherwise be eligible. Through the munificence of a native gentleman (Baboo Hara Nath Roy), who gave a sum, as an endowment, sufficient to produce Rs. 5,000 per annum, there is now a high school at Rajshahye teaching up to the First Arts standard, which is accommodated in a good structure. Established a year and a half ago, it has not succeeded in passing students through the First Arts examination, but it has already attracted a goodly number of students, there being some twenty in the first and second-year classes. It might be encouraged to attempt a further advance, and to produce students for the University degrees. In other words, whereas it now has classes for the first and second years of the University course, it might have classes for the third and fourth years. For making a trial in this direction, an expenditure of Rs. 4,000 would be required for one year, and Rs. 9,000 for the following year—in all Rs. 13,000 in the two years. After that, the expenditure would be Rs. 9,000 per annum; but the continuance of the experiment would doubtless depend on the success attained in the two first years as above described. The cost is put down at the lowest amount, and allows only for native professors being appointed. I would propose to offer to the people at Rajshahye to carry out the experiment, provided that at least eight students were produced for the third-year class, and that one-third of the above cost, say Rs. 4,500, were provided by fees and private subscription, leaving Rs. 8,500 to be defrayed by Government. If the people of Rajshahye should wish to see a larger expenditure incurred,—for example, if they desired that European professors should be employed, it would be for them to consider the raising of the additional funds that would be necessary, the State outlay being limited to the Rs. 8,500 above set down.

10. Similarly, I would propose to the people of Rungpore to convert the zillah school there into a high school, provided that at least six students were produced for the first-year class, and that one-third of the cost were provided by fees and private subscription. The lowest charge for salaries of teachers for the First Arts examination for two years would amount to Rs. 7,500 in all; the one-third to be defrayed by private resources would be Rs. 2,500, leaving Rs. 5,000 to be defrayed by the State. These two years, then, would be devoted to the first and second year's course necessary for the First Arts examination. If a fair number of students should pass that examination, there would be occasion for proposing the establishment of third and fourth-year classes in order that students might prosecute their studies for University degrees. Requests have sometimes been made for establishing a college at Rungpore. I quite recognize the desirability of such an institution, and accordingly I propose to take the preliminary measure, namely the establishment of a high school. Upon the success of this measure the establishing of a college in future will depend.

11. The Chutia Nagpore province has an area of 43,712 square miles, and a population of 3,825,571 souls. The total number of scholars at the schools may be thus stated (1873-74):—

Higher	697
Middle	2,698
Primary	14,670
Total ...				18,065

From this, however, there should be excluded the Manbhoom district, which is mainly Bengalee-speaking, and for educational purposes may be regarded as Bengalee. After this deduction, the area of the province is 38,791 square miles, and the population 2,830,001 souls, and the number of scholars at its schools may be thus stated:—

Higher	492
Middle	1,962
Primary	10,161
Total ...				12,615

In all these schools Hindi is the vernacular taught.

12. High education is very backward in the Chutia Nagpore Province Proper. Hardly ever has any native of that province passed the First Arts examination or taken a University degree, and it is notoriously difficult to find natives of that province sufficiently educated for the higher posts for which they might otherwise be eligible. The several missions, which largely undertake the work of educating the various tribes included under the common designation of Kol, carry some selected boys to the standard of higher education, and these only for missionary purposes—at least such I understand to be the case. I do not gather from the educational report that they avail themselves of the Government open scholarships or of the University examinations. It is specially important that the more intelligent boys of the Kol tribe should be encouraged to undertake a higher range of studies than at present. I would propose to raise the zillah school at Ranchoe to the status of a high school, at the cost of Rs. 7,500 for the two years, provided that at least six students were forthcoming for the first-year class, of whom four at least must be natives of the Chutia Nagpore Province, and that one-third of the expense, that is Rs. 2,500, were contributed by fees and private subscription. I would invite the attention of the several missions to this offer. I am far from sure that the state of education in the province will enable the local authorities to accept it.

13. The district of Chittagong is honourably distinguished by the very large attendance at its primary and vernacular schools. The area and population of the newly revised division of Chittagong, with Noakholly and the Hill States, may be thus stated :—

	Square miles.	South.
	11,156	1,910,943
The scholars at the schools may be thus stated (1873-74) :—
Higher	...	530
Middle	...	2,828
Primary	...	10,258
Total	...	13,616

But the progress in the higher education is deficient. Some time ago an attempt was made to raise the zillah school at Chittagong into a high school, but it afterwards failed. The experiment, however, was undertaken at a lesser cost than is usual in such cases. During my visit there some complaint was made that if a Chittagong youth desires to study for a University degree, he must either cross the sea to Calcutta, or travel up river to Dacca. I would now propose to the people of Chittagong that another trial be made to raise the zillah school to a high school, at a cost of Rs. 7,500 for the two years, provided that six students were forthcoming for the first-year class, and that one-third of the cost, that is Rs. 2,500, were contributed by fees and private subscription. The friends and supporters of the school would have to be consulted as to the teachers to be appointed to the first and second-year classes.

14. The financial effect of the new proposals, if these were to be accepted and sanctioned, may be stated thus :—

Expenditure during two years to be incurred at—

Place.			By Government.	From private resources.	Total.
			Ra.	Ra.	Ra.
Rajshahye	8,500	4,500	13,000
Rungpore	5,000	2,500	7,500
Ranchoe	5,000	2,500	7,500
Chittagong	5,000	2,500	7,500
			23,500	12,000	35,500

It will be understood that if any extra accommodation of a temporary character were needed (and it would be but slight), it must be provided by private resources.

15. If these several things were undertaken, we should have attempted all that can at present be suggested for providing additional institutions for high education. In making these suggestions, I am actuated by the consideration that although the system of scholarships does enable students to resort to distant colleges for prosecuting their studies, yet there are very many students who do not obtain scholarships, and cannot manage to proceed long distances for the sake of collegiate education. For this comparatively numerous class of students it is important to have colleges or high schools within easier reach of their homes. They cannot, or will not, prosecute their University studies far away from their native districts, and there is fear that if they cannot find colleges near at hand, they will not study at all. If it be (as I conceive it is) very desirable to diffuse high education more than it is now diffused, then the founding and maintaining of college classes in the interior of the country is essential.

16. It is well that in all proposals for founding additional colleges and high schools appeals should be made to the munificence of the native gentry, who themselves possess high education worthy of their station, and who may be expected to aid in the extension elsewhere of those advantages which they themselves are so fortunate as to enjoy. I am sanguine that such appeals will seldom be made in vain.

17. I request that the Director of Public Instruction will arrange with the several Divisional Commissioners for communicating the substance of this Minute to those concerned, and will obtain reports of the result, and submit them, with his own observations, to Government.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

COMMUNICATIONS WITH DOOBREE, ON THE BRAHMAPOOTRA, THE POINT OF EMBARKATION FOR EMIGRANTS FROM BENGAL TO ASSAM.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 24th August 1875.

MUCH correspondence and some discussion having within the last year or so arisen in regard to Doobree, on the Brahmapootra, I took occasion during my recent tour in Eastern Bengal to visit the place, and to examine all collateral questions relating to it. I now desire to record the result of those observations.

2. Doobree is situated on the right bank of the Brahmapootra, near the meeting of the boundaries of the Rungpore district of Bengal and the Goalpara district of Assam. It is in the Goalpara jurisdiction. The cropping out of some rocks at this point renders the place one of the few permanent positions on the bank of the river in this part of its course. Here converge the two main lines of emigration from Bengal towards Assam; one the Northern Bengal line, the other the North-Eastern Bengal line.

3. Some of the Calcutta firms (European) interested in emigration to Assam, and some of the tea-planters of Assam, have desired that their emigrants should be embarked on board the river-steamers from Doobree, instead of from Goalundo, as heretofore; the object partly being to save the river voyage in the lower Brahmapootra and the journey through Lower Bengal, which have often proved detrimental to the health of the emigrants. The requisite arrangements with this view have been completed by the Government of Bengal in the Emigration Department. A depôt has been established. And already during the last open season (1875) between 2,000 and 3,000 emigrants have been embarked from Doobree, apparently to the satisfaction of all the parties concerned. It is understood that probably a larger number will be embarked as soon as the season shall open again, that is, in the ensuing winter and spring.

4. The civil officer on the spot, and the Assam officers generally, seemed to be quite satisfied with the arrangements which have been made, and which will, I believe, work advantageously to the true interests of emigration. The civil officer has been vested with the requisite powers as a Superintendent of Emigration, for which duty he is quite competent. The medical inspection is at present done by the Civil Surgeon of Goalpara. But as his station, Goalpara, is some way off, it is probable that if embarkation at this point shall increase, a special and separate medical officer will have to be appointed, at least during the busy season.

5. This plan, however, renders necessary a considerable change respecting the route to be taken by the emigrants on leaving their homes. At the present time these emigrants come from the Chota Nagpore province on the western frontier of Bengal, or from the valley of the Ganges between Rajmehal and Buxar. Heretofore they have been chiefly (though not entirely) engaged as emigrants by agency firms (European) in Calcutta, acting on behalf of the tea-planters in Assam, conveyed by rail to Calcutta, thence to Goalundo, where they embarked on steamers for Assam. By these means a long land journey on foot was saved to them. On the other hand, their health often suffered from the climate in Lower Bengal and from the river voyage. Now, however, a portion of the emigrants are marched from their homes in the west across the hills to Rajmehal on the Ganges; then crossing that river, they pass through Maldah, Dinagepore, Rungpore, and so to Doobree, where they embark as already explained. It is believed that they thus pass through a line of country more suitable to their health, and that the march is congenial to their habits. Further, as they do not pass through Calcutta, the agency of Calcutta firms does not seem to be employed. They are engaged at their homes by native agents (called "Sirdars"), who come direct from the tea-planters in Assam. It is probable that this "Sirdaree" arrangement will prove more advantageous to the importers of labour into Assam than the Calcutta Agency system.

6. It is this line from Rajmehal through Maldah, Dinagepore, and Rungpore to Doobree, which constitutes the North-Eastern Bengal line, already mentioned in this Minute as one of the two lines which converge upon Doobree.

The length, Rajmehal to Doobree, is represented by 170 miles. It fortunately is a well established line for nearly (though not quite) all the way, and is indeed well known as the main land route for the transport of the Government grain to Northern Bengal during the late famine. As an unmetalled road, it is fairly well made all the way to Rungpore. Some of the smaller bridges are built; but not the larger bridges over the rivers. On these rivers, however, there are good ferries. The line is protected by police posts, which is a matter of some consequence if in future seasons this line is to be thronged by parties of emigrants. So far it is a good fair-weather marching road, which is perhaps all that is really required for this purpose. From Rungpore the road will be immediately made as far as the new sub-division of Kurigaon, a distance of 30 miles. There will then remain only 22 miles on to Doobree, of which 12 miles are in the Rungpore district (Bengal Government) and 10 miles in the Goalpara district (Assam Administration). The Bengal Government will of course make the piece of 12 miles to its own frontier, and the Chief Commissioner of Assam has asked me to make the remainder, 10 miles, which I have consented to do.

It may be said on the whole, then, that this line is in a forward and promising state.

7. Next, there is the other of the two converging lines already mentioned, called the Northern Bengal line. This may be said to start from Mudhoobunnee in North East Tirhoot; then it passes through the Soopool tract (North Bhagulpore), and crosses the river Koosce at Nathpore; then it skirts the northern part of the Purnea district just south of the Nepal frontier, crosses the Darjeeling Trunk Road near Titalya, and passes on to Cooch Behar, and so to Doobree. From Mudhoobunnee to Titalya the earth-work of this line was very well made as a relief work during the late famine. Some lesser bridges and masonry works have yet to be done; they will be undertaken. From a point near Titalya the section to Cooch Behar will be immediately undertaken by the Cooch Behar State. The remaining section from Cooch Behar to Doobree is already made, save at the larger streams, where ferries are efficiently maintained.

8. When this line was first projected, it was hoped that emigrants would be passing by this route from North Behar to Assam. This hope has not yet been realized, and there is no immediate prospect of a tide of emigration setting this way. The importance, however, of inducing surplus population in North Behar to resort to Assam is great, and the subject will not be lost sight of. On the other hand, there is very much migration of a temporary character from Behar to North Bengal (people coming for the working season and then going back), and also some permanent emigration to the northern frontier of Bengal; and for all these purposes the line will be very useful. Although not useful at present for emigration to Assam, this road will be very beneficial to Northern Bengal.

9. The attention of the Commissioners of the Patna, the Bhagulpore, and the Rajshahye—Cooch Behar divisions will be immediately drawn to the considerations advanced in this Minute, and they will be requested to do all in their power for completing the communications leading to Doobree, and for promoting the cause of emigration towards Assam.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

No. 491.

The 14th September 1875.

Notification.—The following Extract from the Proceedings of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, relative to the accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the District Road Fund for the second quarter of the cess year 1874-75, is published for general information :—

No. 4413.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in the Public Works Department (Local—Accounts), under date the 8th September 1875.

Read memorandum from the Controller of Public Works Accounts in Bengal, No. 11673 of 27th ultimo, submitting an abstract of the receipts and expenditure of the several District Road Committees for the quarter ending 31st March 1875.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor directs that the accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the District Road Fund for the second quarter of the current cess year (1874-75), as submitted by the Controller of Public Works Accounts in Bengal, be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and circulated to the officers concerned.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution, together with a copy of the abstract of receipts and expenditure, be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also, that a copy of this Resolution, as well as of the abstract referred to, be forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Financial Department for information. Also, that copies of each be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions, to all Superintending Engineers of Circles in Bengal, to the Accountant-General of Bengal, and to the Controller of Public Works Accounts in Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

G. F. E. S. NEILL, Captain, M. S. C.,

Controller of Public Works Accounts, Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 11th September 1875.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1 Burdwan, Sept. 13,* '75	3.47	Rainfall at Culna 1.39, Cutwa 1.85, Raneegunge 3.62, Bood-bood 5.71, Jehanabad 4.60 inches. Prospects of crops are good. A full average crop of the amra , or early rice, reaped in Cutwa. Jute about to be cut; sugarcane doing well. Fever slightly increased.
	2 Bankoora, " 11, "	2.89	Showery weather throughout the week. Up to date the prospects of the crops continue most favourable. The early rice crop is being reaped.
	3 Beerbhoom, " 11, "	1.75	Showery weather. State and prospects of the crops continue good.
	4 Midnapore, " 11, "	1.55	Rain has fallen at the Sudder Station on six days out of the seven, though not in very heavy showers. At Garbetta the fall has been 5.14, at Contai 6.78, and at Tumlook 4.40 inches. The late rice crop continues to promise very well, and no complaints are heard regarding any of the crops now on the ground.
	5 Hooghly, " 11, "	1.45	Rainfall at Mohanud 1.46, Chinsurah 1.32, Bansheriah 2.33, Dhoneakhally 2.33, Bullagore 1.58, Serampore 1.64, Chunditola 1.98, Haripal 2.08, Pandooah 1.14, and Krishnaghur 3 inches. Weather cooler during the greater part of the week, with more rain. State and prospects of the crops are very good and favourable. Fever more prevalent.
	Howrah, " 11, "	3.67	Heavy rain at the beginning of the week. Atmosphere is very full of moisture. State and prospects of the crops are unusually good. A fortnight more of favourable weather will secure an almost unprecedentedly good crop.
Central Districts.
PRESIDENT DIVN.	6 24-Pergha, Sept. 13,† '75	1.09	Seasonable weather. Harvest of early rice well advanced. The crops along the line of the South-Eastern State Railway are particularly fine, and the prospects of the late rice continue favorable throughout the district. In Diamond Harbour sub-division however some injury has been done to the late rice on the very low lands by excessive rain. Fever increasing at Barripore.
	7 Nuddea, " 11, "	2.30	Rain nearly every day. Early rice harvest is nearly over. The outturn is very good. The prospects of the late rice are also excellent. Sugarcane and the young teel (oilseed) are doing well. Indigo manufacture is at an end. The outturn has varied from bad to moderate. The rivers are falling. Damage from floods has been almost confined to the Kalantar, and a small area in the Choondangah sub-division.
	8 Jossore, " 11, "	2.38	Weather cool, wind easterly; rain has fallen. No change in the prospects of the crops, which are good throughout the district.
	9 Moorsshedabad, " 11, "	2.37	Weather more rainy than is usual at this time of the year. Strong gale at Jungypore on the 4th September. Slight shock of earthquake at Lalbaugh on the 5th instant. Prospects of the late rice crops continue to be very good. Most of the early rice is cut; average outturn. Sugarcane injured by incessant rain. Black kalai pulse is being sown as the river is falling. Prices gradually coming down. Cholera has appeared in thana Burwa , in the Sudder sub-division. Health otherwise good.
RAJSHAHY DIVN.	10 Diuagepore, " 10, "	1.86	Rainfall according to Magistrate's rain-gauge 1.78. Two or three days' intense heat till the earthquake on 3rd; since then frequent showers of rain. Bhadai being cut; 8, 10, or 12 annas crop. Jute being cut; 12 annas crop. Hemanto , or late rice, 14 annas transplanted, work still going on; only very high land is unplanted. Sugarcane good. General prospects good.
	11 Maldah, " 11, "	3.31	Weather cloudy, and rainy, with strong wind. Some further damage is reported to both the early and late autumn rice in the south of the district from flooding. In other respects the prospects of the crops remain as at last report; e.g. the late winter rice is being weeded and transplanted, and promise well. The early autumn rice is being reaped.
	12 Rajshahye, " 11, "	1.97	There has been plentiful rain throughout the district during the week. The harvesting of the early rice is still going on in some parts of the district. The prospects of the late rice crops are good throughout the district. One-third of the urhar pulse crop in the Aranee outpost jurisdiction has been injured by inundation. Rivers are falling rapidly.

* Telegram of the 13th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 13th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)
RAJSHAHY DIV.—(Contd.)	13 Rungpore, Sept. 10, '75	1.86	Moderate rain has fallen in several days. Shocks of earthquake on the 4th and 5th instant. Crops are progressing favorably. Jute is very fine. More rain is wanted.
	14 Bogra, " 11, "	1.73	Rain and hot weather alternately, and some storms. A slight shock of earthquake on Sunday, at 7 P.M. With regard to crops, everything is going on as well as possible.
	15 Pubna, " 11, "	2.97	Seasonable weather. Rainfall at Serajgunge 1.87; a slight shock of earthquake at 6.30 P.M. on the 5th instant. The river Issamutty is falling rapidly. State and prospects of crops are good.
COOCH BEHAR DIV.	16 Darjeeling, " 10, "	6.51	Fair weather, and little rain during the greater part of the week. Very high wind, and torrents of rain from the afternoon of the 9th instant, which lasted nearly all night. Rain not so heavy on the 10th, but the weather was bleak and very misty. All the crops are doing well.
	17 Julpigoree, " 11, "	0.93	The weather has been unseasonably dry this past week. No harm has been caused yet, but a continuance of similar drought will cause damage to the main rice crop of the year. Cholera seems to have ceased.
	Cooch Behar, " 9, "	.48	Weather fair and hot, with little rain. The prospects of the late rice crop now appear to be good.
Eastern Districts.
Dacca DIV.	18 Dacca, Sept. 13,* '75	3.31	Weather stormy; slight shock of earthquake on the evening of Sunday, the 12th instant. State of crops good.
	19 Fureedpore, " 11, "	4.61	Weather continues hot, with occasional rain, during the week. The inundation is decreasing. A slight loss of crop in some few places, but on the whole the state and prospects of the crops are satisfactory and good. The general health of the district is good.
	20 Backergunge, " 9, "	3.49	The crops are in a favorable condition. There is nothing serious to complain of.
	21 Mymensingh, " 10, "	3.83	Frequent showers and strong monsoon wind. The floods continue unusually high. Late rice promises very favourably. Severe earthquake at 9.30 A.M. of the 3rd instant, and a moderate shock at 6.30 P.M. of the 5th idem.
	22 Tipperah, " 10, "	3.19	Weather cloudy, and rainy. The prospects of crops generally in the district are good, except in the flooded tracts previously noticed, which still continue under water. The flood water has decreased in depth, but not sufficiently for any crop to be sown.
CHITTAGONG DIV.	23 Chittagong, " 9, "	1.63	Some days were very hot. Crops doing well. Weather very favourable.
	24 Noakhally, " 9, "	3.78	Weather cloudy and rainy, with strong gusts of southerly wind. The reaping of the early rice crops is not yet completed. Transplantation of the late rice continues. There was a strong earthquake, lasting about 1½ minutes, on the 3rd instant, just after 9 A.M. The water in the tanks rose, and was dashed out on the east banks. A slight shock was also felt on the 5th, at 7 P.M.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, " 7, "	3.2	Occasional showers of rain; excessively hot at noon during the latter part of the week. The Joom paddy crop is being reaped in some portions of the district. The cotton plants are doing well. The paddy sown by the plough cultivators is thriving, but a very poor outturn is anticipated.
	Hill Tipperah, " 9, "	1.24	Weather seasonable. A smart shock of earthquake, lasting for about a minute was felt between 9 and 10 A.M. on the 3rd instant. Undulatory movement north and east, causing considerable commotion in the river and tanks, but no damage. About 6 P.M., on the 5th, another slight shock was felt. The early rice crop is nearly all gathered in. Joom dhan is now being cut in the hills. Fever at Koilashur.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIV.	26 Patna, " 13,* "	1.14	Weather changeable; showers of rain and intense sunshine at intervals. Bhadoi crops being harvested with fair outturn, and prospects of rice crops are favorable. Health generally good.
	27 Gya, " 11, "	0.90	Partial rain all over the district. Weather cloudy and warm. Highest reading of thermometer 91.0. Outturn of bhadoi crops is good. Rice promising; sugarcane thriving.
	28 Shahabad, " 11, "	0.60	Weather cool and cloudy, with strong easterly wind and occasional showers. The bhadoi crops are being harvested with good outturn. Prospects of the rice crops are so far good. Rain is required for transplanting rice seedlings in late lands. Some fever and cholera still hanging about in one or two villages.

* Telegrams of the 13th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.)	29 Durbhunga, Sept. 11, '75	1.40	There was a heavy storm of wind and rain during Thursday night and Friday; the rest of the week has been fine. The earthquake of the 3rd instant was distinctly observed through oscillation of water in tanks, &c., though no motion of the earth was perceptible. Transplantation of rice is still going on. Prospects generally favourable.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 11, „	1.48	Weather hot. The late rain has done much good to the bhadoi and aghani crops. The bhadoi is now expected to be about 12 annas. In Seetamarhee sub-division the rice is nearly all transplanted; murwa and mutai millets are being cut, and are good crops. In Seetamarhee and Shewhur jurisdictions there is a considerable quantity of rice land not transplanted. Rainfall nil. In Hajepore sub-division the weather is satisfactory, and the rainfall during the week is 1.22 inches. Cholera reported to have broken out again in Belsundh thana.
	31 Sarun, „ 11, „	1.92	Weather unsettled, with occasional and partial rain; both east and west wind. Rainfall at Sewan 1.10. There has been more or less rain throughout the district. Bhadoi , or early crops, are being reaped; outturn favorable. Transplanting of rice going on. In low lands the crop is doing well; in high lands more rain is still wanted. General health good.
	32 Chumparun, „ 10, „	2.18	There has been a good fall of rain throughout the district during the week. The prospects of the crops are excellent. The high wind which was blowing at the time of report might have done some slight harm to the makai crops.
BAGELPORE DIVN.	33 Monghyr, „ 11, „	3.04	Seasonable weather. The late heavy rain is good for the rice crop. Prospects are generally good. Much sickness in the town.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 13,* „	1.42	Complaints are still received of want of rain in the north-east corner. Elsewhere throughout the district prospects are exceedingly good, and bright weather for a week will do no harm. Outturn of bhadoi is so far very good. General health very good; cholera decreasing, but still prevails in the town and a few villages in Banka sub-division.
	35 Purneah, „ 11, „	1.99	More rain required. The late rice, which has been transplanted, promises well, but the full area has not, owing to want of rain, been brought under cultivation. Heavy rain fell on the 10th, which did good. The reports received from sub-divisions before this were not favorable.
	36 Sonthal Pergas, „ 11, „	3.14	On Friday there was a complete change in the weather. The clouds cleared away; the mornings grew cold till about 7 A.M., when the sun became very hot. The horizon is hazy, as in the cold weather; the change is too early to be dangerous; a week later it would look like the ending of the rains. The sub-divisions have not noted the changes yet. Rice is reported to be going on very well everywhere. Janera millet is nowhere so good as last year. Earthquake at Rajmehal on the 3rd instant; it was hardly perceptible at Dumka. Cholera still continues to break out in new places, not very extensively.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, „ 4, „	1.30	Only a few showers now and then. Crops doing well; early rice crop has begun to be reaped in some places. Public health good.
	38 Pooree „ „ „	Return not received.
	39 Balasore, „ 10, „	4.88	Weather continues mild and showery. The early rice harvest continues. The late rice promises a first-rate crop should the October rains not fail.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Sept. 10, '75	1.34	Seasonable weather. No change to report. Cholera has nearly disappeared.
41	Lohardugga, „ 11, „	3.96	Wet weather; rain more or less every day. The bhadoi crops are still being harvested; the early rice crop will be a fair average one, and the late rice crop promises at present to be a full one. Cholera in Palamow decreasing.
42	Singbhoom, „ 10, „	4.18	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of crops are very favourable. Cholera in Bamunghatty is reported to have ceased.
43	Manbhoom, „ 11, „	3.66	Rather too much rain. The blight referred to in the last report, it is said, will injure the crop from 2 to 5 annas out of the 16 annas. It is, however, believed to be an over-statement. The Deputy Commissioner has heard from private sources that the blight has affected the crops on sandy soil only. The extent of cultivation throughout the district this year is more than in previous years.

* Telegram of the 13th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

CALCUTTA.
The 11th September 1875.

W. G. WILLSON,
Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTE ON THE RAINFALL IN AUGUST 1875.

THE torrential rains which set in over the greater part of Northern India about the 25th of July, continued with little intermission up to the 6th or the 7th of August. This was the wettest period of the monsoon, and in the Chittagong division the fall was unprecedentedly heavy. In ten consecutive days, from the 27th of July to the 5th of August, 41·38 inches of rain fell at Chittagong, being 40 per cent. of the average annual rainfall of that place. Of this amount 31·69 inches fell in five consecutive days from the 30th July to the 3rd of August. The total rainfall for the month of August was considerably above average, generally, throughout the eastern and central districts of Bengal, and also in Behar, where it was especially heavy in the Shahabad district. In the western districts of Bengal, in Orissa, and in Chota Nagpore, the rainfall was not so heavy, and it was even slightly below average in parts of Burdwan, Midnapore, Howrah, the 24-Pergunnahs, and in the south of Orissa. At Hazareebagh there was a considerable deficiency in the August rainfall, and such was also the case in the Dinagore district of Bengal, where the defect of the total rainfall for the year up to the 31st of August amounted to 36 per cent. of the averages of past years.

In the subjoined table the rainfall in August 1875, and the total rainfall of the year from the 1st of January to the 31st of August, are compared with the normal rainfall for the same periods. The mean of all returns received from each district is taken as the average rainfall of the district.

Comparison of the District Rainfall of 1875 with averages.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Dippe's tables, as given in Guyot's "Meteorological and Physical Tables." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahr. for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Serenity.—This column gives the average proportion of unclouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by 10, and one completely overcast by 0.

The above being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month, which shall show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

The 7th September 1875.—The following rules, framed by the Board of Revenue, L.P., under Section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act) of 1871, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information.

H. J. S. COTTON,
Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules framed by the Board of Revenue, L. P., with the consent of the Local Government, under Section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act), 1871.

PRELIMINARY.

THE rules governing service pensions, extraordinary pensions, and gratuities for service not entitling to pension, are contained in the Civil Pension Code published under the authority of the Government of India. The following instructions therefore apply to territorial and political pensions only, disbursed through the revenue authorities.

SECTION II.*

THE PLACE AND TIMES AT WHICH, AND THE PERSONS TO WHOM, PENSIONS ARE TO BE PAID.

1. As a general rule, pensions are payable at the district treasury upon which a permanent payable order has been issued by the Accountant-General.

2. But pensioners residing within any sub-division of a district, and not under Clause 8 of this Section, exempted from attendance in person, may, by presenting themselves monthly before the Sub-divisional Officer, obtain payment of their pensions by cheque upon the sub-divisional treasure chest, their attendance on each occasion at the district head-quarters being dispensed with. In these cases the responsibility of the District Officer will remain undisturbed, and payment will not be made till the Sub-divisional Officer, having forwarded the pensioner's receipt and his life certificate to the District Officer, obtains in return a cheque for the amount of pension due.

3. Moreover, once in every six months the permanent orders of every sub-division will be recalled to the head-quarters of the district, and pensioners will be required to present themselves for payment before the District Officer.

4. A Commissioner may, on application and on sufficient cause shown, permit transfer of payment from a treasury in his division to any other treasury in British India. This power does not extend to political pensions in cases where the pensioner resides, by order of Government, in a particular place.

5. Copy of the order directing the transfer should be forwarded by the Commissioner to the Accountant-General, Bengal, together with a brief narrative of the origin and particulars of the pension; and the District Officer of the district from which the payment is transferred, should be instructed to return his portion of the permanent payable order to the Accountant-General. The Accountant-General will then issue a fresh permanent payable order to the officer who will in future pay the pension, or, if that officer belongs to another province, will move the Accountant-General of such province to do so.

6. As a rule, pensions shall be paid monthly.

7. Should a pensioner neglect or omit to apply for payment for six months, the District Officer shall obtain the sanction of the Commissioner before paying the arrears or continuing the payment of the pension for the future. Should the neglect or omission to apply for payment extend to one year, the sanction of the Board of Revenue must be obtained. When an interval of two years has been allowed to elapse, the case must be laid before Government for orders.

8. Except in the cases specified below, pensioners must appear in person at the time of taking payment of their pensions:—

(a) Pensioners of rank, who may be exempted by order of Government from appearing personally before the District Officer;

(b) Female pensioners, who, according to custom, cannot with propriety appear in public; and

(c) Pensioners who are disabled from appearing by illness or bodily infirmity.

In cases (b) and (c) the Commissioners shall have power to grant exemption from personal attendance.

9. Pensions of pensioners of rank, specially exempted by Government, shall be paid to an agent holding a power-of-attorney, upon the production of the permanent order and of a separate receipt.

10. Pensions of pensioners exempted under heads (b) and (c) of Clause 8 of this Section may be paid to an agent on their behalf on production of a life certificate signed by an officer of Government, or by some other well-known and trustworthy person, of the permanent order, and of a separate receipt.

11. Commissioners may authorize the payment of arrears due to a deceased pensioner (after such investigations as shall satisfy them of the actual date of the pensioner's demise, and that the persons applying for the arrears due are his legal heirs) in cases in which the arrear is due for a period not exceeding one year. When the arrear is due for a period exceeding one year, reference shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

SECTION III.

ENQUIRIES INTO THE IDENTITY OF CLAIMANTS.

1. Pensioners who appear in person to receive payment must be identified by comparison with the particulars given in the portion of the permanent payable order kept by the disbursing officer, who should take every precaution against fraudulent personation. Females, or respectable male pensioners, who may reasonably object to appear at his public office, may be identified by him in private, or at his own house.

2. In the case of female pensioners not exempted from personal attendance under Clause 8 of Section II, a female may be employed to assist in the identification.

3. In the case of pensioners exempted from attendance under Clause 8 of Section 2, the disbursing officer must take all possible precautions to prevent imposition, and must, before the first payment in each year, require proof, not only of the existence of the pensioner, but also, when the exemption is based on the ground of illness or bodily infirmity, of the pensioner's inability to appear. The opportunities afforded by visits, and by the cold-weather tours of European officers, should be taken advantage of to verify the continued existence of such male pensioners as are exempted from personal attendance.

4. When a pensioner can write, his signature on the receipt should be compared with that on the disbursing officer's portion of the permanent payable order at the time of payment.

5. In all cases of exemption of male pensioners from personal attendance to draw their pensions, if the disbursing officer entertains any doubt, which he has no convenient means of removing, he should refer the case to the Commissioner for orders. Payment of the pension, however, should not be suspended pending the result of such reference.

SECTION IV.

DELIVERY OF CERTIFICATES TO PENSIONERS.

1. On the receipt, by the disbursing officer of the permanent payable order, he shall summon the pensioner, and on his appearing, shall make over to him his portion of the permanent payable order, and explain to him at what times he can draw his pension, and how he must proceed for the purpose. No other certificate need be given.

2. When the pensioner is exempted from appearance in person under Clause 8, Section 2, the permanent order may be made over to any person authorized to act on the pensioner's behalf.

3. When the pensioner's portion of the permanent payable order is much worn, or its back is filled with entries of payment, he should return it to the disbursing officer, who will forward both portions of the order to the Accountant-General, and obtain from him a duplicate order bearing the same number and date.

4. If the pensioner loses his portion, the disbursing officer's half may be returned to the Accountant-General, who will issue a duplicate order, bearing the same number and date as the original.

SECTION V.

RECORDS TO BE KEPT ON THE SUBJECT OF PENSIONS, CORRECTION AND TRANSMISSION OF SUCH RECORDS, AND REGISTERS OF CERTIFICATES DELIVERED TO PENSIONERS.

1. In each Collectorate a list of pensions shall be kept up in the form given in Appendix A. (N.B.—This will take the place of Register 55.)

2. All pensions not drawn for two years shall be struck off this register. If renewed by order of Government, a fresh entry will be made in the register.

3. Should a pension not be claimed for six months, the counterpart of the permanent order shall be returned to the Accountant-General.

If the pensioner afterwards appear, the District Officer may, subject to the rule contained in Clause 7, Section 2, reclaim the permanent order and renew the payment, and, subject to the same rule, may make payment of arrears.

4. Upon the death of a pensioner, the Collector should at once report the circumstance to the Accountant-General and return the original permanent order to his office.

5. When pensions are granted the Accountant-General issues permanent payable orders to the disbursing officer of the station at which the pension is payable, directing him to pay periodically, until further notice, the amount of the pension upon the production of the counterpart of the order and a separate receipt according to the prescribed form. These orders should be entered in the register of permanent orders prescribed by the Comptroller-General in his Circular No. 171, dated 15th April 1874.

6. When under Clauses 2 and 3, Section 2, payment of any pension is permitted at a sub-division, the permanent order of such pension shall be forwarded to the sub-division, a note to that effect being made in the register of permanent orders at the head-quarters station. At each sub-division a register of permanent order so received shall be kept up in the same form as the register prescribed for the head-quarters station.

7. Upon presentation of a claim for payment, the Collector should at once record the sum paid upon the permanent order, and enter the amount in the cash-book, and submit the separate receipt (Appendix B) with his treasury account to the Accountant-General, as a voucher in support of the charge.

SECTION VI.

DISPOSAL OF CLAIMS TO RIGHT OF SUCCESSION TO, OR TO PARTICIPATION IN, PENSIONS OR GRANTS, AND GRANT OF CERTIFICATE TO CIVIL COURT IN CERTAIN CASES.

1. The Board of Revenue is competent to sanction the continuance of hereditary pensions when the hereditary title has been already recognised by Government or decreed by a competent court of justice. But it is to be borne in mind that the Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the permanent settlement, and that if a pension has unadvisedly been continued to heirs, the hereditary nature of the gratuity may, on the death of the incumbent, again be questioned.

2. As a general principle, pecuniary grants will not be continued after the death of the parties in whose favour they were originally made. Pensioners whose pensions are granted for life only, and are resumable at their decease, are to be in no way encouraged by the local officers to hope that their pensions will be continued to their heirs, and thereby induced to neglect making a proper provision for their families. The Board is to submit to Government for decision any case in which it may be of opinion, on the decease of a life-pensioner, that the pension, or any part thereof, should be continued to the heirs.

3. The principles laid down in the memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, printed in Appendix C, are, under the orders of Government, to be followed in recommending, or deciding upon, the continuance or discontinuance to heirs of the various classes of pensions with which the memorandum deals.

4. As a rule, the distribution of pensions is irrespective of Hindu or Mahomedan law, and dependent on the pleasure of Government only.

In cases where the original grant of a pension to two or more persons was joint and undivided, the survivor or survivors will be considered entitled to retain only an exact half, or lesser share, according to circumstances, of the whole sum, without reference to sex.

5. But when the grant was of a specific sum annually payable in perpetuity and unconditionally, the District Officer may, with the sanction of the Commissioner and the Board of Revenue, grant a certificate to the civil court under Section 6, Act XXIII of 1871, where the question at issue is the right of one or other of two parties to receive any portion of such grant.

APPENDIX C.

(See Section 6, Clause 3.)

Memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, on pensions and charitable or other allowances, dated 12th May 1845.

THE Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the permanent settlement.

Section 74, Regulation VIII, 1793, provided "with respect to any of the existing established zemindari charges, such as pensions, charitable or other allowances, which it may be thought proper to continue, they shall be paid by the Collectors, &c."

Regulation XXIV, 1793, prescribed the rules for determining their continuance or discontinuance; the fundamental principle being that all such pensions and allowances were gratuitous.

The following are the principal provisions of that Regulation:—

"Pensions received by virtue of sunnuds granted before the Dewanny, or since granted with the sanction of Government, and pensions received from before 1179 (Country Era), to be continued to the grantees or original holders. But if the grantees or original holders be dead, the pensions not to be continued to their heirs or descendants without the sanction of Government; and—

"No pension after the death of the person then entitled to it to be continued to his descendants without the like sanction, whether the grant was, in either case, according to the terms of it, hereditary or otherwise.

"Whenever Government orders the continuance of a pension, whether to the original holder or his heir, the Collector to give him a certificate, stating the title of the party thereto during his or her life.

"The Collector to keep a register of these certificates, noting therein such personal identifications of the parties as might detect any attempt to transfer the certificates to others.

"The pensions and allowances being gratuitous, the determining upon the continuance or discontinuance of them under the rules prescribed reserved to Government."

It appears to me plain that according to this Regulation every pension confirmed was to be confirmed as a life pension only, and that on the death of any pensioner the case of any new claimant was to be submitted to Government for its determination.

Section 6 of Regulation XXIV, 1803 (Ceded Provinces), provided that pensions granted to fakeers and other religious persons for the purpose of lighting mausoleums or mosques, or for that of repairing them, as also to enable them to perform their religious ceremonies usual in the Mohurrum, were to be continued; but that pensions of this description were to be considered as of a personal nature, and that the Collector was to be responsible for their being applied to the purpose for which they were bestowed.

Certificates were under this Regulation to be granted for pensions renewed on the death of pensioner, and registers of certificates to be kept as under Regulation XXIV, 1793, and Section 16 declared that the continuance or discontinuance of pensions was, after the death of the persons then receiving them, to depend solely on the pleasure of Government.

I reconcile Sections 6 and 16 in this way. Pensions received by fakeers at the date of the Regulation for certain purposes were to be continued to them, but if they applied them to other purposes they would be resumed. On the death of the then holders, the pensions were to be continued to their successors or not as Government might determine, each renewal requiring a specific order.

By Section 30, Regulation XII, 1805, the provisions of Regulation XXIV, 1793, were made applicable to pensions and allowances granted for religious purposes in Cuttack with these provisos—

I.—That pensions obtained from the Government of Berar, under grants prior to October 1803, should be continued to the then incumbents, and, on their death, should descend to their heirs and successors, or revert to Government, as should appear to the Governor-General in Council, on a consideration of the tenor of the grant, and all the circumstances of the case, to be proper, under Section 4 of the said Regulation.

II.—Pensions received, under whatever authority, for three or more years before October 1803, to be continued to the then incumbents for life, but on their death to revert to Government, unless any particular reasons should appear to Government to exist for continuing them to their heirs and successors.

In the terms "on a consideration of the tenor of the grant" contained in the proviso I, we find the first indication of Government prescribing a rule to itself respecting the continuance of a pension to heirs and successors of incumbents. Section 4, Regulation XXIV, 1793, to which reference is made, contains no such rule.

By Section 7, Regulation XXII, 1806, the Board of Revenue were instructed, in determining whether, on the death of a pensioner, the pension, or any part of it, should be continued to heirs or successors, "to ascertain particularly the situation and circumstances of the person claiming the continuance of the pension, and not to comply with any applications of that nature unless, on the ground of poverty or other substantial reason, the party claiming it shall have a strong claim on the indulgence of Government."

This relates to pensions to a certain amount (fifty rupees) left to the Board's decision, but I presume the principle was applicable to all.

Section 8 enjoined Collectors to discontinue the payment of all pensions, where the persons to whom they had been adjudged had died, until it could be determined whether they were to be continued to heirs.

Section 9 had in view the commutation of money pensions for grants of waste land or property.

It begins by repeating the declaration that pensions are gratuitous, and that the continuance or discontinuance of them is to depend on the pleasure of Government.

It then enacts that adjudged pensions are not to be commuted for grants of land, except with the consent of the pensioner, and adds these further provisos:—

That pensions granted for, and bonâ fide appropriated to, the support of institutions, either of the Hindoo or Mahomedan religion, shall be continued for the support of such institutions, unless the present incumbents or their successors shall, of their own free will and accord, agree to accept waste lands in lieu of the said pensions, and that no pensions which are declared to be hereditary, either by the terms of the grant, or by any existing Regulations, shall be commuted without the consent of the present pensioners or their successors.

The first proviso has been quoted as containing an abstract rule that pensions for the support of the institutions therein described shall be continued in perpetuity; but considering the whole scope of the section, it seems to me rather to mean that so long as the allowances are continued by the pleasure of Government, they shall be continued in the shape of money payments, unless the incumbent for the time being consents to a commutation for land.

So also in respect of pensions which, in consideration of the terms of the grant, the Government may hereafter continue to the heirs of present incumbents. These shall likewise be continued in the shape of money payments, unless with the consent of the heir to whom it is continued it shall be commuted for land.

The same rule to apply to pensions declared hereditary by the Regulations, i.e., those described in Section 2, Regulation XXXIV, 1795, and Section 2, Regulation XXIV, 1803, which are declared to be property, and liable to be sued for and inherited as such, and are distinct from the gratuitous pensions.

Suppose, then, a case in which the grant was not hereditary by the terms of it, but which the Government thought it right to continue to the heir of a deceased incumbent, they might insist on his taking land in lieu of it, or renouncing all claim to the allowance.

Sections 2 and 3, Regulation XI, 1813, enact that all pensions shall be stopped until those receiving them prove that they are either the original grantees, or that they have been regularly declared entitled to succeed to the enjoyment of the pensions, and that new registers shall be made and corrected as often as any pensions revert wholly or in part to Government, or whenever other individuals than those by whom the pensions are at present received shall be adjudged entitled to the reversion of them.

So far, then, as the law is concerned, it appears to me that the continuance or discontinuance of any pension or allowance on the death of an incumbent rests entirely in the discretion of Government, that when continued it should be for the life of the applicant only.

In practice, I believe, the Government has very much fettered itself in the exercise of this discretion.

NOTIFICATION.

The 14th September 1875.—With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, it is hereby declared that the port of False Point, in the district of Cuttack, in the province of Orissa, and the navigable river and channels leading to the said port, are subject to Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports' Act, 1875). The limits of the port of False Point are as follows :—

To the North.—A line drawn from a pillar erected on the north end of Dowdeswell's Island to a pillar erected on the mainland on the opposite side, below the sand gaps.

To the South.—A line drawn from a pillar erected on Dowdeswell's Island from a point east of Plowden's Island to a pillar erected on the mainland on the right bank of the Jumboo river.

The limits of the said port include so much of the mouth of the river Mahanuddy between the said pillars and of the shores as are within fifty yards of high-water mark at spring tides.

The limits of the navigable river and channels to the above port are as follows, viz. of the—

I.—RIVER MAHANUDDY.

To the North.—The port above defined.

To the South.—A line drawn across the river Mahanuddy from a pillar on the left bank below the light-house to another pillar on the right or opposite bank of the said river.

II.—OF FALSE BAY AND THE BAY OF BENGAL.

To the South.—The port of False Point as above defined.

To the North.—A line parallel to the coast, so as to include all of the said bays as are within ten fathoms' depth.

The limits of the said navigable river and channels include so much of the shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high water at spring tides.

The northern and the eastern limits of the anchorage in the harbour of False Point are as follows :—

To the North.—A buoy bearing due magnetic north from the beacon on Point Reddie at 1,700 yards' distance, with Temple Tree bearing west half south.

To the East.—A line drawn from the above buoy to Point Reddie beacon.

For all purposes of conservancy the northern limits of the port will be taken, but ships should not anchor to the northward of the boundary buoy.

LEVY OF PORT DUES.

With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, it is further declared, under Clause 1, Section 45 of the Act—

First.—That a port-due, at a rate not exceeding four annas per ton, shall be charged on every sea-going vessel of the burden of 20 tons and upwards which shall enter False Point port.

Second.—That the port-due chargeable on dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade shall be at a rate not exceeding one-half the rate for other vessels.

Third.—That in the case of sea-going vessels, the due shall be leviable whenever a vessel enters the port, and that in the case of dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade, the due shall be chargeable once in sixty days.

Fourth.—That no port-due shall be charged on vessels compelled by stress of weather to re-enter the port.

Fifth.—That the present rate of port-due shall be fixed at two annas per ton for sea-going vessels of the burden of 20 tons and upwards, and at three annas per 100 maunds for dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade.

NOTIFICATION.

The 21st September 1875.—It is hereby notified for general information that under Section 65 of Act XXVI of 1850, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to approve of the following Rules prepared by the Municipal Commissioners for the town of Sahebgunge, in the district of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, under Section 7 of the said Act XXVI of 1850, to give effect to the provisions of the Act in the said town of Sahebgunge.

1. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Rajmehal for the time being shall be ex-officio president of the Committee.

2. The Commissioners shall meet at Sahebgunge on the first Tuesday in every month for the despatch of business, and, if necessary, on any other day to be named by the president. Each Commissioner shall have the power to call a special meeting by intimating his wish to the president, who shall then fix a day, issuing the usual notice to all the Commissioners. The attendance of two Commissioners shall always form a "quorum:" all questions shall be determined by a majority of votes, and in case the Commissioners are equally divided, the president shall have a casting vote. If only two Commissioners are present, no questions shall be carried unless they are unanimous.

3. The Commissioners shall be competent to employ any number of surveyors, inspectors, clerks and other officers and servants upon such wages or emoluments as may be determined upon in each case.

4. Every person employed by the Commissioners shall be liable to a fine, not exceeding one month's pay or to dismissal for any misconduct or neglect of duty assigned to him.

5. Any Commissioner may originate or receive and enquire into a complaint of misconduct or neglect in the performance of his duty against any person employed by the Commissioners, but no punishment shall be inflicted upon such person except by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Commissioners.

6. The following taxes shall be levied within the town of Sahebgunge:—

(1)—Upon houses and lands at a rate not exceeding $3\frac{1}{2}$ percentage of their annual value.

(2)—Upon coal stored, at $1\frac{1}{2}$ anna per ton per mensem.

(3)—Brick-kilas, at Rs. 5 per lakh of bricks.

(4)—Horses and conveyances—

Eight annas per month for a horse.

Four annas for a tuttoo or pony.

One rupee for a four-wheeled carriage.

Two annas per month for a cart.

(5)—Upon all buildings and workshops not being habitations, at a rate not exceeding one anna per month per 100 square feet.

(6)—Upon golas and buildings used for the purpose of storing grain and other merchandize imported and for exportation by wholesale dealers and traders, half an anna per month per 100 square feet.

(7)—Buildings devoted to religious purposes shall be exempt from taxation.

(8)—At the commencement of every year a list of horses and conveyances, and of the houses, showing the names of the owners and the amount assessed upon each, shall be prepared under the superintendence of the Commissioners, and shall be signed by the president and at least one other Commissioner. The day on which such list is published shall be notified by beat of drum, and notice affixed at the Municipal Office or elsewhere. The inhabitants shall have access to this list at the office, and any person who has reason to complain shall make known his complaint to the Commissioners in writing within fifteen days of the publication. The complainant shall attend at the next monthly meeting of the Commissioners, when any objection he may urge shall be heard and taken into consideration. Should the complainant fail to appear, the Commissioners shall inquire into the merits of the written complaint. The decision arrived at by that meeting shall in any case be final.

(9)—After the completion of the list, and on the expiration of the term of fifteen days provided for in the foregoing section, no objection to the amount assessed will be admitted as a right, but it shall nevertheless be competent to the Commissioners at any time to alter, diminish, or remit the amount of tax leviable from any ratepayer, when satisfied after an enquiry, that any change in his pecuniary circumstances renders such a change, diminution, or remission just and necessary.

(10)—It shall be competent for the Commissioners, at any time during the year, to assess in the manner above mentioned, any person who shall come to reside within the town.

(11)—It shall be competent for any person or company wishing to compound for any of the above taxes either by the month or year, to do so with the consent of, and at rates agreed to by, the Commissioners.

(12)—The taxes shall be collected by the clerk or other officers appointed by the Commissioners, and shall be payable quarterly in advance. Any person neglecting to pay the amount due for any quarter within the first month of that quarter, notwithstanding that such amount shall have been demanded of him on behalf of the Commissioners, shall be deemed a defaulter, and be dealt with according to the provisions of the Act.

(13)—The clerk or other officers appointed for the collection of the taxes shall be required to give security of a value not less than the average amount of the monthly collections, and the Commissioners shall have the power to declare any portion or the whole of such security to be forfeited on proof of misconduct, or in liquidation of any instalments overdue.

(14)—All monies and Government securities deposited by the officers and servants entertained under this Act, shall be transmitted to the Sub-Divisional Officer of Rajmehal for safe custody, to be repaid by him on the duplicate receipt of the president countersigned by one of the other Commissioners.

(15)—The proceeds of all collections and fines under these rules shall be kept by the clerk or any other officer appointed by the Commissioners, who shall enter an account of all receipts and disbursements to be countersigned daily by one of the Commissioners. On the last day of every month the accounts for the month shall be made up and the cash balance, or such part if it as the Commissioners think fit, shall be remitted to the Sub-divisional Officer of Rajmehal, to be held in deposit by him, and to be repaid by him from time to time on the duplicate receipt of the president of the Committee countersigned by one of the other Commissioners. An annual accounts of receipts and disbursements, and of the demand, collections, and outstanding arrears of taxes, shall be submitted to the Government on the last day of March in every year.

(16)—To ensure the due application of the proceeds of the taxes no new work shall be commenced except under the authority of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Commissioners. An account of all works executed by the Commissioners shall be annually submitted to Government.

(17)—The following are defined to be nuisances in Sahebgunge, and are accordingly hereby prohibited :—

POLICE ACT, SECTION 34.

1st.—Slaughtering cattle, or cleaning any carcass on any road, street, or thoroughfare.

2nd.—Furious riding or driving on any public road.

3rd.—Obstructing passengers by keeping or having any cattle or conveyance of any kind standing longer than requisite on any public road so as to cause inconvenience to inhabitants.

4th.—Throwing or laying down in the street any dirt, filth, rubbish, or any stone or building materials, or constructing any cow-shed, stable or the like open to any thoroughfare, or causing any offensive matters to run into the road from any house, factory dung-heap, or the like, without having previously obtained the sanction of the Commissioners in each case.

5th.—Exposing any goods for sale on the road except in places provided for by the Commissioners.

6th.—Being found drunk or incapable in any public place.

7th.—Wilful and indecent exposure of the person, or of any offensive deformity or disease, all easing of nature in public places, or bathing or washing in any tank or reservoir not set apart for that purpose.

8th.—Neglect to fence in, repair, and duly protect any well, tank or other dangerous places or structure.

9th.—Keeping or driving elephants anywhere within the limits of the town without permission of the Commissioners.

10th.—Refusal or neglect on the part of any proprietor or occupier of land to cut the boughs of trees growing on such lands and overhanging any public road, or to cut down jungle growing on such land after being required to do so in writing by any Commissioner.

11th.—Stopping any public water-course or drain so as to obstruct the free passage of water.

12th.—Refusal or neglect to put into a wholesome state any private tank, privy, drain, or excavation, after being required to do so in writing by any Commissioner.

13th.—Erecting or keeping any privy or urinal within ten yards of any public road.

14th.—Letting off fire-works, or firing guns or pistols on or near the public road.

15th.—Quarrying kunkur, or cutting timber or grass, or damaging trees on public ground without the sanction of the Commissioners, or defacing the blocks on which the names of any roads or streets are engraved, or any boundary pillar.

16th.—Burying or burning dead bodies within precincts of the town, except in places regularly provided for the same, and neglect to inter them properly, or reduce them completely to ashes in such places.

17th.—Selling or exposing for sale as fit for human food, any putrid or diseased animal substance.

18th.—Allowing pigs to be at large, or keeping them otherwise than confined in styes.

19th.—Any person who commits within the town of Sahebgunge any nuisance as defined in the foregoing rule, shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rs. 50; and in case of continuing a nuisance after due notice in writing by any one of the Commissioners, by a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for every day during which the nuisance is continued.

20th.—No penalty should be adjudged under Act XXVI of 1850, till after a summary public enquiry, to be held before a meeting of the Commissioners; such enquiry shall be instituted on the report of a servant of the Commissioners appointed or instructed for the purpose, or on complaint by any private individual having cause to complain of any nuisance, or by the local police. A written notice stating the subject matter of the complaint and the day on which it will be heard, shall be served on the person complained against, or affixed to his residence. If the person complained against does not appear, the Commissioners shall decide the case upon such information as they may be able to procure. Any one Commissioner may receive or institute a complaint, and cause the written notices, provided for above, to be served by one of the municipal servants.

21st.—The proceeds of the fines realized under the preceding rules are to be applied to the same purpose as the other funds at the disposal of the municipality.

22nd.—The rules in force under Act XXXVI of 1850, may be amended or rescinded, and new rules may be proposed by the Commissioners at any of their meetings, and such amendments or drafts of new rules, if agreed to by the majority, shall be submitted to the Government for approval.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Orders by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Circular Letter No. 1836B.

Dated Calcutta, the 10th August 1875.

From—W. M. SOUTTAR, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal,

To—All District Judges, Subordinate Judges, and Moonsiffs in charge of Moonsiffces.

I AM directed to transmit, for your use and for record in your office, a copy of the Bengal Mofussil Law List. The price (eight annas) you will be good enough to forward direct to the Superintendent of Government Printing, 8, Hastings Street.

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
(Civil.)

2. I am to observe that as the list is issued for the first time, it is no doubt susceptible of improvement, the object in view being to make it as accurate and its information as recent as possible.

3. The attainment of this object, I am to point out, must mainly depend on the District Judges, and, through them, on the Pleaders themselves.

4. I am accordingly to request that you will promote the sale of this work to the best of your power. It is for sale to the public at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing at twelve annas per copy. I am to add that should there be a prospect of the addition proving remunerative, the names of Mokhtars might be included in any future lists that may be issued.

(CIVIL APPELLATE JURISDICTION.)

Rules for the preparation of Paper-books in Regular Appeals.

1. In all Regular Appeals, the Deputy Registrar shall, forthwith upon the receipt of the record, make and print a complete and accurate list of all the papers contained therein in form given below :—

1	2	3	4	5
Number on the record ...	Mark, if any, in the Court below.	Description and date of paper on the record.	Whether the whole or a portion thereof is to be inserted in the Paper-book.	Page in the Paper-book.

In these lists columns 4 and 5 will be left blank. Column 4 will be filled in by the parties as hereinafter directed, and column 5 by the officer of the court. The papers are to be arranged in the order directed by Rule X of the Rules of 30th July 1870, as to Privy Council Appeals.

2. As soon as this list shall have been prepared, the Deputy Registrar shall deliver one copy thereof to each Appellant or set of Appellants, appearing separately, or to his or their Vakeels respectively, free of charge. Further copies shall be supplied to any of the parties to the appeal at the rate of 4 annas a copy.

3. Within fourteen days after receipt of the list above mentioned the Appellant or Appellants shall deliver to the Deputy Registrar a copy of such list signed by such Appellant or Appellants or his or their Advocate or Vakeel, showing by filling up column 4 of the list what papers or portions of papers in the record it will be necessary to read at the hearing of the appeal.

4. In such list shall be specified not only the papers forming that portion of the record which is relied upon by the Appellant or Appellants, but all the papers in the records so far as may be necessary to enable the Court to dispose of the appeal.

5. Notice of such list having been filed shall be forthwith given by the Deputy Registrar to the Respondents who have appeared or their Vakeels respectively.

6. Any party Respondent or his Vakeel may without fee inspect and at his own expense take a copy of the list filed under Rule 3.

7. Each party Respondent shall, within fourteen days after service on him of the notice under Rule 5, deliver to the Deputy Registrar a copy of the list mentioned in Rule 2, showing by filling up column 4 of the list what papers or portions of papers, if any, not marked as necessary in the list furnished by the Appellants, he considers it will be necessary to have read at the hearing of the appeal.

8. If any Respondent considers that any portion of the record marked in the Appellants' list is unnecessary, he shall so state, by writing in column 4 the word "unnecessary."

9. If any respondent considers that any portion of the record has not been marked as necessary by the Appellants, which under Rules 3 and 4 ought to have been so marked, he may, within three days after filing his own list under Rule 7, and on notice to the appellants, apply to the Court to compel the Appellants to add that portion to their own list; and if such application be granted, the portion so added shall be struck out of the Respondent's list.

10. If no list be filed by any Respondent within the time specified, the paper-book will be made up according to the Appellants' list.

11. Where several Appellants or Respondents appear by one Advocate or Vakeel, one list only shall be filed by each set of parties so appearing.

12. If all or a considerable portion of the necessary papers have already been printed in any former paper-book, the Appellant or Appellants shall so state in his or their petition of appeal and in the list furnished under Rule 3. Nothing printed in such former paper-book shall, except by special order of Court, be again printed, if sufficient copies of that paper-book be procurable. But copies of the former book shall be annexed to the new book, and a reference shall be made to the page in the former book in which each particular document or deposition is to be found.

13. Immediately upon the receipt of any list filed under Rule 3 or 7, the Deputy Registrar shall make and deliver to the party furnishing it an estimate of the costs of transcribing, translating, printing, and preparing the portions of the record marked in such list as necessary to be read, or added thereto by order of the Court. Each party furnishing a list must, within two weeks after the delivery to him or them of such estimate, deposit with the Accountant of the Court the whole amount thereof.

14. If it shall be ascertained at any time that the sum deposited by any party will not cover the usual costs payable in respect of the papers marked as necessary in the list furnished by him, or added thereto by the order of the Court, the difference shall be estimated by the proper officer, and shall be paid within two weeks after demand by such party.

15. In case of any party failing to file the necessary list under Rule 3, or to make the necessary deposit under Rules 13 and 14 in due time, the Deputy Registrar shall at once cause the appeal to be set down before the Division Court, to which it belongs; and if the party in default does not satisfy the Court as to his delay, the appeal may be dismissed for want of prosecution, or the Court may pass such other order as it may deem proper.

16. If the sum deposited by any party shall exceed the costs for which he is liable under the above rules, the difference shall be refunded as soon as the actual costs incurred are ascertained.

17. The Court may, at any time, upon sufficient cause shown, enlarge the time for furnishing any list or making any deposit required by these rules. Such application for enlargement must be made before the time expires, except in special cases; and it must be supported by an affidavit, stating the circumstances under which the delay took place. It must also be accompanied by a certificate of the Deputy Registrar showing the dates on which the several directions herein contained, have been complied with, which certificate the Deputy Registrar shall grant upon payment of a fee of Rs. 2.

18. A separate account shall be kept of the costs of transcribing, translating, and printing the papers contained in each list.

19. The Deputy Registrar shall cause the portions of the record, in respect of which the proper deposit has been made, to be (where necessary) translated into English, and shall cause the same to be printed; and this, together with such lists as aforesaid, shall form the Paper-book to be used by the Court at the hearing of the appeal.

20. If there be separate appeals against the same judgment, complete lists shall be filed by the parties in each appeal; and the Deputy Registrar shall, subject to the order of the Court, determine in what proportions the deposits are to be made. Nothing shall be printed twice over, but references shall be inserted in the proper places, showing where the several portions elsewhere printed are to be found.

21. No portion of the record, which is not contained in the Paper-book, shall be read at the hearing of the appeal without the special leave of the Court. If such special leave be granted, it shall be competent to the Court to order such portion to be translated and transcribed or printed at the cost of the party requiring the same to be read.

22. The costs of transcribing, translating, printing, and preparing the paper-book shall be costs in the appeal, unless the Court hearing the appeal shall otherwise direct.

23. The Court may, upon the application of any party, and upon good and sufficient cause shown, give such special directions as to any of the matters to which these rules relate as may seem fit, and may by special order exempt any party from the operation of any portion of these rules: Provided always that the list as directed by Rules 3 and 7 must be filed in all cases, unless the party can satisfy the Court that he is unable to prepare the list himself, and that he is without any professional assistance in the litigation.

24. It shall be open to any party, at any time before the translations are completed, to deposit the amount necessary for defraying the expenses of examination of the translations before the same are printed, such amount being fixed by the Deputy Registrar; and upon such deposit being made, the translations will be examined, in the same way that the translations in cases appealed to the Privy Council are examined, by one of the Sworn Examiners of the Court, and certified accordingly. The amount so deposited will be allowed as costs to the party making the deposit, if the Court shall so order.

25. Upon special application and deposit of the extra costs, the record will be printed in the form directed by the Privy Council.

26. In ordinary cases, 25 copies of the paper-book will be printed, but the Deputy Registrar may at his discretion increase the number. Two copies of the Paper-book may be obtained by each party appearing separately free of charge.

27. As soon as the Paper-book is ready for delivery to the parties, the case shall be inserted by the Deputy Registrar in a list to be hung up in the usual places; and the case shall not be inserted in the list of cases ready for hearing until four days after its insertion in the first of the above-mentioned lists.

28. Appeals against admissions of or refusals to admit a Will to Probato, shall be considered as Regular Appeals within the meaning of these rules.

29. Every Paper-book shall have printed on the cover a statement of the amount of costs incurred by each party in respect thereof.

30. These rules shall apply to all Regular Appeals filed after the 1st day of November 1875.

15th September 1875.

* * * The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT

MISCELLANEOUS

No 1707A of 1875 dated the 21st August 1875

THE following tea plantations in Kumaun the property of Government will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioners Office Almora on Wednesday the 1st of December 1875, at noon —

Himadbagh Forty six miles from the plains by bullock road, and six from Almora. Area about one hundred acres after excluding the house known as Mr. Tull's with its compound which will not be sold. Said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden having lately been used as a nursery for fruit trees the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large shuck houses (exclusive of Tull's house) a slated factory, two slated side winged hatted barrack for tea makers and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea level is 4000 feet and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price Rs. 25000.

Communication — A good bullock road 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani (2) Kuldungi (3) Nainital and (3) Runggan (in Khyrnai). From Haldwani to Bareilly railway station 40 miles over a pukka cart road, from Kuldungi to Moradabad railway station 18 miles on partly pukka road and from Runggan to Moradabad 15 miles via Kishpuri of which 25 miles more or less are cut in fair weather road bridged. Bridge floats on Runggan north of Moradabad. From Runggan up there is cart road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ramkhet 56 miles and to the Haldwani plantation where the Kosi river is being bridged 19 miles.

Agri. Land — In Kattun containing about 2540 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared and nearly 1500 are consist of jungle of which part may be unculturable. A portion of the estate named Bimchi 919 acres, is held under a perpetual lease from the Nagnath temple at an annual rent of Rs. 21. There were on the estate a house factory, slated wing and numerous out-floors all slated, but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea level 5200 feet and the plantation ranges from that height to 4400 feet. Upset price Rs. 17000.

Communication — To Haldwani 24 miles by bullock road, thence is detailed under Haldwani.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately at the upset prices named and sold in fee simple to the highest bidder free of all demands for land revenue but subject to the rights directly named in each case, and as to payment of all many cesses now in force on that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed and maps may be seen at the District Office Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent of the purchase money at the time of sale and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876 when possession will be given failing payment in full the deposit will be forfeited and the estates resold.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.—No. 2883

Calcutta, the 20th September 1875.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Patna Division for the year 1874-75.

The Lieutenant-Governor's cordial acknowledgments are due to the late Commissioner, Mr. Stuart Bayley, for his complete and exhaustive report, which furnishes a record of the administration of the division during the past two years. Mr. Bayley's knowledge of the division is so full, that, although with a single exception the district reports were sent in by newly appointed Magistrates, all the deficiencies that might have been expected in such a case are fully supplied and supplemented by the Commissioner's special knowledge. The report of Mr. Bourdillon, written when he was sub-divisional officer of Jehanabad, has been submitted by the Commissioner to Government, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to recognise the large amount of useful and interesting information that report contains.

2. The Commissioner and the district officers have been constantly in the interior of their districts. During so exceptional a season as that of 1874-75, the ordinary scheme of cold-weather tours was quite out of place. The Commissioner's own duties were obviously incompatible with a peaceful life at head-quarters, and Mr. Bayley was almost continually on tour.

3. In speaking of the weather and crops, it will be convenient, as has been done on previous occasions, to divide the division into two groups of districts—those south of the Ganges, and those north of the Ganges. In the south Gangetic districts the crops were injured by severe floods in August 1873; and after August there was practically no rain at all, so the rice crop of that season was an utter failure. The prospects were very gloomy, and all seemed to depend on the next rubbee harvest, but fortunately there was some rain towards the end of January, and good rain in February. In many places, and especially in the Patna district, the rubbee proved to be a twelve-anna crop, and meanwhile the railway was pouring grain into all these districts from the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab. The greater portion of the grain imported into Behar by private trade was consumed in the three districts south of the Ganges. The assistance required from Government was therefore not great, and in none of those districts was the sale of Government grain necessary. The subsequent harvests of 1874 were excellent. The bhadoi and rice crops are estimated as fourteen-anna crops in Patna; in Gya they are described as being luxuriant and excellent; and in Shahabad as being full crops. The rubbee also, which was harvested in the spring of 1875, was in all these districts above the average.

4. The results of the harvest in the districts north of the Ganges were more disastrous. The bhadoi or August crop was better, but the rice, which is a very much more important harvest, was worse; and, taken all round, it would be over-estimated at a two-anna crop. The rubbee was in some places an entire failure, and nowhere was there much more than a four-anna crop. In other respects, too, the northern districts were incomparably worse off than those south of the Ganges. Private trade was inactive. It did nothing for Tirhoot or Chumparun, and not so much as was desired for Sarun. "Among many reasons offered for this," writes Mr. Bayley, "the main one is obvious. Tirhoot and Chumparun in ordinary years export food, and do not import it; and the machinery by which the rice of Alapore or Ramnuggur is ordinarily conveyed to Sarun, or the line of rail, was not capable of being set in motion the reverse way. Private trade was helpless, and Government had to take its entire functions, both of importation and of distribution, on itself. Up to the time (February) when Government occupied the field in force, there was no sign whatever of private trade doing for the north of the Ganges what it had been doing freely on the south for months; and it is idle to ask whether, if Government had abstained for another six months from occupying the trade routes and carriage of the country, private enterprise would have availed us anything. The famine would not wait, and the Government had no choice but to occupy the ground which private trade had hitherto, in spite of every encouragement, shown no desire to occupy." It is also pointed out that the bhaolee or payment-in-kind system, which is prevalent in the south Gangetic districts and almost unknown in the north, gave the poor population a better chance in those districts where it exists.

5. But although the rubbee crop of 1874 was deficient in the northern districts, the subsequent seasons were propitious. There was a good bhadoi harvest, and rain fell just in time to secure the winter rice, which is the main staple of north and east Tirhoot. In Tirhoot and Sarun the harvest of 1874 was excellent; in Chumparun the crops are stated to have been almost the largest ever known.

6. The indigo produce of last year is pronounced to have been the worst on record. The total number of beegahs under poppy cultivation in the division was 462,538, which yielded an outturn of 55,730 maunds of opium. The amount of land under opium was the largest in Chumparun, while the yield was best in Shahabad. The year was a bad one in both Tirhoot and Chumparun. The opium beegah is equal to 3,025 square yards, or about five-eighths of an acre.

7. Notwithstanding the high price of grain, and the severe pressure to which people were subjected by the scarcity, the public health generally was good. This satisfactory state of affairs was largely due to the facilities for obtaining medical aid which were afforded to the people. But in a still greater degree it is due to the fact that, in the scheme of State relief, all classes found a refuge from want, and the necessities of life were supplied to all in need of them.

8. Mr. Bayley writes regarding the scarcity :—"What suffering there was on a large scale was confined to the early months of the year, specially February and March 1874, before the people really understood that work or food was assuredly to be had by those who required it, and before, indeed, the Government organization was sufficiently complete in some places to receive it. I saw enough suffering in those months to give me a very ghastly conviction of what would have been the result if relief had not been speedily available."

9. Generally speaking, Mr. Bayley expresses his opinion that, considering the rates paid for labour, Behar is a very poor country, and that the material condition of the people is very low. "Over the culturable area of the division, with the single exception of north Chumparun, and certain parts in Shahabad and Gya, there is hardly any waste land, and the population of the land per square mile is excessive, ranging in cultivated tracts between 500 and 750 per square mile—a population, too, almost wholly agricultural. Rents, including therein the innumerable cesses by which they are supplemented, are limited in the case of the majority of agriculturalists by little else than their inability to pay more. The labourer's wage gives him subsistence, but only by the added earnings of his wife and family. Indebtedness is very general. The primary wants of food, clothing, and shelter are most frugally supplied, and secondary wants among these classes are scarcely supplied at all."

10. The Commissioner's own view is that the pressure of population on the soil has very largely increased of recent years. Emigration is very little resorted to, and even the high prices and distress of the past year but little added to the usual small supply of emigrants. On this important topic the Lieutenant-Governor will quote the following paragraphs of Mr. Bayley's report :—

PARA. 44. I have said that the energy of recruiters for these districts was centralised to a great extent at Patna. The reason of this is not far to seek : out of the 2,800 persons registered at Patna, less than 1,000 were residents of the district. It is a convenient focus for collecting the waifs and strays of surrounding districts. Next to Patna the most important dépôt is Arrah. Gya only sent 709 emigrants last year, while Arrah sent 2,400, and Buxar 794. Of the Arrah emigrants, nearly two-thirds went to the tea districts, and about one-third to the colonies. Mr. Haggard justly remarks that the supply is by no means equal to the demand, and it is a strange thing to me. Considering the miserable hand-to-mouth existence of a large portion of the population of Behar, and considering their industrious habits and willingness to take service in other parts of India ; considering also the number of men who come back with really large sums of money from the West India colonies, it is strange to me that the recruiting dépôts during all the years they have been at work should have got so little hold of the surplus population.

45. From the north of the Ganges there is practically no emigration : absolutely none from Tirhoot and Chumparun ; and Sarun, with its population of over two millions, registers only 448 emigrants altogether in a year of scarcity like 1874. Of this number, 186 went to Burmah, being recruited by Government agency. There is, however, a large annual migration eastward from Sarun of men going to work in the North Bengal districts, leaving their homes about October, and generally returning after April. Of these no computation has been made.

11. In spite of so many disturbing elements, it is reported that the labour market fairly maintained its equilibrium. The abnormal demand for labour on the extensive famine works on the one hand, and the distribution of charitable relief on the other, were both calculated to raise the wages of labour ; but this effect was counteracted by the unusually large numbers whom the pressure of scarcity drove into the field, and the result was that the state of the districts in respect of labour was, except near the State Railway in Tirhoot, much as usual. As yet there seems to be no alteration in the wages of labour, which are very low in this division. But the Lieutenant-Governor would guard against the supposition which, if entertained, might prove to be unfounded, to the effect that these wages will fail to follow in future the general tendency to rise considerably.

12. The Commissioner regrets that he has not been able to afford much additional information regarding the manufactures of the division. In Mr. Bourdillon's report there is a chapter devoted to this subject, which the Lieutenant-Governor has read with interest. A fuller account is given of trade and commerce. The amount of grain poured into Behar during the scarcity by means of private trade was enormous. The railway was principally resorted to in consequence of the Government concession under which half the freight of all grain was paid by Government. From October 1873 to October 1874 the amount of private grain imported by rail into Behar was 1,07,50,000 maunds, amounting very often to 56,000 maunds a day. This was in addition to the Government grain, which amounted to about another ten million maunds, and it takes no account of the importations that were received by river.

13. A set of tables for the two years, 1873-74 and 1874-75, showing the trade of Patna, is annexed to the Commissioner's report. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that these tables were not more methodically arranged and tabulated. At present it is not easy to understand the information they are intended to convey, and His Honor is obliged to say that the Magistrate of Patna, as well as the Commissioner, should have devoted more attention to seeing that the returns were submitted in an intelligible shape to Government. The figures given by Mr. Bourdillon show the traffic along the Jehanabad road between Gya and Patna. The results show the value of this traffic to have been about four and a half lakhs of rupees, which is less than might have been expected; but these results will now be tested by the systematic registration on this road that has recently been sanctioned. Into Shahabad there was an exceptionally large import of thirteen lakhs of maunds of food-grain, and of nearly six lakhs of maunds of other merchandise. The exports were a little over one lakh of maunds of grain, and three lakhs of other merchandise. These figures are derived from the railway returns only. Regarding the Tirhoot trade no information is given. The Collector of Sarun remarks on the large export of oil-seeds from Revelgunge in that district, which amounts to at least ten lakhs of maunds annually; the tables of importation into this large river mart show a total amount of 7,90,639 maunds of food-grains during the year, of which 1,09,450 maunds were of rice. But, besides Revelgunge, there are numerous other points at which traffic enters and leaves the district. From Chumparun there is a considerable export of rice, and a brisk trade is carried on across the Nepal frontier. The arrangements that have been made by Government for the registration of river traffic, and of the traffic which crosses the frontier both into Nepal and into the North-Western Provinces, will enable more accurate information on all these matters to be furnished in future years.

14. The Collectors are all agreed that the people really are grateful for the efforts made by Government to relieve them during the scarcity, and—as in other divisions—their gratitude has found expression in popular songs. Mr. Bayley adds that in no other country in the world could people, massed together on the roads as they were in Tirhoot, have been found to behave so well, or to give so little trouble. “While things looked gloomy they were patient; when they came on to the works (with at first very insufficient supervision) they were peaceful and obedient; there was no rioting, no plundering, no sacking of granaries; when we turned them off the works, they went quietly and settled down to their usual agricultural pursuits with more than ordinary energy; and now they are repaying their advances, as a rule, smoothly, and without making excuses.”

15. An immense addition was made on account of relief purposes to the regular administrative staff of the division. Thirty covenanted civilians, 74 military commissioned officers, 88 uncovenanted officers, and 57 other Europeans and 1,818 natives,—2,067 officers altogether, of whom 2,012 were stationed in Tirhoot,—constituted the extrastaff placed under the Commissioner's orders during the famine. Tirhoot was divided into two districts, and an additional Commissioner was appointed; special sub-divisions were created; the sub-divisions were parcelled out into circles of varying areas, each circle being administered by a Superintendent, sometimes a Covenanted officer, sometimes a Deputy Magistrate, sometimes a temporarily engaged officer, sometimes a planter; and under these, again, were group officers; and the whole of the salt preventive establishment, as well as that of the subordinate executive service, was made available for relief duties. The result was that relief administration was brought within easy reach of every village and every household. The division of Tirhoot into two districts, which had long been recognised to be an administrative necessity, has since been sanctioned permanently.

16. Much was done in the way of collecting statistics during the year, although our enquiries are still partial and unmethodical. Agricultural statistics are being collected in Patna, which will, it is hoped, be trustworthy. In Shahabad the cadastral survey should lay the foundation for really valuable agricultural statistics, and greatly increase our knowledge on this subject. In Chupra and Chumparun investigations on a limited scale have been carried out.

17. The mortuary returns from selected areas evince considerable improvement, especially in the Patna district. In the Patna Municipality the rate per thousand is given at 33·7; in Barh at 43·9; and in the Behar urban area at 31·2. The general average in the urban areas in the district is 34·2; the general average in the rural areas is 27·2. The general average of infant mortality is, however, given only at 26·3 per thousand, and this shows that there is still under-registration. Contrary to the experience derived from Bengal, there is more mortality in the Patna district during August, September, and October than in any other period of the year. The largest proportion of deaths,—no less than 43 per cent,—appears to have been caused by fever. There has also been an improvement in the registration of births in the selected areas. The returns now give 29·3 births to a thousand of the population.

18. A very useful work was done by Mr. MacDonnell in the Durbhangah sub-division towards testing the census of 1871, and by Mr. Tonnerre also in the Mushruk thana of the Sarun district. Mr. MacDonnell's was, in fact, a fresh census of the whole sub-division, and it showed a total population of 1,003,866 on the 15th October 1874, against a population of 867,909 in January 1871. Mr. MacDonnell's report has already been published in the Gazette. Mr. Tonnerre's census did not give such full results as the census taken in Durbhangah, and the figures do not materially differ from those obtained in 1872. The Lieutenant-Governor has had under consideration a proposal to make a fresh enumeration of the people in selected parts of the country, in order to test the results of the late census; and he trusts that he will be able before long to make arrangements for giving effect to this proposal.

19. Besides the above, an educational census was also taken, under the order of the Commissioner, of certain selected tracts in each district. The results tend to show that the districts south of the Ganges are better provided with schools than those to the north of the river. For the whole division, it may be said that there is an average of one school among every 1,418 persons of a school-going age, of whom nearly 3 per cent under 12 years, and 10 per cent above that age, are educated, or receiving education: about 4·4 per cent being educated in schools, and 9 per cent being self-taught, or privately educated. Mr. Bourdillon's educational census in Jehanabad, which was taken in 1873, showed that 5·1 per cent of the whole population, and 12·3 per cent of the adult males, were able to read and write.

20. The Arrah experimental farm was broken up under the Lieutenant-Governor's orders in April last. Another farm was started during the year at Poosa, chiefly with a view to the experimental cultivation of tobacco. The results of the present season's working can only be said to have been moderately successful. The matter is, however, of considerable importance, not only as regards north Behar, but also as regards North Bengal, especially the district of Rungpore, and the Lieutenant-Governor is in favour of continuing the experiment on this estate, at least for the present, as a Government measure. If it shall eventually succeed, then the further carrying on of the works can be left to private enterprise hereafter.

21. The Commissioner furnishes an interesting, though somewhat too detailed a review of the general state of the police and of crime in the division. As might have been expected, there was a considerable increase of crime. During the early part of the year there were a few grain dacoities in Chumparun, and two or three cases in Tirkoot, and there were traces of incendiarism in both districts; but with the commencement of relief operations these things ceased, and the police were left to deal with nothing more than the normal crimes of the district. The number of these, however, especially theft and burglary, increased considerably. The police were so fully occupied with famine operations, that their capacity for dealing with crime was necessarily affected. The following table shows the steady increase of cognizable crime during the past four years. It will be observed that there is a decrease only in the Sarun district:—

DISTRICTS.	Population.	TRUE CASES OF COGNIZABLE CRIME.
		1871.	1872.	1873.	1874.
Patna	1,550,038	4,183	3,908	4,134	5,328
Gya	1,049,750	2,598	3,016	4,070	5,748
Shahabad	1,723,974	1,064	2,453	3,134	3,753
Tirhoot	4,354,706	2,874	3,037	4,094	5,740
Sarun	2,063,860	2,061	3,798	3,426	3,302
Chumparun	1,440,815	1,237	1,338	1,170	1,421
Total	13,122,743	15,157	18,410	20,937	25,364

22. In non-cognizable cases there was a marked decrease. The total number of cases instituted during the year was 7,683 (517 being taken up by the Magistrates), against 8,631, showing a decrease of 1,028 cases. The falling off is attributed by the Commissioner to the new system of serving processes through peons entertained under the Court Fees Act. Mr. Bayley reports strongly in favour of the beneficial effects of this system.

23. The land revenue was collected without difficulty, notwithstanding the trying circumstances of the year. In the excise revenue there was a falling off, the revenue amounting to Rs. 12,13,615, against Rs. 13,31,633 of the previous year. The new system of taxing the materials of distillation, instead of the spirits after they are distilled, which has been very successful in the Patna district, was extended to other districts where it has not succeeded so well. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that, with proper supervision, this system will be found eventually to be superior to the old system in all districts. The actual consumption of liquor in the division is extremely small, and there is reason to believe that it is decreasing rather than increasing; it is not so satisfactory to observe that there is an increase in the consumption of ganja. The question of a further increase of the duty on this drug is still under consideration.

24. The Soane irrigation works made fair progress during the year. Both the Soane works and the Gunduck embankments gave employment to a large number of labourers in distressed parts of the country. An irrigation survey of a large area north of the Ganges is now being carried out.

25. The famine marks an important epoch in the road communications of the division, which were much improved by the relief measures. The Lieutenant-Governor has sanctioned the conversion of one of the most important roads—the Patna branch road—into a light railway or tramway. The Commissioner reports of the Durbhanga State Railway that, sanctioned in February 1874, it began to carry grain in April, and carried 40,000 tons, equal to 11,20,000 maunds of grain and fodder before the rains. “It was never intended,” he writes, “to keep it open during the rains, as permanent bridges could not be erected, and much of it was laid over low ground on the level of the country. Consequently, when the floods came in June, it was closed for public traffic till December. The surplus rolling stock, which had been brought specially for the famine, was returned, but the permanent way was left, and a sufficient rolling stock and staff to enable the authorities to open the line in December 1874, since which time it has been working successfully till the rains of 1875. It is now intended to make the line permanent, and to take a branch from it west to Mozufferpore, but the lower length of the existing line will probably have to be shifted as soon as the engineers have found a suitable site for the terminus on the Ganges.”

26. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently had occasion to review the condition of education in Behar, and to point out that Behar contrasts unfavourably in this respect with the adjoining districts of the North-Western Provinces and with Bengal. It is true that a large proportion of persons in Behar receive education, who have not been instructed in schools, but even with all allowances, the figures show that the intellectual destitution is very great. There was, however, a steady increase in the establishment of schools, and especially of primary schools, during the past year, and the Lieutenant-Governor relies with confidence on the district officers and the several district committees co-operating heartily towards the farther improvement of popular education in the province.

27. The administration of the important Wards' estates that lie within the Patna division has been successful under Mr. Bayley's observant control. Upon the ward's attaining his majority, the management of the Hutwa Raj passed from the hands of Government during the year under review. The names of those zemindars who did good service during the famine have been already noticed by the Lieutenant-Governor. In Chumparun the Magistrate bears witness that the assistance he receives from the Maharajah of Bettiah, and of his manager Mr. Gibbon, cannot be over-estimated. The Magistrates of Arrah, Patna, and Gya also bear favourable testimony to the conduct of zemindars. Sir Richard Temple regrets to find that the Magistrates of Tirhoot and Sarun have not been able to furnish a favourable account of the zemindars of their districts.

28. The Lieutenant-Governor must again record his acknowledgments to Mr. Bayley for the excellent manner in which he has always administered the affairs of this important and heavy division.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.—No 2884.

Calcutta, the 20th September 1875.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpore Division for the year 1874-75.

THE Commissioner, Mr. Robinson, has very recently taken charge of this division, and he has therefore been unable to submit a report based upon personal experience and observation.

2. The weather during the year was seasonable, and the crops sufficient. In Palamow there was an unusually abundant harvest, and it is said the people "are actually complaining of having too much food." It may be expected that this complaint will cease when the country is more opened out by the extension of the Soane Canal and by other means for the exportation of its surplus produce. Only the finer sorts of rice are grown in Palamow, and such exportation as there is finds its way to Behar for the use of the wealthier classes.

3. There is more emigration from Chota Nagpore than there is from other divisions in Bengal. During the past year the emigrants registered were—

From Hazareebagh	822
„ Lohardugga	3,075
„ Singhbhoom	52
„ Manbhoom	2,191
Total					6,140

The great majority of these were registered for the tea districts.

4. The Commissioner reports that no general progress has been made in the collection of statistics. At the same time, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that in this division, which is so backward as regards statistical information in other respects, arrangements have been carried out for obtaining vital statistics in selected areas with more successful results than have been attained elsewhere. As regards town areas, the deaths are recorded at a rate of 28·5 per thousand in Hazareebagh; 37·5 per thousand in Ranchee; 22·6 per thousand in Chybassa; and 39·5 per thousand in Puroolea. The results are less accurate in the rural areas; but at Chattra in Hazareebagh the deaths are given at 37·1, and at Pulma in Lohardugga at 29·8 per thousand. The registration of births also is at least as successful as the mortuary registration, and in all the districts the number of births considerably exceeds the number of deaths. The rate of births in the Hazareebagh district is given at 35·5 per thousand; in Lohardugga at 47·5; in Singhbhoom at 36·3; and in Manbhoom at 31·8. The difficulties that have generally been felt in Bengal in the registration of births seem to have been surmounted in Chota Nagpore in a remarkable degree. It cannot be said that these vital statistics are altogether accurate: but they approximate to accuracy, and are among the most valuable returns that have yet been collected.

5. The Commissioner should report specially to Government regarding the bhandar or granary in the Government estate of Koderma, and regarding the proposals that have been made for establishing Home-farms under the Court of Wards.

6. The present relations between landlords and tenants in this division are not such as to create apprehension, and there is no reason to regret the fact, upon which more than one of the Deputy Commissioners lays stress, that the cultivators are ready to show more independence now than formerly. The existing rents of land are very low, and there is a natural tendency on the part of the landlord to raise the rent, and on the part of the tenant to keep it down. The number of rent suits is increasing, and the area under cultivation and the prices of produce are also increasing. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner in thinking that such symptoms as these are not necessarily unfavorable. "A country," writes Mr. Robinson, "cannot make much progress if every one pays only the same rent as his ancestors paid; and in my opinion it is by no means a bad thing that there should be a moderate rise in the rent of land."

7. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that, while there is a falling off in the excise revenue from country spirits, there has been an increase in the consumption of ganjah. The same result has been reported from several divisions in Bengal, and it appears that the time has come when another increase should be imposed on the duty now levied on this deleterious drug.

8. The Chota Nagpore Division is unavoidably very deficient in measures of education. New schools are being opened, but the total number of primary schools is still very small. The Lieutenant-Governor has already given his consent, under certain conditions, to the establishment of a High School at Ranchi, and it is hoped that the local aid necessary for carrying this scheme into effect will be given by the people. The Director of Public Instruction has also recommended, and the Lieutenant-Governor has agreed, that a normal school of the 1st grade should be sanctioned at Ranchi, and when this measure is carried out, the present difficulty of obtaining trained schoolmasters should no longer be felt.

9. The Commissioner has made no observations upon the conduct of zemindars, or on the services of subordinate officers. It is desirable that these subjects should be treated in the General Administration Report, and not in the Crime Report, as laid down in the Instructions of the late Lieutenant-Governor under cover of circular No. 4, dated 30th January 1873, regarding the preparation of Administration Reports.

10. The high estimation in which the services of the late Commissioner, Colonel Dalton, were held by the Government of Bengal has been already recorded. The Lieutenant-Governor is confident that the present Commissioner will carefully maintain the existing status of affairs, while cautiously and judiciously introducing such improvements as circumstances may render desirable.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CHITTAGONG PORT FUND FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MARINE.—No. 2835.

Calcutta, the 16th September 1875.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Chittagong Port Fund for the year 1874-75.

The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the report for the year does not exhibit a tendency towards the prosperity anticipated two or three years ago. Both the year under report and the preceding year have been more or less unfavorable. Combined with a decrease in the receipts, the accounts show also a decrease in the number of nearly every class of vessel usually trading with the port. The only exceptions to this statement are in the case of European vessels coming direct from Europe, which show an increase of eight ships and tonnage of 5,788, and a small increase in the tonnage of trading steamers and ballam boats. The decrease in receipts, which is however trifling, amounting only to Rs. 1,578, is accounted for partly by vessels having to depart without cargoes, owing to the high price demanded by holders of rice and paddy, and partly to the adverse weather of February and March preventing the arrival of grain from the interior until the termination of the year. The increase of eighteen trading steamers was due to brisk competition for a time between two rival companies for the native passenger traffic, whilst the increase in the tonnage of ballam boats is attributable to the use of a larger class of boat and the reduction of the port dues two years ago.

2. Both dutiable and free exports shared in the general decline: the former to the amount of Rs. 5,30,897, and the latter to that of Rs. 12,55,880. Imports of earth-oil also showed the same tendency, but the salt imports improved by 5,709 tons.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice the report of the success of the measures adopted to preserve the Kotubdea Light-house from the encroachments of the sea. The suggestions thrown out by the Commissioner in paragraph 24 will be communicated to the Public Works Department for consideration. His Honor will look forward to the receipt of a further report on this subject, as well as on that of the improvement of the Moheskhally canal and of the river Kurnafuolee.

4. Amidst the general depression, it is satisfactory to find that there is an improvement in the balance of the Port Fund, although it amounts only to the small sum of Rs. 300.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

• COURAGEOUS CONDUCT OF JOY NATH SIL.

No 128, dated Dacca, the 30th August 1875.

Memo by—F. B. PEACOCK, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

Copy submitted to the Government of Bengal for orders. I am not aware whether Government ever gives rewards in cases like the present, but if it does, this would seem one meriting recognition.

No. 1760, dated Dacca, the 26th August 1875.

From—D. R. LYALL, Esq., Officiating Magistrate of Dacca,

To—The Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

I HAVE the honor to report the conduct of an old man named Joy Nath Sil, with a view to a proper recognition of his acts from Government.

A girl named Hulashi and her aunt, Saboo, went to bathe in the Esamutty in the end of June last. The force of the current drew Hulashi off her footing, and in her attempts to get at her niece, the aunt, too, was drawn into the stream.

Joy Nath heard their cries, and though he is an old man (the police state his age to be 65) at once swam to the rescue. He succeeded in dragging the aunt to shore, though she nearly drowned him in her struggles, and at once went to try and save the girl also. He failed to find her, as she had finally sunk.

Courage of this kind is so uncommon that I think it deserves notice. The river at that season is fast-running, about 20 feet deep, with very abrupt banks.

I would suggest a medal and a pecuniary reward.

No. 2645T., dated Darjeeling, the 15th September 1875.

From—R. L. MANGLES, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Judicial Dept.,
To—The Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 128 of the 30th ultimo, with its enclosure, from the Magistrate of Dacca, and in reply to state that the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to authorize you to pay the sum of Rs. 25 to Joy Nath Sil as a reward for his courageous and humane conduct in attempting to rescue two persons who were being carried away, while bathing, by the strong current of the Esamutty river, and in saving the life of one of them.

2. I am to request that, when presenting this reward, you will also furnish the recipient with a suitable certificate.

3. The Accountant-General will be requested to adjust the amount.

4. A copy of the correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

RULES REGARDING BURIALS.

No. 2—275.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Ecclesiastical), —under date Simla, the 8th September 1875.

READ the undermentioned correspondence relative to a proposed revision of the rules at present in force for the guidance of Chaplains of the Church of England in regard to the burial of such persons as have laid violent hands upon themselves; and of those who, having been members of the Roman Catholic Church, have been refused burial by the Priests of that Church:—

From Government of Fort St. George, No. 142, dated 12th June 1874, and
No. 203, dated 28th August 1874.

To Solicitor to Government, No. 327, dated 22nd September 1874.

From " " " 2316, " 26th " "

From the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, dated 13th January 1875. "

RESOLUTION.

THE first question was raised by the refusal of the Rev. C. H. Deane, Chaplain of Bangalore, to read the funeral service over a person who was found by a Court of Inquest to have committed suicide while in a state of temporary insanity.

* To Mr. Knox, dated 2nd January 1874.

2. The subjoined letter* from the Rev. C. H. Deane sets forth the ground of his refusal:—

"When I answered your memorandum about the interment of the remains of the late Sergeant Spiers of the 18th Hussars, I was not aware that he had committed suicide. If, as I understand, there is no doubt that he poisoned himself, I regret to say that I shall not be able to officiate at his funeral. The Rubric before the burial service distinctly forbids it to be used for any that 'have laid violent hands upon themselves,' so that I have no option in the matter. The grave will be ready at 5 p.m., but no service can be used."

† To the Acting Chief Secretary to the Government of Fort St. George, No. 483, dated 24th March 1874.

3. The view taken of the question by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Madras is stated in the subjoined letter†:—

"I am directed by the Right Rev. the Bishop of Madras to acknowledge your communication of the 17th ultimo, forwarding copy of a letter from the Deputy Adjutant-General transmitting correspondence relative to the Rev. C. H. Deane's refusal to read the funeral service over the late Sergeant Spiers, 18th Hussars, who committed suicide.

2. "In reply, I am desired to state that Mr. Deane seems to have been requested to perform the funeral without having been furnished with the customary death-report, or any intimation that it was a case of suicide.

3. "The Coroner's warrant in itself appears to be 'no more than a certificate that the body is not demanded by the law, and that therefore the relations may dispose of it as they please.'—(Wheatly on the Book of Common Prayer.) It does not, therefore, indicate the duty of a clergyman, or place him under legal obligation to give to a body Christian burial.

4. "In keeping with this view, the Government Notification in Fort St. George Gazette, June 11th, 1850, page 623, when it intimates that 'the Reverend Chaplains will in future consider the warrant of the Coroner for the interment of a body on which an inquest has been held to be a sufficient authority for their performance of the burial service over it,' adds, 'if it would be their duty under ordinary circumstances to perform that service.'

5. "What is the duty of a Clergyman when requested to bury a person who has committed suicide is to be ascertained partly from the Rubrics of our Church, which are binding upon the Clergy and have the force of law; and partly from the limitations of recognized legal commentators.

6. "The Rubric at the opening of 'the Order for the Burial of the Dead' forbids a Clergyman 'to use that service for any that have laid violent hands upon themselves.'

7. "In Burn's Ecclesiastical Law it is laid down: 'of this sort (suicide) are to be understood not all who have procured death unto themselves, but who have done it voluntarily, and consequently have died in the commission of a mortal sin; and not idiots, lunatics, or persons otherwise of insane mind.'

8. "In the same book it is also stated that 'the proper judges whether persons who died of their own hands were out of their senses are doubtless the Coroner's jury.'

9. "In the case under consideration, it appears that the Rev. Mr. Deane, having regard only to the Rubric and in foro conscientie accounting himself responsible for the interpretation of it, refused to bury the corpse even when he knew that the Coroner's jury had returned a verdict of 'temporary insanity.'

10. "In this refusal, I am instructed to state that Mr. Deane has not, so far as the Bishop can ascertain, violated any law, but he has departed from a recognised custom in not accepting the verdict of the Coroner's jury as a justification for the using of the Church's Service over the remains of Sergeant Spiers.

11. "Mr. Cripps, in his Practical Treatise on the Law relating to the Church and the Clergy (Ed. 1869),* states,—'No case appears ever to have occurred in which a Clergyman who has refused to bury the corpse of one who has committed suicide in insanity has been punished by the Ecclesiastical Law.' At the same time he adds—'It must be doubtful whether a departure from a custom of such acknowledged propriety would not be visited with ecclesiastical punishment.'

12. "In the absence of any Court competent to visit, with ecclesiastical punishment, the Bishop desires me to point out that it is very painful to a laborious and conscientious clergyman, such as Mr. Deane is, to deny the last offices of the church to one who has been under his spiritual charge, and it must, the Bishop thinks, be allowed that there was much in the circumstances of the present case to support the conclusion at which Mr. Deane arrived. I am, therefore, directed to say that His Lordship is disposed to take a lenient view of Mr. Deane's action, and the more so as those who are endeavouring to check the prevalence of intemperance in the army can ill afford to lose any aid which a Clergyman in the honest discharge of his duty can lawfully render."

4. The Government of Madras referred the whole correspondence for the information and orders of the Government of India.

5. The following brief statement of the English Law will be found sufficient for the present purpose: By Common Law, Christian persons are entitled to burial with the rites of the Church. The statutes passed from time to time for the uniformity of public worship, have proceeded upon, though not expressly dealing with this state of things. The 68th of the Canons of 1603 recognizes it, and enjoins the clergy to act upon it. In that Canon occurs the exception of persons excommunicated for some grievous and notorious crime, and of whose repentance no testimony could be given. The Canons of 1603 are no part of the Statute Law, and it is only in a qualified sense that they are part of the law at all. But this Canon has been taken as truly expressing the ancient Common Law of the Church. The books of Common Prayer have been embodied into the Statute Law by the various Acts of Uniformity, and the Rubrics are authoritative guides when they speak on the question when the services are or are not to be used.

6. Down to the year 1661 there was no Rubric forbidding the performance of the Burial Service over any persons, except persons excommunicated. The Rubric now in force was framed in the year 1661, and received the force of law from the Uniformity Act of 1662. It prescribes that "the office is not to be used for persons unbaptised or excommunicated, or who have laid violent hands on themselves."

7. The question now is whether the expression "have laid violent hands on themselves" includes all who have committed the overt act of suicide, or only those who have done so deliberately, being in their sound senses, and in a state in which moral responsibility attaches to them.

8. In Mr. Cripps's *Treatise the following statement is made:—

"The uniform practice, however, so far as it has been able to be ascertained, is in accordance with the reasoning and opinion of Dr. Burn, and it must be doubtful whether a departure from a custom of such acknowledged propriety would not be visited with ecclesiastical punishment.

9. The opinion of Dr. Burn will be found in his work on Ecclesiastical Law, vol. I, page 265. After referring to the ancient Canon which forbade Christian burial to those who violently put themselves to death, and stating that this rule was understood to apply to those who did the act voluntarily, Dr. Burn intimates that the Rubric should not be construed as severer than the preceding Ecclesiastical Law, and therefore should not apply to persons of insane mind.

10. In the year 1809 the Court of Archos, speaking of the treatment of suicides puts it on the ground that they are supposed to die in the commission of mortal sin, and to have renounced Christianity. Kemp vs. Wickes, 3 Phillimore, pages 272-273.

11. The Government of India have not been referred to, and do not know of any authority for holding that the works of the Rubric apply to persons who are not responsible for their actions. It is certain that the practice has been not to apply these words in that way.

12. Under the circumstances, the Governor-General in Council comes to the following conclusions :

(a)—It is reasonable in this matter to regulate the conduct of Clergymen of the Church of England, who serve the Government of India, by the law and practice of the Church of England.

(b)—There is no authority for holding that the Rubric under consideration applies to those who have caused their own death when in a state of mental insanity. For holding the contrary, there is the authority of commentators and of judicial dicta. There is also the much greater authority derived from a usage which is very widespread and long-continued, if indeed it is not quite unbroken. Testing the question by reason, it is only reasonable to hold that the framers of this Rubric did not intend, as regards the burial of suicides, to alter the law and practice that they found in existence, or to visit with what must be considered as an ecclesiastical penalty, an act for which the doer is not responsible.

(c)—Sincere respect is due to the scruples felt by conscientious men in performing a service of extreme solemnity. Nevertheless, it would not be reasonable that such scruples should prevail against the ancient law and practice of the Church of England which has been handed down to the present time, and which plainly authorizes the use of the burial service over persons who have caused their own death while in a state of insanity.

13. The Governor-General in Council must therefore require from all Clergymen connected with the Government their conformity to this ruling.

14. The next point for consideration is the rule requiring Chaplains to read the funeral service over the bodies of persons who, having died in the profession of the Roman Catholic faith, have been refused burial by the Priests of that Church. It is stated by the Bishops of Calcutta and Madras that the clergy of the Church of England look upon the rule as bearing hardly upon them, and they desire to have it reconsidered.

15. This rule was laid down in the year 1855, under the belief that the case was governed by positive law, viz. the 68th of the Canons of 1603. But on reconsideration of the matter, the Governor-General in Council is of opinion (1) that the Canon in question, which is founded on the English parochial system, cannot, for the purpose now under consideration, be applied to the very different circumstances of an Indian station; and (2) that even if it were applicable, it would not prevent the Government from establishing a different rule of conduct for Indian Chaplains if found expedient.

16. The Governor-General in Council further thinks that, for the case now under review, a different rule is expedient. The Chaplain of an Indian station does not stand to the residents in the station in the relation which the parson of an English parish bears to his parishioners. It was expressly so ruled by the Court of Directors in their despatch on this subject, bearing date the 30th October 1844. Chaplains have been ordered to abstain from endeavours to influence the religious tenets of Roman Catholic soldiers, and in one case a Chaplain was compelled to resign the service for persisting in such endeavours.

17. As regards the Chaplains themselves, it does not seem consistent that they should be compelled to perform duties towards the corpse of a man whom, when living, they were forbidden to approach in any pastoral relation, and the Governor-General in Council admits that the dissatisfaction which the Chaplains have felt with the order of 1855 rests on reasonable grounds.

18. As regards other persons, it can hardly be agreeable to the feelings of either Protestants or Roman Catholics that the Chaplain should be called in to supply a service which the Priest has refused. To Protestants it must seem that in so acting their Church is lax and careless about the performance of its solemn rites. To Roman Catholics it can hardly be otherwise than offensive that a stranger, who in their eyes has no authority, should affect to give to a member of their Church what the recognized authority of that Church has thought fit to withhold. And neither community can wish it on account of any advantage to the dead man: not Protestants, because the whole notion of such an advantage is contrary to their tenets; and not Roman Catholics, because they do not attribute any spiritual character to the Chaplain.

19. For the above reasons, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to revoke the order issued in the year 1855, and he will request the Military authorities to make arrangements for the decent burial of Roman Catholic soldiers to whom the rites of their Church have been refused by the Priests.

ORDER.—Ordered, that copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and to the Foreign and Military Departments for information and any further orders that may be necessary.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 18th September 1875.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1 Burdwan, Sept. 20,* '75	1.74	Rainfall at Raneegunge .59, Jehanabad 1.07, Culna 1.02, Boodhood 1.05, Cutwa .65. Prospects of crops are very good. Early rice is being still reaped. Public health as before.
	2 Bankoora, „ 18, „	1.09	Partial showers throughout the district. State and prospects of the crops are very good.
	3 Beerbhoom, „ 18, „	1.20	Comparatively dry weather. State and prospects of the crops continue excellent.
	4 Midnapore, „ 18, „	1.60	Being well distributed, the rainfall is better than it looks, and the weather is all that could be desired for agricultural purposes. All very good. Another month of such weather, and the harvest will be the best it has been for years.
	5 Hooghly, „ 18, „	.72	Rainfall at Chinsurah .39, Banabereah 1.13, Dhuneakhally 3.10, Serampore .92, Chunditolla .60, Humpal 2.09, Pandooah 1.85, and Kristonagore .77. Rain wanted. State and prospects of the crops are very good. General health fair. A few cases of small-pox and of cholera, but only in places. Fever about the same.
	Howrah, „ 18, „	.29	Favorable weather. No change to report. Everything continues to be very well.
Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVN.	6 24-Perghs., Sept. 20,† '75	1.04	Seasonable weather. The early rice has been nearly all cut; it has been a bumper crop. The cultivators declare that the prospects of the late rice are better than they have been for some years. With a continuation of favorable weather a full crop may be looked for. Fever increasing at Barripore and Sudder sub-division.
	7 Nuddea, „ 18, „	.90	Occasional slight showers; storms two or three times in the week. Early rice harvest turning out very well. At present the prospects of the late rice are good.
	8 Jessore, „ 18, „	.65	Weather fair, with slight rain. The early rice has been harvested under favorable circumstances in the northern part of the district; in Khoolna and Bagerhat reaping is still going on. All reports regarding late rice are favorable.
	9 Moorshedabad, „ 18, „	.88	Seasonable weather. Late rice continue to be promising. Early rice in high lands is still being harvested. Kalai pulse and indigo being sown in the Deera lands. Much fever prevalent at Lalbaugh sub-division. Cholera in Burwa. Health otherwise good. The river is again rising, but there is no longer any fear of inundation.
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.	10 Dinagepore, „ 17, „	1.27	Rainfall according to Magistrate's raingange 1.78. Heavy rain on the 10th, and none since. Bhadoi harvesting is nearly over; fair crop; no account taken of what was entirely destroyed by drought. Late rice transplanting nearly completed; jute much cut; fair crop. Much fever at head-quarters and Neetpore, and probably elsewhere, though from some places reports say health is good. Outbreak of cholera in Poteeram; lately 22 deaths reported.
	11 Maldah, „ 18, „	.13	During the first part of the week a good deal of rain has fallen in the interior. In the latter part the weather has been fair, with some rain, and seasonable for the crops. The reaping of the early autumn rice has not yet been finished. The winter rice crop is doing well.
	12 Rajshahye, „ 18, „	2.88	Light rains have been general. On the night of the 13th instant there was a heavy downpour in the Sudder and Tanore stations, and in the jurisdiction of Taherpore outpost. The harvesting of the early rice is still going on in a very few places in the district. In the Manda thana the crop has been a full average crop. The cutting of the jute crop is nearly finished; the yield is about 12 annas. The late rice, both transplanted and sown broadcast, continues to promise well. In the north of the district the rapid fall of the rivers has caused some apprehension of injury to the rice crop. Kalai pulse has been sown. Ten cases of cholera reported during the week; four proved fatal.

* Telegram of the 20th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—(Contd.)
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.—(Contd.)	13 Rungpore, Sept. 17, '75	·80	Weather clear and hot, with a few light showers. The high lands are getting into bad order for want of rain. In the low lands the crops are all right. Rain is now urgently wanted.
	14 Bogra, „ 18, „	1·75	Weather fair, with occasional rains and strong winds. Everything goes on well.
	15 Pubna, „ 18, „	·45	Weather clear and fine. Water in rivers and beels is falling rapidly. Harvest of the early rice is finished. A fair average crop has been secured. State and prospects of the crops continue good.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, „ 17, „	·78	There has been very little rain during the week. The weather has been bright and pleasant, and apparently the rains are breaking up. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 18, „	3·59	The rainfall of this week was almost exclusively on one day. After the previous week's drought it was very welcome. Five days have passed since almost without rain, and anxiety is felt on account of the freshly planted seedlings of the main rice crop. There were three fatal cases of cholera in the jail, which have not been followed by others. A few cases occur in the interior, here and there, and from time to time, without apparent connection.
	Cooch Behar, „ 18, „	1·42	Weather very hot; there was not much rain during the week. The prospects of the late rice crop continue good.
Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Sept. 20,* '75	1·28	Seasonable weather. Crops good.
	19 Fureedpore, „ 18, „	1·14	Hot weather still continues. There was a little rain during the week. The inundation is greatly on the decrease. The condition of the crops, as also the general health of the district, continues good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 16, „	1·78	Some rain has fallen. State and prospects of the crops are all well.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 17, „	·17	Occasional showers, followed by strong sunshine. The weather is favorable for the progress of the late rice crop.
	22 Tipperah, „ 17, „	1·58	Weather sunny, with occasional showers of rain. The inundation has subsided considerably, and a good deal of late rice has been planted out, except in those villages in which the inundation was very severe. The crops will be good.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23 Chittagong, „ 16, „	3·82	Weather very hot and close. Rainfall at Cox's Bazar 9·75 inches. Transplantation of late rice not yet finished. It is very late. All crops are well reported of.
	24 Noakholly, „ 16, „	5·11	Bright sunshiny weather. Rain at intervals, with strong gusts of southerly wind. The reaping of the early rice crop and the transplantation of the late rice are not yet fully completed. The latter is reported to be progressing favorably.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts „ „	...	Return not received.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 16, „	·87	Very little rain during the week, and weather hot and oppressive. Late rice is still being planted. Public health good, except in Koilashur, where it is said that fever prevails all over the country.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, Sept. 20,* „	3·01	Unsettled weather; showers and sunshine at intervals. Bhadoi crops being harvested. Prospects of rice crops are favorable, except in certain parts to the south of the district, where rainfall is reported to have been very scanty. Health good.
	27 Gya, „ 18, „	1·05	Cloudy, with easterly wind, but rain partial. Highest reading of thermometer was 94·0. Complaints of want of rain in Jehanabad and parts of Gya sub-division; in the former especially, where the rice crop is parched, and withering in many places. Prospects good elsewhere.
	28 Shahabad, „ 18, „	1·16	Weather cloudy, with strong wind and occasional showers of rain; heavier in the south. Bhadoi crops are being reaped, and all reports of them are good. Aghani , or late rice, promises well in most of the district, but in the south-east of the head-quarters sub-division rain will soon be urgently required.
	29 Durbhunga, Sept. 18, „	2·08	There was a heavy storm of wind and rain on the night of Sunday, the 12th; otherwise the week has been fine. Prospects of the crops are generally favorable. Paddy crop on high lands of Mudhoobunnee still requires more rain. Detailed reports show that considerable damage to the bhadoi crops on Dearah lands to the south of the district has resulted from the late floods.

* Telegrams of the 20th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.)	80 Mozufferpore, Sept. 18, '75	·96	Fair weather. In Mozufferpore sub-division the prospects are favorable. Bhadoi crops in some places are being harvested. About Seetamarhee the prospects are not good; the bhadoi crops are poor; and 2 and 3 annas of the dhan crops have not been planted. In Pooori and Shewher jurisdictions the prospects are very fair. The rainfall has been 1·11 inches. In Hajeeopore sub-division the prospects of crops are satisfactory. Rainfall 2·22 inches.
	81 Sarun, „ 18, „	1·42	Rainfall at Sewan 2·20 inches. Weather changeable; showers of rain and sunshine at intervals. There has been more or less rain throughout the district. The bhadoi crops are being harvested with good outturn. Transplanting of rice going on. In low lands the crop is doing well. In high lands more rain is still wanted. Manufacture of indigo " khoote " (second cuttings) going on; outturn favorable. General health good.
	82 Champaran, „ 17, „	3·8	The weather has been generally very favorable throughout the past week. But more rain is wanted for a small strip of country in the south-east of the district. The prospects of the crops are generally most excellent, and if there is a heavy fall of rain before the end of the month, there will certainly be a full sixteen annas yield everywhere. The bhadoi is being cut, and the yield is everywhere very large.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	83 Monghyr, „ 18, „	·12	Seasonable weather. Bhadoi outturn fair generally. The rice everywhere is looking well.
	84 Bhagulpore, „ 20, „	·08	Harvesting of the bhadoi crop is nearly over, and the abundant outturn is selling very cheap. Late rice prospects up to date are very good, except in the north-east corner. Cholera abated in town, but is prevalent in villages in the Banka sub-division. Elsewhere general health is very good.
	85 Purneah, „ 18, „	·05	Weather very hot and sultry. Rain is much needed. The early rice has been harvested, and a good crop secured; but loud complaints are being made on account of the want of rain; and the late rice crop will suffer considerably unless some falls soon.
	86 Sonthal Pergha „ 18, „	1·51	Rainfall at Rajmehal 5·4, Deoghur ·57, Jamtara ·32, Godda 1·25. The change in the weather reported last week was only local. On Wednesday clouds and rain came back. All sub-divisional reports are very good. Country on the Soory border is said to look very dry, but rice is flourishing. Insects said to have attacked early rice in Jamtara. Cholera decreasing.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, „ 11, „	3·56	Occasional heavy showers, but fair weather between. Rainfall at Jajpore 4·46 inches. Early rice crop being reaped; late rice coming on well, though it has been slightly damaged by flood in a few places. Public health unimproving.
	38 Pooree „ „	Return not received.
	39 Balasore, „ 17, „	3·80	Weather during the first half of the week was calm; during the second half, singularly squally and threatening; heavy showers of rain have fallen at short intervals. At the time of report it looked like confirmed wet weather. The straw of that portion of the early rice which now awaits the sickle will probably be spoilt. Fortunately, however, the extent of this crop is small. The prospects of the main rice crop continue excellent.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareenbagh, Sept. 17, '75	2·88	The first half of the week was very wet, then fine and pleasant. The early rice, goondli millet, and in parts marwah millet, being cut and carried. Average returns very fair. Prospects of late rice unchanged.
41	Lohardugga, „ 18, „	1·66	Very boisterous weather; strong east wind and light rain. The bhadoi crops are still being harvested. The prospects of the late rice crop are excellent throughout the district, but more rain is said to be wanted in Palamow. Cholera much abated.
42	Singbhoom, „ 17, „	1·26	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are very favorable. District healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 18, „	·20	Favourable weather. State and prospects of crops are very promising on the whole. The District Superintendent, Deputy Magistrate, and Officiating Assistant Commissioner in charge of Gobindpore, who have been out in the district, express the greatest hopes in regard to the crops. The area of cultivation is so great this year that the outturn will not be much affected by the blight previously reported. The spring, more properly rain, harvest has been good. The crops for the cold weather—oil-seed, karti buri , &c.,—are being sown.

* Telegram of the 20th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

NOTIFICATION.

The 7th September 1875.—The following rules, framed by the Board of Revenue, L.P. under Section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act) of 1871, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information.

H. J. S. COTTON,
Offg. Jr. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules framed by the Board of Revenue, L. P., with the consent of the Local Government, under Section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act), 1871.

PRELIMINARY.

THE rules governing service pensions, extraordinary pensions, and gratuities for service not entitling to pension, are contained in the Civil Pension Code published under the authority of the Government of India. The following instructions therefore apply to territorial and political pensions only, disbursed through the revenue authorities.

SECTION II.

THE PLACE AND TIMES AT WHICH, AND THE PERSONS TO WHOM, PENSIONS ARE TO BE PAID.

1. As a general rule, pensions are payable at the district treasury upon which a permanent payable order has been issued by the Accountant-General.

2. But pensioners residing within any sub-division of a district, and not under Clause 8 of this Section, exempted from attendance in person, may, by presenting themselves monthly before the Sub-divisional Officer, obtain payment of their pensions by cheque upon the sub-divisional treasure chest, their attendance on each occasion at the district head-quarters being dispensed with. In these cases the responsibility of the District Officer will remain undisturbed, and payment will not be made till the Sub-divisional Officer, having forwarded the pensioner's receipt and his life certificate to the District Officer, obtains in return a cheque for the amount of pension due.

3. Moreover, once in every six months the permanent orders of every sub-division will be recalled to the head-quarters of the district, and pensioners will be required to present themselves for payment before the District Officer.

4. A Commissioner may, on application and on sufficient cause shown, permit transfer of payment from a treasury in his division to any other treasury in British India. This power does not extend to political pensions in cases where the pensioner resides, by order of Government, in a particular place.

5. Copy of the order directing the transfer should be forwarded by the Commissioner to the Accountant-General, Bengal, together with a brief narrative of the origin and particulars of the pension; and the District Officer of the district from which the payment is transferred, should be instructed to return his portion of the permanent payable order to the Accountant-General. The Accountant-General will then issue a fresh permanent payable order to the officer who will in future pay the pension, or, if that officer belongs to another province, will move the Accountant-General of such province to do so.

6. As a rule, pensions shall be paid monthly.

7. Should a pensioner neglect or omit to apply for payment for six months, the District Officer shall obtain the sanction of the Commissioner before paying the arrears or continuing the payment of the pension for the future. Should the neglect or omission to apply for payment extend to one year, the sanction of the Board of Revenue must be obtained. When an interval of two years has been allowed to elapse, the case must be laid before Government for orders.

8. Except in the cases specified below, pensioners must appear in person, at the time of taking payment of their pensions:—

(a) Pensioners of rank, who may be exempted by order of Government from appearing personally before the District Officer;

(b) Female pensioners, who, according to custom, cannot with propriety appear in public; and

(c) Pensioners who are disabled from appearing by illness or bodily infirmity.

In cases (b) and (c) the Commissioners shall have power to grant exemption from personal attendance.

9. Pensions of pensioners of rank, specially exempted by Government, shall be paid to an agent holding a power-of-attorney, upon the production of the permanent order and of a separate receipt.

10. Pensions of pensioners exempted under heads (b) and (c) of Clause 8 of this Section may be paid to an agent on their behalf on production of a life certificate signed by an officer of Government, or by some other well-known and trustworthy person, of the permanent order, and of a separate receipt.

11. Commissioners may authorize the payment of arrears due to a deceased pensioner (after such investigations as shall satisfy them of the actual date of the pensioner's demise, and that the persons applying for the arrears due are his legal heirs) in cases in which the arrear is due for a period not exceeding one year. When the arrear is due for a period exceeding one year, reference shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

SECTION III.

ENQUIRIES INTO THE IDENTITY OF CLAIMANTS.

1. Pensioners who appear in person to receive payment must be identified by comparison with the particulars given in the portion of the permanent payable order kept by the disbursing officer, who should take every precaution against fraudulent personation. Females, or respectable male pensioners, who may reasonably object to appear at his public office, may be identified by him in private, or at his own house.

2. In the case of female pensioners not exempted from personal attendance under Clause 8 of Section II, a female may be employed to assist in the identification.

3. In the case of pensioners exempted from attendance under Clause 8 of Section 2, the disbursing officer must take all possible precautions to prevent imposition, and must, before the first payment in each year, require proof, not only of the existence of the pensioner, but also, when the exemption is based on the ground of illness or bodily infirmity, of the pensioner's inability to appear. The opportunities afforded by visits, and by the cold-weather tours of European officers, should be taken advantage of to verify the continued existence of such male pensioners as are exempted from personal attendance.

4. When a pensioner can write, his signature on the receipt should be compared with that on the disbursing officer's portion of the permanent payable order at the time of payment.

5. In all cases of exemption of male pensioners from personal attendance to draw their pensions, if the disbursing officer entertains any doubt, which he has no convenient means of removing, he should refer the case to the Commissioner for orders. Payment of the pension, however, should not be suspended pending the result of such reference.

SECTION IV.

DELIVERY OF CERTIFICATES TO PENSIONERS.

1. On the receipt, by the disbursing officer of the permanent payable order, he shall summon the pensioner, and on his appearing, shall make over to him his portion of the permanent payable order, and explain to him at what times he can draw his pension, and how he must proceed for the purpose. No other certificate need be given.

2. When the pensioner is exempted from appearance in person under Clause 8, Section 2, the permanent order may be made over to any person authorized to act on the pensioner's behalf.

3. When the pensioner's portion of the permanent payable order is much worn, or its back is filled with entries of payment, he should return it to the disbursing officer, who will forward both portions of the order to the Accountant-General, and obtain from him a duplicate order bearing the same number and date.

4. If the pensioner loses his portion, the disbursing officer's half may be returned to the Accountant-General, who will issue a duplicate order, bearing the same number and date as the original.

SECTION V.

RECORDS TO BE KEPT ON THE SUBJECT OF PENSIONS, CORRECTION AND TRANSMISSION OF SUCH RECORDS, AND REGISTERS OF CERTIFICATES DELIVERED TO PENSIONERS.

1. In each Collectorate a list of pensions shall be kept up in the form given in Appendix A. (N.B.—This will take the place of Register 55.)

2. All pensions not drawn for two years shall be struck off this register. If renewed by order of Government, a fresh entry will be made in the register.

3. Should a pension not be claimed for six months, the counterpart of the permanent order shall be returned to the Accountant-General.

If the pensioner afterwards appear, the District Officer may, subject to the rule contained in Clause 7, Section 2, reclaim the permanent order and renew the payment, and, subject to the same rule, may make payment of arrears.

4. Upon the death of a pensioner, the Collector should at once report the circumstance to the Accountant-General and return the original permanent order to his office.

5. When pensions are granted the Accountant-General issues permanent payable orders to the disbursing officer of the station at which the pension is payable, directing him to pay periodically, until further notice, the amount of the pension upon the production of the counterpart of the order and a separate receipt according to the prescribed form. These orders should be entered in the register of permanent orders prescribed by the Comptroller-General in his Circular No. 171, dated 15th April 1874.

6. When under Clauses 2 and 3, Section 2, payment of any pension is permitted at a sub-division, the permanent order of such pension shall be forwarded to the sub-division, a note to that effect being made in the register of permanent orders at the head-quarters station. At each sub-division a register of permanent order so received shall be kept up in the same form as the register prescribed for the head-quarters station.

7. Upon presentation of a claim for payment, the Collector should at once record the sum paid upon the permanent order, and enter the amount in the cash-book, and submit the separate receipt (Appendix B) with his treasury account to the Accountant-General, as a voucher in support of the charge.

SECTION VI.

DISPOSAL OF CLAIMS TO RIGHT OF SUCCESSION TO, OR TO PARTICIPATION IN, PENSIONS OR GRANTS, AND GRANT OF CERTIFICATE TO CIVIL COURT IN CERTAIN CASES.

1. The Board of Revenue is competent to sanction the continuance of hereditary pensions when the hereditary title has been already recognised by Government or decreed by a competent court of justice. But it is to be borne in mind that the Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the permanent settlement, and that if a pension has unadvisedly been continued to heirs, the hereditary nature of the gratuity may, on the death of the incumbent, again be questioned.

2. As a general principle, pecuniary grants will not be continued after the death of the parties in whose favour they were originally made. Pensioners whose pensions are granted for life only, and are resumable at their decease, are to be in no way encouraged by the local officers to hope that their pensions will be continued to their heirs, and thereby induced to neglect making a proper provision for their families. The Board is to submit to Government for decision any case in which it may be of opinion, on the decease of a life-pensioner, that the pension, or any part thereof, should be continued to the heirs.

3. The principles laid down in the memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, printed in Appendix C, are, under the orders of Government, to be followed in recommending, or deciding upon, the continuance or discontinuance to heirs of the various classes of pensions with which the memorandum deals.

4. As a rule, the distribution of pensions is irrespective of Hindu or Mahomedan law, and dependent on the pleasure of Government only.

In cases where the original grant of a pension to two or more persons was joint and undivided, the survivor or survivors will be considered entitled to retain only an exact half, or lesser share, according to circumstances, of the whole sum, without reference to sex.

5. But when the grant was of a specific sum annually payable in perpetuity and unconditionally, the District Officer may, with the sanction of the Commissioner and the Board of Revenue, grant a certificate to the civil court under Section 6, Act XXIII of 1871, where the question at issue is the right of one or other of two parties to receive any portion of such grant.

APPENDIX C.

(See Section 6, Clause 3.)

Memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, on pensions and charitable or other allowances, dated 12th May 1845.

THE Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the permanent settlement.

Section 74, Regulation VIII, 1793, provided "with respect to any of the existing established zemindari charges, such as pensions, charitable or other allowances, which it may be thought proper to continue, they shall be paid by the Collectors, &c."

Regulation XXIV, 1793, prescribed the rules for determining their continuance or discontinuance; the fundamental principle being that all such pensions and allowances were gratuitous.

The following are the principal provisions of that Regulation:—

"Pensions received by virtue of sunnuds granted before the Dewanny, or since granted with the sanction of Government, and pensions received from before 1179 (Country Era), to be continued to the grantees or original holders. But if the grantees or original holders be dead, the pensions not to be continued to their heirs or descendants without the sanction of Government; and—

"No pension after the death of the person then entitled to it to be continued to his descendants without the like sanction, whether the grant was, in either case, according to the terms of it, hereditary or otherwise.

"Whenever Government orders the continuance of a pension, whether to the original holders or his heir, the Collector to give him a certificate, stating the title of the party thereto during his or her life.

"The Collector to keep a register of these certificates, noting therein such personal identifications of the parties as might detect any attempt to transfer the certificate to others.

"The pensions and allowances being gratuitous, the determining upon the continuance or discontinuance of them under the rules prescribed reserved to Government."

It appears to me plain that according to this Regulation every pension confirmed was to be confirmed as a life pension only, and that on the death of any pensioners the case of any new claimant was to be submitted to Government for its determination.

Section 6 of Regulation XXIV, 1803 (Ceded Provinces), provided that pensions granted to fakers and other religious persons for the purpose of lighting mausoleums or mosques, or for that of repairing them, as also to enable them to perform their religious ceremonies usual in the Mohurum, were to be continued; but that pensions of this description were to be considered as of a personal nature, and that the Collector was to be responsible for their being applied to the purpose for which they were bestowed.

Certificates were under this Regulation to be granted for pensions renewed on the death of pensioner, and registers of certificates to be kept as under Regulation XXIV, 1793, and Section 16 declared that the continuance or discontinuance of pensions was, after the death of the persons then receiving them, to depend solely on the pleasure of Government.

I reconcile Sections 6 and 16 in this way. Pensions received by fakers at the date of the Regulation for certain purposes were to be continued to them, but if they applied them to other purposes they would be resumed. On the death of the then holders, the pensions were to be continued to their successors or not as Government might determine, each renewal requiring a specific order.

By Section 30, Regulation XII, 1805, the provisions of Regulation XXIV, 1793, were made applicable to pensions and allowances granted for religious purposes in Cuttack with these provisos—

I.—That pensions obtained from the Government of Berar, under grants prior to October 1803, should be continued to the then incumbents, and, on their death, should descend to their heirs and successors, or revert to Government, as should appear to the Governor-General in Council, on a consideration of the tenor of the grant, and all the circumstances of the case, to be proper, under Section 4 of the said Regulation.

II.—Pensions received, under whatever authority, for three or more years before October 1803, to be continued to the then incumbents for life, but on their death to revert to Government, unless any particular reasons should appear to Government to exist for continuing them to their heirs and successors.

In the terms "on a consideration of the tenor of the grant" contained in the proviso I, we find the first indication of Government prescribing a rule to itself respecting the continuance of a pension to heirs and successors of incumbents. Section 4, Regulation XXIV, 1793, to which reference is made, contains no such rule.

By Section 7, Regulation XXII, 1806, the Board of Revenue were instructed, in determining whether, on the death of a pensioner, the pension, or any part of it, should be continued to heirs or successors, "to ascertain particularly the situation and circumstances of the person claiming the continuance of the pension, and not to comply with any applications of that nature unless, on the ground of poverty or other substantial reason, the party claiming it shall have a strong claim on the indulgence of Government."

This relates to pensions to a certain amount (fifty rupees) left to the Board's decision, but I presume the principle was applicable to all.

Section 8 enjoined Collectors to discontinue the payment of all pensions, where the persons to whom they had been adjudged had died, until it could be determined whether they were to be continued to heirs.

Section 9 had in view the commutation of money pensions for grants of waste land or property.

It begins by repeating the declaration that pensions are gratuitous, and that the continuance or discontinuance of them is to depend on the pleasure of Government.

It then enacts that adjudged pensions are not to be commuted for grants of land, except with the consent of the pensioner, and adds these further provisos:—

That pensions granted for, and bona fide appropriated to, the support of institutions, either of the Hindoo or Mahomedan religion, shall be continued for the support of such institutions, unless the present incumbents or their successors shall, of their own free will and accord, agree to accept waste lands in lieu of the said pensions, and that no pensions which are declared to be hereditary, either by the terms of the grant, or by any existing Regulations, shall be commuted without the consent of the present pensioners or their successors.

The first proviso has been quoted as containing an abstract rule that pensions for the support of the institutions therein described shall be continued in perpetuity; but considering the whole scope of the section, it seems to me rather to mean that so long as the allowances are continued by the pleasure of Government, they shall be continued in the shape of money payments, unless the incumbent for the time being consents to a commutation for land.

So also in respect of pensions which, in consideration of the terms of the grant, the Government may hereafter continue to the heirs of present incumbents. These shall likewise be continued in the shape of money payments, unless with the consent of the heir to whom it is continued it shall be commuted for land.

The same rule to apply to pensions declared hereditary by the Regulations, i.e., those described in Section 2, Regulation XXXIV, 1795, and Section 2, Regulation XXIV, 1803, which are declared to be property, and liable to be sued for and inherited as such, and are distinct from the gratuitous pensions.

Suppose, then, a case in which the grant was not hereditary by the terms of it, but which the Government thought it right to continue to the heir of a deceased incumbent, they might insist on his taking land in lieu of it, or renouncing all claim to the allowance.

Sections 2 and 3, Regulation XI, 1813, enact that all pensions shall be stopped until those receiving them prove that they are either the original grantees, or that they have been regularly declared entitled to succeed to the enjoyment of the pensions, and that new registers shall be made and corrected as often as any pensions revert wholly or in part to Government, or whenever other individuals than those by whom the pensions are at present received shall be adjudged entitled to the reversion of them.

So far, then, as the law is concerned, it appears to me that the continuance or discontinuance of any pension or allowance on the death of an incumbent rests entirely in the discretion of Government, that when continued it should be for the life of the applicant only.

In practice, I believe, the Government has very much fettered itself in the exercise of this discretion.

NOTIFICATION.

The 14th September 1875.—With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, it is hereby declared that the port of False Point, in the district of Cuttack, in the province of Orissa, and the navigable river and channels leading to the said port, are subject to Act XII of 1875 (the Indian Ports' Act, 1875). The limits of the port of False Point are as follows :—

To the North.—A line drawn from a pillar erected on the north end of Dowdeswell's Island to a pillar erected on the mainland on the opposite side, below the sand gaps.

To the South.—A line drawn from a pillar erected on Dowdeswell's Island from a point east of Plowden's Island to a pillar erected on the mainland on the right bank of the Jumboo river.

The limits of the said port include so much of the mouth of the river Mahanuddy between the said pillars and of the shores as are within fifty yards of high-water mark at spring tides.

The limits of the navigable river and channels to the above port are as follows, viz. of the—

I.—RIVER MAHANUDDY.

To the North.—The port above defined.

To the South.—A line drawn across the river Mahanuddy from a pillar on the left bank below the light-house to another pillar on the right or opposite bank of the said river.

II.—OF FALSE BAY AND THE BAY OF BENGAL.

To the South.—The port of False Point as above defined.

To the North.—A line parallel to the coast, so as to include all of the said bays as are within ten fathoms' depth.

The limits of the said navigable river and channels include so much of the shores thereof as are within fifty yards of high water at spring tides.

The northern and the eastern limits of the anchorage in the harbour of False Point are as follows :—

To the North.—A buoy bearing due magnetic north from the beacon on Point Reddie at 1,700 yards' distance, with Temple Tree bearing west half south.

To the East.—A line drawn from the above buoy to Point Reddie beacon.

For all purposes of conservancy the northern limits of the port will be taken, but ships should not anchor to the northward of the boundary buoy.

LEVY OF PORT DUES.

With the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, it is further declared, under Clause 1, Section 45 of the Act—

First.—That a port-due, at a rate not exceeding four annas per ton, shall be charged on every sea-going vessel of the burden of 20 tons and upwards which shall enter False Point port.

Second.—That the port-due chargeable on dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade shall be at a rate not exceeding one-half the rate for other vessels.

Third.—That in the case of sea-going vessels, the due shall be leviable whenever a vessel enters the port, and that in the case of dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade, the due shall be chargeable once in sixty days.

Fourth.—That no port-due shall be charged on vessels compelled by stress of weather to re-enter the port.

Fifth.—That the present rate of port-due shall be fixed at two annas per ton for sea-going vessels of the burden of 20 tons and upwards, and at three annas per 100 maunds for dhonis and country vessels employed in the coasting trade.

NOTIFICATION.

The 21st September 1875.—It is hereby notified for general information that under Section 65 of Act XXVI of 1850, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to approve of the following Rules prepared by the Municipal Commissioners for the town of Sahebgunge in the district of the Sonthals Pergunnahs, under Section 7 of the said Act XXVI of 1850, to give effect to the provision of the Act in the said town of Sahebgunge.

1. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Rajmehal for the time being shall be ex-officio president of the Committee.

2. The Commissioners shall meet at Sahebgunge on the first Tuesday in every month for the despatch of business, and, if necessary, on any other day to be named by the president. Each Commissioner shall have the power to call a special meeting by intimating his wish to the president, who shall then fix a day, issuing the usual notice to all the Commissioners. The attendance of two Commissioners shall always form a "quorum:" all questions shall be determined by a majority of votes, and in case the Commissioners are equally divided, the president shall have a casting vote. If only two Commissioners are present, no questions shall be carried unless they are unanimous.

3. The Commissioners shall be competent to employ any number of surveyors, inspectors, clerks and other officers and servants upon such wages or emoluments as may be determined upon in each case.

4. Every person employed by the Commissioners shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one month's pay or to dismissal for any misconduct or neglect of duty assigned to him.

5. Any Commissioner may originate or receive and enquire into a complaint of misconduct or neglect in the performance of his duty against any person employed by the Commissioners, but no punishment shall be inflicted upon such person except by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Commissioners.

6. The following taxes shall be levied within the town of Sahebgunge:—

(1) — Upon houses and lands at a rate not exceeding $3\frac{1}{2}$ percentage of their annual value.

(2) — Upon coal stored, at $1\frac{1}{2}$ anna per ton per mensem.

(3) — Brick kilns, at Rs. 5 per lakh of bricks.

(4) — Horses and conveyances:—

Eight annas per month for a horse.

Four annas for a tuffoo or pony.

One rupee for a four-wheeled carriage.

Two annas per month for a cart.

(5) — Upon all buildings and workshops not being habitations, at a rate not exceeding one anna per month per 100 square feet.

(6) — Upon golas and buildings used for the purpose of storing grain and other merchandize imported and for exportation by wholesale dealers and traders, half an anna per month per 100 square feet.

(7) — Buildings devoted to religious purposes shall be exempt from taxation.

(8) — At the commencement of every year a list of horses and conveyances, and of the houses, showing the names of the owners and the amount assessed upon each, shall be prepared under the superintendence of the Commissioners, and shall be signed by the president and at least one other Commissioner. The day on which such list is published shall be notified by beat of drum, and notice affixed at the Municipal Office or elsewhere. The inhabitants shall have access to this list at the office, and any person who has reason to complain shall make known his complaint to the Commissioners in writing within fifteen days of the publication. The complainant shall attend at the next monthly meeting of the Commissioners, when any objection he may urge shall be heard and taken into consideration. Should the complainant fail to appear, the Commissioners shall inquire into the merits of the written complaint. The decision arrived at by that meeting shall in any case be final.

(9) — After the completion of the list, and on the expiration of the term of fifteen days provided for in the foregoing section, no objection to the amount assessed will be admitted as a right, but it shall nevertheless be competent to the Commissioners at any time to alter, diminish, or remit the amount of tax leviable from any ratepayer, when satisfied after an enquiry, that any change in his pecuniary circumstances renders such a change, diminution, or remission just and necessary.

(10) — It shall be competent for the Commissioners, at any time during the year, to assess in the manner above mentioned, any person who shall come to reside within the town.

(11) — It shall be competent for any person or company wishing to compound for any of the above taxes either by the month or year, to do so with the consent of, and at rates agreed to by, the Commissioners.

(12) — The taxes shall be collected by the clerk or other officers appointed by the Commissioners, and shall be payable quarterly in advance. Any person neglecting to pay the amount due for any quarter within the first month of that quarter, notwithstanding that such amount shall have been demanded of him on behalf of the Commissioners, shall be deemed a defaulter, and be dealt with according to the provisions of the Act.

(13) — The clerk or other officers appointed for the collection of the taxes shall be required to give security of a value not less than the average amount of the monthly collections, and the Commissioners shall have the power to declare any portion or the whole of such security to be forfeited on proof of misconduct, or in liquidation of any instalments overdue.

(14) — All monies and Government securities deposited by the officers and servants entertained under this Act, shall be transmitted to the Sub-Divisional Officer of Rajmehal for safe custody, to be repaid by him on the duplicate receipt of the president countersigned by one of the other Commissioners.

(15) — The proceeds of all collections and fines under these rules shall be kept by the clerk or any other officer appointed by the Commissioners, who shall enter an account of all receipts and disbursements to be countersigned daily by one of the Commissioners. On the last day of every month the accounts for the month shall be made up and the cash balance, or such part if it as the Commissioners think fit, shall be remitted to the Sub-Divisional Officer of Rajmehal, to be held in deposit by him, and to be repaid by him from time to time on the duplicate receipt of the president of the Committee countersigned by one of the other Commissioners. An annual account of receipts and disbursements, and of the demand, collections, and outstanding arrears of taxes, shall be submitted to the Government on the last day of March in every year.

(16).—To ensure the due application of the proceeds of the taxes no new work shall be commenced except under the authority of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Commissioners. An account of all works executed by the Commissioners shall be annually submitted to Government.

(17).—The following are defined to be nuisances in Suhebgunge, and are accordingly hereby prohibited :—

POLICE ACT, SECTION 34.

1st.—Slaughtering cattle, or cleaning any carcass on any road, street, or thoroughfare.

2nd.—Furious riding or driving on any public road.

3rd.—Obstructing passengers by keeping or having any cattle or conveyance of any kind standing longer than requisite on any public road so as to cause inconvenience to inhabitants.

4th.—Throwing or laying down in the street any dirt, filth, rubbish, or any stone or building materials, or constructing any cow-shed, stable or the like open to any thoroughfare, or causing any offensive matters to run into the road from any house, factory dung-heap, or the like, without having previously obtained the sanction of the Commissioners in each case.

5th.—Exposing any goods for sale on the road except in places provided for by the Commissioners.

6th.—Being found drunk or incapable in any public place.

7th.—Wilful and indecent exposure of the person, or of any offensive deformity or disease, all casing of nature in public places, or bathing or washing in any tank or reservoir not set apart for that purpose.

8th.—Neglect to fence in, repair, and duly protect any well, tank or other dangerous places or structure.

9th.—Keeping or driving elephants anywhere within the limits of the town without permission of the Commissioners.

10th.—Refusal or neglect on the part of any proprietor or occupier of land to cut the boughs of trees growing on such lands and overhanging any public road, or to cut down jungle growing on such land after being required to do so in writing by any Commissioner.

11th.—Stopping any public water-course or drain so as to obstruct the free passage of water.

12th.—Refusal or neglect to put into a wholesome state any private tank, privy, drain, or excavation, after being required to do so in writing by any Commissioner.

13th.—Erecting or keeping any privy or urinal within ten yards of any public road.

14th.—Letting off fire-works, or firing guns or pistols on or near the public road.

15th.—Quarrying kunkur, or cutting timber or grass, or damaging trees on public ground without the sanction of the Commissioners, or defacing the blocks on which the names of any roads or streets are engraved, or any boundary pillar.

16th.—Burying or burning dead bodies within precincts of the town, except in places regularly provided for the same, and neglect to inter them properly, or reduce them completely to ashes in such places.

17th.—Selling or exposing for sale as fit for human food, any putrid or diseased animal substance.

18th.—Allowing pigs to be at large, or keeping them otherwise than confined in styes.

19th.—Any person who commits within the town of Suhebgunge any nuisance as defined in the foregoing rule, shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rs. 50, and in case of continuing a nuisance after due notice in writing by any one of the Commissioners, by a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for every day during which the nuisance is continued.

20th.—No penalty should be adjudged under Act XXVI of 1850, till after a summary public enquiry, to be held before a meeting of the Commissioners; such enquiry shall be instituted on the report of a servant of the Commissioners appointed or instructed for the purpose, or on complaint by any private individual having cause to complain of any nuisance, or by the local police. A written notice stating the subject matter of the complaint and the day on which it will be heard, shall be served on the person complained against, or affixed to his residence. If the person complained against does not appear, the Commissioners shall decide the case upon such information as they may be able to procure. Any one Commissioner may receive or institute a complaint, and cause the written notices, provided for above, to be served by one of the municipal servants.

21st.—The proceeds of the fines realized under the preceding rules are to be applied to the same purpose as the other funds at the disposal of the municipality.

22nd.—The rules in force under Act XXXVI of 1850 may be amended or rescinded, and new rules may be proposed by the Commissioners at any of their meetings, and such amendments or drafts of new rules, if agreed to by the majority, shall be submitted to the Government for approval.

3. It will be observed that many of the members were not present at a single meeting, and that many others attended only once or twice. It was my object in recommending the nomination of members of the committee in 1872, that all parts of the district should be represented, and this object was, I think, fairly enough attained, but it cannot be said that the interests of all parts of the district have been with equal fairness represented by the appearance at the meetings of the committee of gentlemen living in, or having local knowledge of those parts. The period of two years for which the committee had been nominated expired last year, and in submitting my recommendations for the re-nomination of members, I omitted the names of those whose absence was most persistent, with the exception of one or two, such as Mr. Deverell and Mr. Chardon, who, although absent from the meetings, have given much assistance in supervising the execution of road works in the vicinity of the places in which they reside. Many changes, both of official and non-official members of the committee, occurred during the year owing to transfers, deaths, resignations, and departures from the district. Mr. T. H. Wickes acted as Vice-Chairman up to the 13th of December 1873, when, on being transferred to the Nuddea Rivers division, he ceased to be ex-officio member of the committee, being succeeded by Mr. Carey. Mr. O. D. C. Winter was elected Vice-Chairman at a meeting held on the 17th January 1874, which post he held till May, when, on taking charge of the Lalbaugh sub-division, he resigned his post. Mr. J. S. Carey was then, at a meeting held on the 20th May 1874, elected Vice-Chairman; Mr. C. W. Bolton became by the transfer of Mr. Winter an ex-officio member of the committee, as the senior covenanted officer under the Magistrate and Collector. Baboo Bunkim Chunder Chatterjee, the Road Cess Deputy Collector, left the district on the 2nd February 1874, and Baboo Dwarka Nath Dey took over charge from him and attended first at a meeting held on the 23rd March 1874.

4. The meetings were first held at the Road Cess Deputy Collector's office or at the Collector's catcherry; this, however, being found inconvenient, they have since been held at the office of the Vice-Chairman, in one of the Government barracks. A room adjoining the office has been set apart for the use of the committee.

5. There have been eight meetings of the committee during the year under review, including a meeting at which no business was transacted, as a quorum was not obtained, at which an average of 13 members attended. Ten days' notice was given of every meeting, the business to be transacted at each meeting was duly notified, and no business which had not been previously notified was submitted for the consideration of the committee. The Chairman presided at six meetings, the Vice-Chairman at one meeting, and, as before stated, at one meeting there was no quorum.

6. The following are the principal subjects which engaged the attention of the committee during the year:—

The accounts for the cess year ending 30th September 1873 were passed after examination by the Vice-Chairman and three members of the committee appointed for the purpose.

The committee resolved at a meeting, consisting of fifteen members, held in August last, to levy during the ensuing year the maximum rates, so that the roads that had been undertaken during the late scarcity might be proceeded with and completed as far as possible.

Two members only dissented. The general result of the outturn of the winter rice crop has justified the opinion of the majority.

In consequence of letter No. 4973, dated 3rd August 1874, from the Secretary to the Government of Bengal to the Commissioner, the committee resolved on providing their own establishment. Notice was accordingly given in the public papers that an engineer on a salary of Rs. 400 to Rs. 500, three overseers on Rs. 125, and a complete office establishment would be required; several applications were made for these appointments, but in consequence of circular No. 65, dated 2nd October 1874, from the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, these appointments were not made. As, however, the establishment under the control of the Executive Engineer is insufficient for the proper execution and supervision of work on the very numerous roads, the maintenance of which has been undertaken by the committee, two overseers on salaries of Rs. 125 and Rs. 100 are employed by the committee.

The statement of roads under section 66 was revised at a meeting of the committee held on the 30th September, as it had been found after the experience gained during this and preceding years that some roads should be added and that others might for the present be left out of consideration.

An additional grant of Rs. 75,000 was made by Government during the year. Rs. 15,000 having been the ordinary allotment in aid of the Road Fund made by Government before the commencement of the road cess year, while Rs. 60,000 were granted on two different occasions to meet the increased expenditure necessitated by the scarcity and dearth of the year. The committee devoted this money to works wherever a demand for labor arose, as, although much of it might have been more profitably devoted to the completion of special works, it considered that the money having been given by Government for the purpose of assisting the distressed, the chief consideration was to supply work where most required and to allot the funds in the most beneficial way. The services of many of the planters and silk factors in the district were freely given, and were of great assistance in the execution of works in the vicinity of their residences.

7. The estimate of income and expenditure for the year under review had been prepared by the committee at a meeting held on the 31st July 1873. The receipts were estimated at Rs. 77,482, and the expenditure Rs. 76,264. The actual receipts were Rs. 62,716-4-9, which, with the Government grant of Rs. 75,000, made the receipt amount to Rs. 1,37,716-4-9. The diminution in the actual receipts compared with the estimate was partly caused by the cessation in November 1873 of the levy of dues at the toll gates and nearly all the ferries of the district by order of Government, and partly by the non-realization of some proportion of aggregate demand on account of land and house cess. Not only did the receipts from toll gates and all the ferries that were closed cease, but it was necessary to give some compensation for the sudden cessation of the levy of tolls. The actual expenditure was Rs. 1,37,572-14-1, and there was therefore a very small balance only.

8. The estimate for the ensuing year was prepared and passed at a meeting held on the 21st July 1874. The estimated receipts are Rs. 94,305-3, and the estimated expenditure Rs. 93,390. No allotment in aid of the district fund has been made this year. The estimate was passed by the committee, and has been approved by the Commissioner.

9. The most important works executed during the year were as follows :—

Berhampore and Bhugwangola Road.—(No. 33 in general list.) This a metalled road, 20 miles in length. The road was repaired and put in good order from Berhampore to Jesgunge, a distance of 14 miles. From Jeagunge to Bhugwangola, a distance of six miles, the road was in a wretched state, as sufficient funds have never been obtained to repair the great damage caused by the breach of the Laltakuri embankment in the year 1871. During the year under report two miles were re-metalled. Unfortunately a breach of the embankment occurred again this year, and, as before, great damage has been done to this road. As in 1871, the bridge at Kalukhali has been destroyed, and a breach of over 200 feet made in the road; and this portion of the road is consequently in a deplorable state. It is an important and much frequented road connecting the Bhagiruttee with the Ganges (in the rains), and the committee regret that they are unable, in justice to the other numerous roads under their charge, to allot as much money to this road as would be necessary to keep it in first class order. Before the introduction of the Road Cess Act this was one of the provincial roads; and as it has been so much damaged by the floods caused by the breach of the embankment, it would be most desirable that a special grant should be made for its thorough repair.

Choa Bridge.—A girder bridge on the Hurrihurparah and Choa roads of four openings, 11 feet span each, has been completed at a cost of Rs. 3,822-3.

Calcutta Road Bridge.—A masonry bridge of two openings, eight feet span, was completed at a cost of Rs. 1,400-5-8.

Rampore Haut and Donegram Road Bridge.—Four bridges were estimated to be constructed :—

- One of two openings, 8 feet span, in the 3rd mile.
- One of one opening, 8 feet span, in the 6th mile.
- One of one opening, 8 feet span, in the 7th mile.
- One of one opening, 4 feet span, in the 9th mile.

The first three bridges were nearly completed. The overseer in charge of the work, having to look after important famine relief works at a distance from this road, was unable to push on with this work.

Jellinghee and Baromassia Road Bridges.—Bricks were manufactured for these bridges, but in consequence of the flood in the Shyalmane river, it was impossible to erect the bridges. The Jellinghee road bridges will be constructed during the ensuing year.

Inspection Bungalow.—An inspection bungalow at Panchgaon was erected at a cost of Rs. 618. This bungalow is at the junction of the Badshahi road and the Moorshedabad and Rampore Haut roads. An inspection bungalow has also been erected at Kalyanganj. This is a building of a cheaper kind with ordinary mud walls and cost only Rs. 133-12-6.

• Berhampore and Pathabaree Road.—(No. 1 in general list.) This is a new road, 30 miles in length. From Chulfra bheel near the cutcherries to Rajdhurpara, a distance of three miles, the road was undertaken, together with Gora bazar drainage scheme, as one work, the excavated earth having been so thrown as eventually to form a roadway. This portion still remains unfinished, but a great deal of earthwork has been done. From Hurishpore to Mymudpore on the Bhyrub river, a distance of nine miles, the road was completed. From Rajdhurpara to Hurishpore, a distance of five miles, the road was partially undertaken; it will be completed in the ensuing year. From Mymudpore to Pathabaree the road has been partially repaired in places that were bad; it will be completed during the ensuing year as far as funds are available. This is one of the most important and useful works that has been undertaken, as it brings the head-quarters of the district with the productive thanas of Hurrihurparah and Nowada in the east and south-east.

Moorshedabad and Panchgaon Road.—A new road has been opened out from Dahapara, opposite Moorshedabad, to Panchgaon on the Badshahi road, 17 miles in length. The road has been completed from Panchgaon to the Jibunttee bridge, a distance of 10 miles. An embankment has been thrown across the Basia bheel, between Panchgaon and Nobogram, for a distance of about two miles. This enables people to travel between Panchgaon and Nobogram without the difficulty that they used to experience. An opening of some 500 or 600 feet has been left in the middle bheel, at which there will be a public ferry during the rains, while during the cold and hot weather a temporary bridge is constructed at the expense of the Road Fund. The embankment stood the high floods of last year, but will require raising another three feet. From Jibunttee to Dahapara, a distance of seven miles, the road has been partially constructed; it will be completed during the current year. This is a most useful work, it being in fact the great western road of the district, connecting the Badshahi road, which runs nearly north and south in the western part of the district (and I hope eventually Rampore Haut and the railway), with the western part of the city of Moorshedabad, and thence by roads north and south with Aziungunge and the suburbs of Berhampore, on the opposite side of the river. The bridging of the Basia bheel would be most desirable, but it would be a very expensive work, and far beyond the means of the committee.

Badshahi Road.—(No. 8 in general list.) This road, as now diverted, runs from Joroor, near Jungypore, on the Mooraree road, direct south through the district, a length of about 35 miles. From Joroor to Nowada station on the Nulhattee State Railway the road was half completed, and a great deal of work has been done on other sections. When funds become available to bridge this road, it will form a very important connecting road. Cart traffic has already commenced on it. Until recently no carts were kept by the villagers in that part of the district, all traffic being carried by pack-bullocks. The road has been almost completed from Panchgaon to the southern boundary of the district. The approaches to the Dwarka river require to be made, and several bridges will be required for this road before its full value can be appreciated. The committee hope to do this gradually. One of the greatest difficulties on this road is the extensive Naggur' bheel between Sherpore and Khurgaon, which requires high and strong embankments and heavy bridging. Opposed as I am to the levy of tolls on bridges, it appears to me that the only method that could be adopted in order to bridge this part of the road would be for the Road Cess Committee to borrow the money required from Government, and to repay it by degrees from the proceeds obtained by the lease of a toll gate at the bridge.

Road on the west or right bank of the Bhagiruttee.—(No. 17 in the general list.) The portion of the road on the west bank of the Bhagiruttee from Azimgunge to Raneeshur Ghât, opposite Berhampore, has been completed to within a mile of the ghât. A large traffic is already showing itself on this road, the distance between Berhampore and Azimgunge being considerably shorter by this road than by that on the eastern bank. Repairs has also been executed on other sections, and it is hoped that in course of time the whole length of road from Roghoonathgunge (opposite Jungypore) to Ramnuggur, in the extreme south-west of the district, may be put in proper order.

Kandee Road.—(No. 11 in general list.) This road, 22 miles in length, connects Berhampore with Kandee, and the Badshahi road at the boundary of the district. It was repaired and kept in fair order during the year. A great deal of work was done on the portion between Kandee and Badshahi road (four miles in length), which was made into a raised road. The road suffered severely from the overflowing of the More river in consequence of excessive floods. The embankments of this river are kept up by the zemindars, but, as might be expected, not with such care as to be able to resist the heavy inundation of the past year.

Jellinghee Road.—(No. 8 in general list.) This road, perhaps the most important of those in the eastern portion of the district, 27½ miles in length, was kept in fair order during the year by the planters and silk factors residing in the district. It has suffered considerably from the flood water; the bridges are in a very bad state, and they require to be reconstructed in many cases. The road is in fact underbridged throughout almost its entire length.

Kisnaghur Road.—(No. 34 in general list.) This road, 20 miles in length, was kept in fair order during the year. A portion, about a mile in length, near Chatanee, was raised to form the bund of the Bhagiruttee river.

Mooraroo Road.—(No. 12 in general list.) This road, 14 miles in length, which connects Jungypore with the East Indian Railway, is a very important one. It crosses the Pugla river and a considerable extent of inundated country. The bridges are quite insufficient for the waterways required, and the road is almost impassable during the flood season. On the East Indian Railway one bridge of twenty-five 28-foot openings has been constructed for the Chota Pugla, and one of (I think) four 50-foot openings for the Pugla, and there are also many smaller bridges in the vicinity of these. The bridge near Paikar has to take the bulk of the Pugla water, and it is no wonder that it has been so much injured. Had it not been that the flood water swept over the road for more than a mile, the bridge would infallibly have been destroyed. It would require a very large proportion of the committee's funds to bridge the Mooraroo road properly.

Nulhattee Road.—(No. 16 in general list.) This is a road alongside of the State railway. It was kept in fair order during the year. The road suffered considerably from the heavy floods during the cyclone. There is a considerable cart traffic during the cold season on this road, and its maintenance in good order is very desirable.

Old Calcutta Road.—(No. 32 in general list.) This road, six and a half miles in length, was thoroughly repaired and put in good order during the year.

Beauleah Road.—(No. 20 in general list.) This road, 25 miles in length, which connects Berhampore with Rampore Beauleah, was kept in fair order during the year. It suffered severely from the flood water.

Kutlamaree to Moolnapara.—(No. 26 in general list.) This was an old village track connecting Kutlamaree with the Berhampore and Barromassia road. Rs. 200 were spent in improving its condition. It was put in good order as far as Moolnapara: about half a mile had to be left unfinished, there being no land available.

Barromassia Road.—(No. 19 in general list.) This road leaves the Jellinghee road at Islampore near the junction of the Bhoirub river. Rs. 806-8 were spent by Mr. Chardon, the Manager of the Barromassia concern, in putting it in fair order.

Jungypore and Kamra Road.—(No. 24 in general list.) This road, six miles in length, was put in good order. It is, however, much exposed to the inundation of the Ganges, and the high floods have damaged it in places. It should be raised above flood level if possible.

Dewansera and Murcha Road.—(No. 23 in general list.) The portion of this road between Bhugwangola and Murcha was put in good order at a cost of Rs. 1,695-3-7. This road runs outside the embankment. It is high enough for ordinary floods, but suffered from the high flood of this year.

Goas to Dumkole.—(No. 25 in general list.) This is a short road, about four miles, connecting Goas with the Jellinghee road. Rs. 255-6 were spent in putting it in fair order.

Fureedpore to Nowadahpara—(No. 30 in general list.) This is a road about nine miles in length, connecting the Jellinghee road with the Barromassia road. It had not been repaired for years. Rs. 1,445-12-9 were spent in improving it; some further expenditure will be required to raise it in places above flood level.

Lalbaugh Road—(No. 35 in general list.) This is a fair-weather road along the Bhagirutte, connecting Berhampore with Lalbaugh and the City of Moorshedabad. It was kept in good order during the dry season.

Rampore Haut to Mangaon—(No. 3 in general list.) This is an important road, connecting the large village of Mangaon with Rampore Haut. Rs. 904-5 were spent in putting it in fair order.

Rampore Haut to Narainpore—(No. 8 in general list.) Rs. 773-9-11 were spent in putting this road in fair order. It connects Rampore Haut with the western portion of that thana and the Sonthal country.

Jeagunge to Kamrah Road—(No. 22 in general list.) This road, about 21 miles in length, is with difficulty kept in order, as it is much subject to damage by floods. It has again suffered from the breach of the Bhagiruttee embankment. Rs. 1,452-6-3 were spent in improving the worst parts of it.

Barromassia and Jellinghee Road—(No. 27 in general list.) This road, about 10 miles in length, running almost parallel to the Ganges, was kept in fair order at a cost of Rs. 1,550 by Mr. Lang of Hookabarah Factory. It skirts the mouth of the Jellinghee river. This road suffers severely from the flood water of the Ganges.

Akrigunge to Kullawaree—(No. 26 in general list.) This road, about nine miles in length, was put in fair order during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,360.

Beldanga Road—(No. 9 in general list.) This is a short road, about three miles in length, connecting Beldanga, a large town in thana Burwa, with the river opposite Sattoe. It was put in fair order at a cost of Rs. 360.

10. During the ensuing year it is proposed to bridge the portion of the Kandee road between Kandee and the Badshahi road, to construct a bridge on the Jungypore and Kamrah road, to improve some of the bridges on the Jungypore and Moorarooee road, and to complete the bridging of the Rampore Haut and Donegram road. It is also proposed to metal the first two miles of the Kishnaghur road, near Berhampore, to remetal three miles of the Bhugwangola road, and repair two miles, and lastly to repair all the district roads as far as funds permit.

11. I consider that the most important works that remain to be completed in after years are these:—

1st.—The establishment of thorough communication between Rampore Haut and Moorshedabad, and thus with Berhampore, Azimgunge, and other places. We have already an almost completed road from Dahapara, opposite Moorshedabad, to Punchgaon, while on the other side there is a very fair road from Rampore Haut to Donegram. I have recently inspected the country between Donegram and Punchgram where there is no road, and have given orders for a survey in order to lay down a good line. The distance is only some seven miles, and the benefit of complete communication between Rampore Haut and the important towns of the east would be very great.

2nd.—The completion of the Berhampore, Hurrihurparah, and Patkabari road. I trust that much will be done towards this in the current year.

3rd.—The completion and bridging of the Badshahi road.

4th.—The completion of the road on the west bank of the Bhagirutte.

5th.—The feeder road from Jungypore to Moorarooee, and from Dhulian to Pakour or Beejapoor, on the East Indian Railway.

Report by the Members of the Moorshedabad District Road Cess Committee appointed to examine the Road Cess Accounts under section 88 of the Road Cess Act.

WE, the undersigned members of the Road Cess Committee appointed under section 88 of the Road Cess Act to examine the Vice-Chairman's accounts, beg leave to report that we have examined the said accounts, and found them to be correct.

We beg to recommend, however, that the amounts still to be recovered for the cess year 1873-74 be ascertained from the Collector, and entered as a balance to be brought forward in the ensuing year.

J. S. CAREY,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 611, dated Dinagepore, the 10th July 1875.

From—E. V. WESTMACOTT, Esq., Offg. Magistrate and Collector of Dinagepore,
To—The Commissioner of Circuit, Rajshahye Division.

1. In submitting a report upon the District Road Fund for the year closing 30th September 1874, I have the honor to submit that the accounts I send by no means represent what were stated in the books on that date, but include many adjustments that have been made since, and some which must be made in obedience to Government orders, though I do not find that they have yet been carried out.

2. During the famine, it appears to have been the practice to draw money from the Road Fund for what purpose soever it may have been required—grain transport, pay of establishment, golah building, famine relief, purchase of ponies, and other services innumerable. On the other hand, money was sometimes drawn from other funds which should have been drawn from Road Fund. All these matters were gradually adjusted by book transfer, as Mr. Nicholls, the District Relief Officer, went laboriously through the complicated relief accounts, and until it was done, no account of the Road Fund could be taken. Mr. Nicholls left on the 20th May, having done most of the work, but leaving some of the petty accounts still unadjusted. I think it has all been done now, so far as the Road Fund is concerned.

3. By Government order No. 4996—S.R. of 14th August 1874, Rs. 3 was to be credited to the Road Fund as a grant for every maund of rice expended in wages. I do not find that this has been done in the books, but in this account I have credited a sum of Rs. 2,83,910-8-1 to the fund on this account.

4. Again, the allocation statement drawn up in accordance with Government order No. 3508—S.R. of 1st June 1874, showed what proportion of the expenditure on the roads in each circle was fairly debitable to the fund, and what, being above the fair market value of the work done, should be debited to famine relief. This has not been done in the books, but you will perceive that I have in this account shown the total expenditure on the roads in each circle in cash and in grain at Rs. 3 per maund, and, deducting the amount debitable according to the allocation statement to famine relief, have debited the balance only to the Road Fund.

This deduction of Rs. 8,43,728 will make the Road Fund out as having a large sum in hand, instead of being in debt, on 30th September 1874; what the final adjustment is to be, I know not, but I hope my explanation will make the data clear.

5. Ferries.—The receipts from ferries and road tolls were only Rs. 2,940-8, a sum of Rs. 3,536-13-4 having been remitted to the farmers, on the adoption of Mr. Molony's suggestion that all tolls should be abolished for the famine year. Of this remission, Rs. 388 were refunded in cash.

6. Refunds.—The sum of Rs. 1,251-10-9, shown as a refund, were recovered from a fraudulent overseer named Hurdial Tewaree, who embezzled some Rs. 4,000 on works under his charge.

7. Dâk Bungalows.—The expenditure on the dâk bungalows was Rs. 605-7; whereas in spite of the unusual number of Europeans in the district, the receipts were only Rs. 399-8.

8. Khas Mehal Funds.—Rs. 195. This is a sum of one per cent. on the rental of certain estates which were once khas mehals, but were sold by auction.

9. Government Grants.—The special grants made to the Road Fund by Government were Rs. 12,90,000.

10. Tank-digging.—Private donations for digging tanks were as follows, being given for the deepening of old tanks on the estates of the subscribers:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Roy Dhunput Sing, Bahadoor	8,153	6	6
Pran Krishna Day and Ram Kanhai Acharjia	950	0	0
Total	9,803	6	6

11. Old District Roads.—The District Engineer shows an expenditure on the old district roads of Rs. 79,530-5-8, as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Malda road	10,546	12	0
Rungpore	1,417	10	0
Bogra	1,898	2	3
Purneah	21,269	14	3
Moorshedabad road	30,958	6	2
Gungarampore	119	15	0
Darjeeling	13,616	10	3

Besides this he shows—

Tools and plant	2,751	13	10
Establishment	358	9	2
Construction of bungalows for relief officers	1,110	5	0

This last item ought to have been debited to famine relief. Having known these roads for more than seven years, I hoped that this expenditure, so far above what we have usually had to spend, would have put them in first class order; I have been disappointed. I think the most extravagant of all the circle officers can show a better return for his expenditure than I see on these roads. No widening, no straightening, no repair of slopes, nothing but earth thrown in heaps on the surface, frequently left so without dressing; and in many places nothing done where the roads are actually below the level of the paddy fields.

12. Rs. 61,826-8-1 are shown as expended on the several railway feeder roads by the Executive Engineer. This expenditure has been adjusted by the Controller-General after deducting the amount chargeable to other districts. I have not been able to examine all these roads. Those I have seen vary in execution and finish. I observed one great defect in some, namely deep excavations at the very foot of the slope, into which the road must inevitably be washed by the rains. The amount of additional expenditure required to render these and some of the unfinished relief roads useful is the subject of a separate report. The following is a list of the feeder roads and the expenditure on each up to 30th September 1874:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Road from Ghoraghat to Hilla	14,511	14	10
Ditto Phoolbarce to Peergunge, in Rungpore	2,234	3	11
Ditto ditto to Sumjeca	3,254	13	9
Ditto ditto to Bawchundu, in Rungpore	1,752	7	8
Ditto ditto to Patturam	5,207	1	4
Ditto Kachoodanga to Burampore	1,689	7	0
Ditto Nutpore to Sheebpore	7,294	5	9
Ditto Sheebpore to Dumduma	17,735	13	0
Ditto ditto to Sapahar, in Bogra	5,906	9	7
Ditto Parbatteepore to Rungpore	505	6	6
Ditto Ghoraghat to Sunijhia	112	12	0
Tools and plants	1,621	8	9
Total	61,826	8	1

13. Relief Circles.—This report has already been delayed so long that I am loth to wait until the expenditure on each road in each circle can be separately shown. Indeed such is the confusion of accounts that I doubt whether the circle officers themselves could show it, and I am fully sure that no one now in the district can do it without several months of labor, if at all.

14. It will be seen that the proportion of expenditure chargeable against famine relief is highest in Gangarampore, Doorgapore, Porsha, Tamboolee, and the tracts most affected by the scarcity. The reasons are that it was at the outset considered of far greater importance that every man, woman, and child should get a good belly-full of food than that much work should be done, while many officers, notably at Doorgapore, had far larger tracts than they could efficiently supervise, and there was no doubt much speculation. Afterwards, with smaller circles, proper staffs of subordinate inspectors, and the introduction of piece-work, there was much less waste.

15. A sum of Rs. 3,000 is shown against Mr. Bayers. This is owing to a series of blunders. First, a cheque of that officer, employed on the feeder roads, was cashed twice. Then, on his refunding Rs. 3,000, the treasury office refused to receive it; and afterwards the Accountant-General, in his letter No. 442—T.B. of the 13th March 1875, stated that he had adjusted it with the Civil Department. The proper adjustment would have been its refund to the Road Fund, and as this has not been done, the Accountant-General has been addressed on the subject (Collector's No. 145 of 29th June). The Executive Engineer had a balance in hand of Rs. 1,740 at the end of the year; with this exception, the balance at credit of the fund, as shown in the account, was non-existent owing to the non-adjustment of certain amounts to which I have above alluded. The actual accounts, as drawn from the books, omitted the sum of Rs. 2,85,910-8-1 now credited on account of grain spent in wages, omitted the same sum shown as expended, included as expended Rs. 8,43,728, which by the allocation statement should be debited to famine relief, and also large sums since refunded by the district relief officer to this fund and debited to other accounts.

16. Very many items on both sides of the account have been entered since 30th September 1874, and yet included in this account.

Compiled in the Office of Controller, Public Works Accounts, from the separate statements received from the Executive Engineer and Magistrate.

No. 1038, dated Maldah, the 14th October 1874.

From—F. WYER, Esq., Officiating Magistrate of Maldah,

To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

IN answer to your No. 207, circular of the 9th ultimo, I have the honor to forward the following sketch report on roads, &c. I delayed sending it in before, since I was under the impression that the Vice-Chairman had to submit this report.

2. The expenditure during the past year has been abnormal, owing to road-making having been undertaken as a relief measure. I forward a list showing the amount expended under the Department Public Works and the roads on which this money has been expended, and another list for roads under the circle officers. The large amount spent by the Department of Public Works has been spent most usefully. Owing to neglect in previous years, the roads were in a very bad state: in parts some of them were mere water-courses. What now is wanted, is to metal those portions of the main roads, i.e. the roads from Rajmehal to Dinagepore, and from English Bazar to Barogharia, in those parts which consist of clay. Until this is done it will be almost impossible to use the roads directly after the rains. Besides this, several bridges ought to be made. I have written separately about what I propose to do next year.

3. As regards the roads under the circle officers, those roads will be included in the statement of roads under sections 66, 67, 68. Some of them are very useful roads. Those in the Kharba thana, viz. Chanchal and Toolshigunge, S.A., Chanchal and Toolshigunge, S.B., Hyatpore and Toolshigunge, Maltipore and Hyatpore, Khanpore and Sarupgunge, Sarupgunge and Chanchal, Kharba and Dowlutpore, Muthurapore and Kaligram, Maltipore and Bhada, Ohanchal and Pabarpore, Chanchal and Maltipore. Toolshigunge to Sekhsaton, Samshi to Alal, Sarupgunge to Koosidah, Sargatchi to Paria, Sargatchi to Beltolla, and Mothoorapore to Alal, have been placed under Mr. Cordner, in Purneah.

4. Besides the sums shown as expended, there is about Rs. 20,000 outstanding advances which have been expended, but not yet accounted for.

The following roads have been repaired during the year by Public Works Department:—

F. WYER,
Offg. Magistrate.

No. 516A., dated Beaulah, the 6th October 1874.

From—W. H. D'OYLY, Esq., Magistrate of Rajshahye,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

WITH reference to paragraph 3 of the Government circular No. 50, dated the 23rd July 1873, I have the honor to report as follows on the works of local improvement that were undertaken during the past cess year, commencing from 1st October 1873 to 30th September last.

Original works, Bya Road.—During the past cess year the only sanctioned original work which has been commenced was the metalling of the Bya road.

For this work 18,000 maunds of coal have been purchased, and during the past cold season 13,28,000 raw bricks were moulded, but owing to the loss caused by the heavy rain in February and March, the outturn has been only 9,35,000, or 70·4 per cent. on the quantity moulded.

The outturn of well burnt bricks provides soling bricks for almost the entire length from the limits of Beaulah town to Bya Bazar, but there will be khoa for two miles of road only. The balance of bricks must be burnt in the coming cold season. The total expenditure during the year has been Rs. 12,107-14.

2. Roads from Nowhatta to Bazurpore.—As a relief work a new road was made from Nowhatta to Bazurpore, a village on the existing fair-weather tract from Nowhatta vid Soorjapara ghât to Manda. The laborers flocked to the work, on which daily wages were given, so rapidly and in such numbers, that it was impossible to secure a full amount of work for a fair day's pay. With the staff available at such short notice, 12½ lakhs of earthwork were executed at a cost of Rs. 10,990.

3. Tannore Feeder Road.—A feeder road from the east side of the bheel opposite Tannore thana was commenced, which is intended to extend to Mahdnugger, which will be a station on the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Seven miles out of a total length of about 26 miles have been raised to the level of adjacent mulberry fields; but from the experience of the floods during the past season, the crest of road must be raised another two feet to be well above the highest flood. The quantity of earthwork executed has been 20,70,000, at a cost of Rs. 7,029. Compensation of land taken up has yet to be made.

4. Kathoom to Gooliahat and Ellahigunge.—From Kathoom to Gooliahat and Ellahigunge, a branch feeder road was proposed to join a feeder road from the Bogra district at the latter place, but for want of laborers only 2,000 feet in length of embankment was thrown up, when the superintendent was recalled. The expenditure on this road, including construction of a temporary bungalow, amounts to Rs. 246-7.

5. Burgatchi Channel.—Irrigation channel at Burgatchi was carried out for relief purpose at a cost of Rs. 434. The channel connects two bheels in the vicinity of Burgatchi village. By means of channels the surplus water from the south bheel can flow into the north bheel, which has led to 500 beeghas more being planted this season with "amun" rice than would have been if the channel were not cut; so that the work, though undertaken as a relief work, is likely to prove a most remunerative one to the persons benefited.

Repairs.—Road from Godagaree towards Maldah.—A diversion was made from the old line of the road from Godagaree towards Maldah district, taking the road along the high ground on river bank instead of along the bheel ground formerly selected, and which would have required a very high bank; by taking the new line one mile only of high embankment is necessary, but about two and a half miles of jungle had to be cleared as far as Ubhya factory (an abandoned indigo factory). The cost of jungle-cutting and 8,785 cubic feet amounts to Rs. 3,190.

7. Dinagepore Road.—The road from Godagaree towards Dinagepore is the most important one in the district, if a road's importance is to be judged of by the traffic over it. Nearly seven miles of this road have been repaired. In several instances new alignments have been made, where cultivated land did not present an obstacle, as the route was made shorter and earthwork saved by abandoning the old line, which was discernible only by a deep indentation in the country. The past season's repairs extended as far as the village of Basodebpore, and would have been carried to the limits of the district but that higher rates were given in the Maldah district than in this.

The rates in Maldah were Rs. 3-5-4 per 100 cubic feet, while the rate in this district was Rs. 2-10-6; consequently the laborers went into Maldah, only a few miles off, for the higher rates.

Several bridges were in bad repair, but immediately after receiving information they were put into order, and remain serviceable according to the latest reports.

The quantity of earthwork executed has been 22,31,000, at a cost of Rs. 5,838; but the excess of this expenditure over the sanctioned estimate may be attributed to two causes: the road has been made higher than was originally intended, and heavy surface repairs were several times executed to facilitate the passage of the Government grain carts.

Road from Godagaree to Beaulah.—On the road from Beaulah to Godagaree the expenditure has been Rs. 1,180. Of this sum, a portion was paid for constructing a roadway across the "Dharra" at Kusba, which served as an embankment to protect the country from the flood-water of the Ganges, portion was spent on jungle-cutting from Nowabgunge to Kurchikka, and balance has been spent on raising the road between Coomerpore and Fureedpore.

Nattore Road.—The road from Beaulah to Nattore has been raised from 6th to 18th mile, but not sufficiently so to be safe from very high floods. The raised portion has not been stopped by this year's flood, which was somewhat higher than usual, but was not so high as that recorded in 1871. Through the bursting of a dam at Nundangatchee the bridge east of Biraldar Bazar has been carried away, and the approaches of some of the wooden bridges injured by the rush of water from south to north.

Pootia Road.—From the Nattore road to Pootia the road was raised to the same height as the Nattore road.

From Julmullia on the Moorhakhan to Nattore surface repairs only were carried out, owing to scarcity of labor.

Forty-two lakhs of earthwork were done at a cost of Rs. 8,700.

Road from Dighaputia to Bagshur.—Between Dighaputia and Bagshur 12½ lakhs of earthwork were executed at a cost of Rs. 2,749. It is to be regretted that a new line of road was not made direct to Tegachee from near Dighaputia instead of raising the existing road, which is not used during the dry season.

Pubna Road.—The repairs of the road from Beauleah to Orunkala, on the borders of the Pubna district, have been superintended by Messrs. Deveria and Abbott, Mr. Deveria looking after the road to Surda, and Mr. Abbott the section from Charghat to the limits of the district. Rs. 775 were advanced by the District Engineer and Rs. 1,500 by the Collector for this road. The road from Beauleah to Magepara was kept in excellent order during the dry season.

The repairs of the road from Lallpore to Galimpore were carried out by Mr. Abbott. No account has been received of the actual expenditure.

Mr. Ridge, of Soorsa factory, had the road from Bya Bazar to Nowhatta repaired and partially raised, and commenced the construction of a direct line of road from Bya to Soorjapoor Ghât. The expenditure on the two lines amounted to Rs. 885.

Road from Bandhikhara to Bagmarrah.—Surface repairs were done to the fair-weather tract between Bandhikhara and Bagmarrah thanas. These repairs, which cost Rs. 129, were carried out under the supervision of the subordinate police officer.

The fair-weather track from Bya to Tannore via Baghdhunnee was repaired as a relief work, on which daily wages were given without being able to exact a day's task in return, so that the expenditure, amounting to Rs. 3,584, is considerably in excess of the value of the work performed. This track crosses a line of country in which no embanked road could advantageously be made.

Nowhatta to Manda Thana.—The track from Nowhatta via Saipara to Manda thana was repaired at a cost of Rs. 1,629. During the past season this track was of much importance, as Government grain was transported along it from Rampore Beauleah to various depôts in the Dinagore district.

These repairs were carried out by the relief officers temporarily appointed for that purpose.

Several minor tracks were repaired which do not call for any particular notice.

In the cuss year just commenced, the metalling of Bya road will be completed, and the construction of the bridge at Bya undertaken.

The feeder road from Tannore will be extended as far as Bagmarrah thana, if possible; the land which may be required will be taken up in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

The feeder road which was proposed from Kathoom to Gooliahat and Ellahigunge will be abandoned or transferred to the special division formed in Bogra.

Two schemes have been proposed for improving navigation, one at Bhangajungle, the second to deepen the channel between Bandhikhara on the Attrai and Bagmarrah on the Barulaie, the necessary surveys, sections, and estimates to be prepared this year.

The road will be extended from Godagaree towards the Maldah district as far as the allotted amount, Rs. 2,000, will admit.

Rs. 1,500 have been sanctioned for the Dinagore road, which will be sufficient to complete the road to the limits of this district, as the bridges will require petty repairs only.

The bridges on the road from Beauleah to Godagaree are in need of repairs, which should be carried out before any attempt is made to embank the road, which fortunately is, as a rule, above flood-level.

Survey and sections of the Nattore road are to be made with a view of improving the direction of the road, raising it above flood-level, and providing an adequate waterway in the bridges, so that the road may become an efficient feeder to the railway, which passes close to Nattore.

The road from Nattore to Bagshur will not be further raised, but a new line from Dighaputia to Tegachee will be made at an estimated cost of Rs. 2,000.

Several bridges in the Rajapore section of the road to Pubna require repairs, more particularly the bridges at Hareerampore and Goureepore. The former is a masonry culvert of two openings eight-feet span, and the latter is a bridge having masonry piers and abutments, but a timber platform.

The sanctioned estimate for the Lallpore-Gallimpore road will prove barely sufficient to meet the expenses for earthwork, so that the construction of a new bridge at Soondergarra is out of the question this year.

Surface repairs are to be done to the following roads or tracks:—

Bya to Tannore	150

No. 23, dated Rungpore, the 31st March 1875.

From—A. C. BRETT, Esq., Officiating Magistrate, Rungpore,

To—The Commissioner of Circuit, Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the annual account of income and expenditure of the District Road Fund for the cess year ending 30th September 1874.

2. The original allotment was Rs. 30,000, but on application, Rs. 3,10,000 was sanctioned by Government for relief works. The expenditure has much exceeded the grant, leaving a deficit of Rs. 1,41,654-7-10 at the close of the year. An application has been made for a further grant in order to enable the committee to adjust their accounts.

3. There were only eight main roads in the district, but 97 more were taken in hand during the year. The total length of the roads is now 925 miles as against 265. The roads have been widened, and the earthwork in most of them has been finished. A special engineer has been appointed to look after the roads and to complete the unfinished portions of roads and bridges.

4. Rs. 34,631-10-11 have been spent on original works, Rs. 4,88,145-11-10 for repairs, and Rs. 4,264-0-1 for establishment. The result of this expenditure has been a greatly improved state of communication between the principal marts and villages.

No. 2067, dated Pubna, the 23rd December 1874.

From—P. NOLAN, Esq., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Pubna,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the annual report on the district road fund operations for the cess year ending the 30th September 1874.

2. By Government order No. 257 of the 14th July 1873, a sum of Rs. 15,000 was sanctioned for ordinary road works. In addition to this a special grant of Rs. 20,000 was subsequently sanctioned for famine relief works under Government orders, as communicated in Controller of Public Works Accounts' letter No. 891, dated the 29th January 1874. There was also Rs. 3,672-7-0 available from local sources, receipts from ferries, &c., and a balance of Rs. 3,689-4-6 remaining unexpended at the close of the preceding year.

3. It would thus appear that the total amount available for expenditure on road works of this district during the year under report, inclusive of establishment, was Rs. 42,361-11-6.

4. Of this amount Rs. 22,007-12-3 were expended on original works, and Rs. 7,781-6-6 on account of repairs, and a further sum of Rs. 228 was expended in purchase and repair of tools, and Rs. 1,198-14-9 on account of establishment required for road works, as well as for collection and management, as detailed at length in the tabular statement already submitted. Most of the works were undertaken for famine relief operations, and the allotments budgetted for have been disturbed in consequence.

5. The total expenditure of the year amounts to Rs. 32,513-12-6, leaving a balance of Rs. 9,846-12-0 in hand.

6. Of the original works the most important was the road from Serajgunge to Chaudakona, which, when complete, will connect that large mart with Bogra, and the road system of Central Bengal. On this Rs. 10,540 was expended. The bridges have not been commenced, and there is a gap of some miles in the middle. It is hoped that the road may be completed during this season, temporary bridges being erected. It will be of great service, and even in its present state is found to be much used.

Temporary bridges were built on the Tantibund road at a cost of Rs. 856. These complete a useful work.

A commencement of what is called the Maligacha road, an alternative branch of the Rajshahye road, to be substituted for a part of that work which is being washed away by the Ganges, was commenced at a cost of Rs. 956.

Of the smaller roads and tracks a branch from the Attaikula road to Goeshpore village, costing Rs. 100, has been found of much use; Rs. 250 was spent on improving the track from Serajgunge to Ullapara; Rs. 150 on that from Paras to Harrial.

A road from Pubna to Chatmohor was commenced at a cost of Rs. 2,533; one from Sathbaria to Sujannagar at a cost of Rs. 2,400. Rs. 865 was similarly spent on commencing other tracks left incomplete. These works were undertaken to give employment during the scarcity, and are not likely to be finished in the immediate future.

All the existing roads have been repaired.

7. The following original works and repairs are proposed to be undertaken during the ensuing year at an estimated cost of Rs. 33,940.

No. 169Ct., dated Darjeeling, the 19th May 1875.

From—F. R. COCKERELL, Esq., Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

WITH reference to your circular No. 50, dated 23rd July 1873, and circular No. 51, dated 8th September last, and in continuation of this office No. 301, dated October last, I have the honor to submit below a report on the works of local improvement effected in this division during the cess year ending with September 1874.

2. This report was due on the 10th November last, but it could not be submitted owing to the district reports not having been received. The report from Dinagepore has not yet come to hand. The information with respect to that district will be submitted in a separate communication.

3. The improvements made in the several districts of the division, and the works which it is proposed to undertake in the following year, are given by the Magistrates as follows:—

Moorsshedabad.—“An additional grant of Rs. 75,000 was made by Government during the year—Rs. 15,000 having been the ordinary allotment in aid of the road fund made by Government before the commencement of the road cess year; while Rs. 60,000 were granted on two different occasions to meet the increased expenditure necessitated by the scarcity and dearth of the year. The committee devoted this money to works wherever a demand for labor arose; as although much of it might have been more profitably devoted to the completion of special works, it considered that the money having been given by Government for the purpose of assisting the distressed, the chief consideration was to supply work where most required, and to allot the funds in the most beneficial way. The services of the many of the planters and silk factors in the district were freely given, and were of great assistance in the execution of works in the vicinity of their residences.

The estimate of income and expenditure for the year under review had been prepared by the committee at a meeting held on the 31st July 1873. The receipts were estimated at Rs. 77,482, and the expenditure at Rs. 76,264. The actual receipts were Rs. 62,716-4-9, which, with the Government grant of Rs. 75,000, made the receipts amount to Rs. 1,37,716-4-9. The diminution in the actual receipts compared with the estimate was partly caused by the cessation in November 1873 of the levy of dues at the toll gates and nearly all the ferries of the district by order of Government, and partly by the non-realization of some proportion of aggregate demand on account of land and house cess. Not only did the receipts from toll gates and all the ferries that were closed cease, but it was necessary to give some compensation for the sudden cessation of the levy of tolls. The actual expenditure was Rs. 1,37,572-14-1, and there was therefore a very small balance only.

The estimate for the ensuing year was prepared and passed at a meeting held on the 21st July 1874. The estimated receipts are Rs. 94,305-3, and the estimated expenditure Rs. 93,390. No allotment in aid of the district fund has been made this year. The estimate was passed by the Committee, and has since been approved by the Commissioner.

The most important works executed during the year were as follows :—

Berhampore and Bhugwangola Road.—(No. 33 in general list.) This is a metalled road 20 miles in length. The road was repaired and put in good order from Berhampore to Jeeagunj, a distance of 14 miles. From Jeeagunj to Bhugwangola, a distance of six miles, the road was in wretched state, as sufficient funds have never been obtained to repair the great damage caused by the breach of the Laltakuri embankment in the year 1871. During the year under report two miles were remetalled. Unfortunately a breach of the embankment occurred again this year, and, as before, great damage has been done to this road. As in 1871, the bridge at Kalukhali has been destroyed, and a breach of over 200 feet made in the road; and this portion of the road is consequently in a deplorable state. It is an important and much frequented road, connecting the Bhagiruttee with the Ganges (in the rains), and the committee regret that they are unable, in justice to the other numerous roads under their charge, to allot as much money to this road as would be necessary to keep it in first class order. Before the introduction of the Road Cess Act this was one of the provincial roads; and as it has been so much damaged by the floods caused by the breach of the embankment, it would be most desirable that a special grant should be made for its thorough repair.

Choa Bridge.—A girder bridge on the Hurrihurparāh and Choa road of four openings, 11 feet span each, has been completed at a cost of Rs. 3,822-3.

Calcutta Road Bridge.—A masonry bridge of two openings, eight feet span, was completed at a cost of Rs. 1,400-5-8.

Rampore Haut and Donegram Road Bridges.—Four bridges were estimated to be constructed—one of two openings, eight feet span, in the third mile; one of one opening, eight feet span, in the sixth mile; one of one opening, eight feet span, in the seventh mile; one of one opening, four feet span, in the ninth mile. The first three bridges were nearly completed. The overseer in charge of the work, having to look after important famine relief works at a distance from this road, was unable to push on with this work.

Jellinghee and Barromassia Road Bridges.—Bricks were manufactured for these bridges, but in consequence of the flood in the Shylmaree river, it was impossible to erect the bridges. The Jellinghee road bridges will be constructed during the ensuing year.

Inspection Bungalows.—An inspection bungalow at Panchgaon was erected at a cost of Rs. 648. This bungalow is at the junction of the Badshahi road and the Moorsshedabad and Rampore Haut roads. An inspection bungalow has also been erected at Kalyangunge. This is a building of a cheaper kind with ordinary mud walls, and cost only Rs. 133-12-6.

Berhampore and Patkabaree Road.—(No. 1 in general list.) This is a new road, 30 miles in length. From Chultia bheel, near the cutcherries, to Rajdharpara, a distance of three miles, the road was undertaken together with Gorabazar drainage scheme, as one work; the excavated earth having been so thrown as eventually to form a roadway. This portion still remains unfinished, but a great deal of earthwork has been done. From Hurishpore to Mymadpore, on the Bhyrub river, a distance of nine miles, the road was completed. From Rajdharpara to Hurishpore, a distance of five miles, the road was partially undertaken: it will be completed in the ensuing year. From Mymadpore to Patkabaree the road has been partially repaired in the places that were bad; it will be completed during the ensuing year as far as funds are available. This is one of the most important and useful works that has been undertaken, as it brings the head-quarters of the district within the productive thanas of Hurrihurparah and Nowada in the east and south-east.

Moorsshedabad and Panchgaon Road.—A new road has been opened out from Dahaparah, opposite Moorsshedabad, to Panchgaon, on the Badshahi road, 17 miles in length. The road has been completed from Panchgaon to the Jibunttee bridge, a distance of 10 miles. An embankment has been thrown across the Basia bheel, between Panchgaon and Nabogram, for a distance of about two miles. This enables people to travel between Panchgaon and Nabogram without the difficulty that they used to experience. An opening of some 500 or 600 feet has been left in the middle bheel, at which there will be a public ferry during the rains; while during the cold and hot weather a temporary bridge is constructed at the expense of the road fund. The embankment stood the high floods of last year, but will require raising another three feet. From Jibunttee to Dahaparah, a distance of seven miles, the road has been partially constructed; it will be completed during the current year. This is a most useful work; it being in fact the great western road of the district, connecting Badshahi road, which runs nearly north and south in the western part of the district (and, I hope, eventually Rampore Haut and the railway), with the western part of the city of Moorsshedabad, and thence by roads north and south with Azingunge and the suburbs of Berhampore, on the opposite side of the river. The bridging of the Basia bheel would be most desirable, but it would be a very expensive work, and far beyond the means of the committee.

Badshahi Road.—(No. 8 in general list.) This road, as now diverted, runs from Jaroor, near Jungypore, on the Moorsroce road, direct south through the district, a length of about 35 miles. From Jaroor to Nowada station on the Nulhatee State Railway, the road was half completed, and a great deal of work has been done on other sections. When funds become available to bridge this road, it will form a very important connecting road. Cart traffic has already commenced on it. Until recently no carts were kept by the villagers in that part of the district, all traffic being carried by pack-bullocks. The road has been almost completed from Panchgaon to the southern boundary of the district. The approaches to the Dhawrka river require to be made, and several bridges will be required for this road before its full value can be appreciated. The committee hope to do this gradually. One of the greatest difficulties on this road is the extensive Naggur bheel, between Sherpore and Khurgaon, which requires high and strong embankments and heavy bridging. Opposed as I am to the levy of tolls on bridges, it appears to me that the only method that could be adopted in order to bridge this part of the road would be for the road cess committee to borrow the money required from Government, and to repay it by degrees from the proceeds obtained by the lease of a toll gate at the bridge.

Road on the west or right bank of the Bhagiruttee—(No. 17 in general list.) The portion of the road on the west bank of the Bhagiruttee, from Azingunge to Ranishur Ghât, opposite Berhampore, has been completed to within a mile of the ghât. A large traffic is already showing itself on this road, the distance between Berhampore to Azingunge being considerably shorter by this road than by that on the eastern bank. Repairs have also been executed on other sections, and it is hoped that in course of time the whole length of road from Roghuanathgunge (opposite Jungypore) to Ramnugger, in extreme south-west of the district, may be put in proper order.

Kandee Road—(No. 11 in general list.) This road, 22 miles in length, connects Berhampore with Kandee and the Badshahi road at the boundary of the district. It was repaired and kept in fair order during the year. A great deal of work was done on the portion between Kandee and Badshahi road (four miles in length), which was made into a raised road. The road suffered severely from the overflowing of the More river in consequence of excessive floods. The embankments of this river are kept up by the zemindars, but as might be expected, not with such care as to be able to resist the heavy inundations of the past year.

Jellinghee Road—(No. 18 in the general list.) This road, perhaps the most important of those in the eastern portion of the district, 27½ miles in length, was kept in fair order during the year by the planters and silk factors residing in the district. It has suffered considerably from the flood water; the bridges are in a very bad state, and they require to be reconstructed in many cases. The road is in fact under-bridged throughout almost its entire length.

Kishnaghur Road—(No. 34 in the general list.) This road, 20 miles in length, was kept in fair order during the year; a portion, about a mile in length, near Chatanee, was raised to form the bund of the Bhagiruttee river.

Mooraroo Road—(No. 12 in the general list.) This road, 14 miles in length, which connects Jungypore with the East Indian Railway, is a very important one. It crosses the Pugla river and a considerable portion of inundated country. The bridges are quite insufficient for the waterways required, and the road is almost impassable during the flood season. On the East Indian Railway, one bridge of 25 28-feet openings has been constructed for the Chota Pugla, and one of (I think) four 50-feet openings for the Pugla, and there are also many smaller bridges in the vicinities of these. The bridge near Paikur has to take the bulk of the Pugla water, and it is no wonder that it has been so much injured. Had it not been that the flood water swept over the road for more than a mile, the bridge would infallibly have been destroyed. It would require a very large proportion of the committee's funds to bridge the Mooraroo road properly.

Nulhattee Road—(No. 16 in general list.) This is a road alongside of the State Railway; it was kept in fair order during the year. The road suffered considerably from the heavy floods during the cyclone. There is a considerable cart traffic during the cold season on this road, and its maintenance in good order is very desirable.

Beauleah Road—(No. 20 in general list.) This road, 25 miles in length, which connects Berhampore with Rampore Beauleah, was kept in fair order during the year; it suffered severely from the flood water.

Old Calcutta Road—(No. 32 in general list.) This road, six and a half miles in length, was thoroughly repaired and put in good order during the year.

Kattamaree to Moolnapara—(No. 26 in general list.) This was an old village track connecting Kattamaree with the Berhampore and Barromassia road. Rs. 200 was spent in improving its condition. It was put in good order as far as Moolnapara. About half a mile had to be left unfinished, there being no land available.

Barromassia Road—(No. 19 in general list.) This road leaves the Jellinghee road at Islampore, near the junction of the Bhyrab river. Rs. 806-8 were spent by Mr. Chardon, the Manager of the Barromassia Concern, in putting it in fair order.

Jungypore and Kamra Road—(No. 28 in general list.) This road, six miles in length, was put in good order. It is, however, much exposed to the inundation of the Ganges, and the high floods have damaged it in places; it should be raised above flood-level, if possible.

Deuansera and Murcha Road—(No. 23 in general list.) The portion of this road between Bhugwangola and Murcha was put in good order at a cost of Rs. 1,695-3-7. This road runs outside the embankment. It is high enough for ordinary floods, but suffered from the high flood of this year.

Goas to Dumkole—(No. 25 in general list.) This is a short road, about four miles, connecting Goas with Jellinghee road. Rs. 255-6 were spent in putting it in fair order.

Fureedpore to Nowadapara—(No. 30 in general list.) This is a road, about nine miles in length, connecting the Jellinghee road with the Barromassia road. It had not been repaired for years. Rs. 1,445-12-9 were spent in improving it. Some further expenditure will be required to raise it in places above flood-level.

Lallbagh Road.—(No. 35 in general list.) This is a fair-weather road along the Bhagiruttee, connecting Berhampore with Lallbagh and the city of Moorshedabad. It was kept in good order during the dry season.

Rampore Haut to Margaon.—(No. 3 in general list.) This is an important road, connecting the large village of Margaon with Rampore Haut. Rs. 904-5 were spent in putting it in fair order.

Rampore Haut to Narainpore.—(No. 8 in general list.) Rs. 773-9-11 were spent in putting this road in fair order. It connects Rampore Haut with the western portion of that thana and the Sonthal country.

Jeeagunj to Kamrah Road.—(No. 22 in general list.) This road, about 21 miles in length, is with difficulty kept in order, as it is much subject to damage by floods. It has again suffered from the breach of the Bhagiruttee embankment. Rs. 1,452-6-3 were spent in improving the worst parts of it.

Barromassia and Jellinghee Road.—(No. 27 in general list.) This road, about 10 miles in length, running almost parallel to the Ganges, was kept in fair order, at a cost of Rs. 1,550, by Mr. Lang of Hookabara Factory. It skirts the mouth of the Jellinghee river. This road suffers severely from the flood water of the Ganges.

Akrigunj to Kallamaree.—(No. 26 in general list.) This road, about nine miles in length, was put in fair order during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,360.

Beldanga Road.—(No. 9 in general list.) This is a short road, about three miles in length, connecting Beldanga, a large town in thana Burwah, with the river opposite Sattai. It was put in fair order at a cost of Rs. 360.

During the ensuing year it is proposed to bridge the portion of the Kandee road between Kandee and the Badshahi road, to construct a bridge on the Jungypore and Kamra road, to improve some of the bridges on the Jungypore and Mooraroe road, and to complete the bridging of the Rampore Haut and Donegram road. It is also proposed to metal the first two miles of the Kishennagur road near Berhampore, to remetal two miles of the Bugwangola road, and repair two miles, and lastly, to repair all the district roads as far as funds permit.

I consider that the most important works that remain to be completed in after years are these:—

1st.—The establishment of thorough communication between Rampore Haut and Moorshedabad, and thus with Berhampore, Azimgunge, and other places. We have already an almost completed road from Dahaparah opposite Moorshedabad to Panchgaon, while on the other side there is a very fair road from Rampore Haut to Donegram. I have recently inspected the country between Donegram and Panchgaon where there is no road, and have given orders for a survey in order to lay down a good line. The distance is only some seven miles, and the benefit of complete communication between Rampore Haut and the important towns of east would be very great.

2nd.—The completion of the Berhampore, Hurrihurparah, and Patkabaree road. I trust that much will be done towards this in the current year.

3rd.—The completion and bridging of the Badshahi road.

4th.—The completion of the road on the west bank of the Bhagiruttee.

5th.—The feeders road from Jungypore to Mooraroe, and Dhulian to Pakour or Bujapoor, on the East Indian Railway.

4. Maldah.—The Magistrate states that he has no further remarks to make than what has been entered in paragraphs 13 to 15 of my predecessor's letter No. 301, dated 30th October last, above alluded to.

5. Rajshahye.—During the past cess year the only sanctioned original works which has been commenced was the metalling of the Bya road.

Original works.—For this work 18,000 maunds of coal have been purchased, and during the past cold season 13,28,000 raw bricks were moulded, but owing to the loss caused by the heavy rain in February and March, the outturn has been only 9,35,000, or 70·4 per cent. on the quantity moulded.

The outturn of well burnt bricks provides soling bricks for almost the entire length from the limits of Beaulah town to Bya Bazar, but there will be khoa for two miles of road only. The balance of bricks must be burnt in the coming cold season. The total expenditure during the year has been 12,107-14.

Road from Nowhatta to Bajurpore.—As a relief work a new road was made from Nowhatta to Bajurpore, a village on the existing fair-weather track from Nowhatta via Soorjapara Ghât to Manda. The laborers flocked to the work, on which daily wages were given, so rapidly and in such numbers, that it was impossible to secure a full amount of work for a fair day's pay. With the staff available at such short notice, 12½ lakhs of earthwork were executed at a cost of Rs. 10,990.

Tannore Feeder Road.—A feeder road from the east side of the bheel opposite Tannore thana was commenced, which is intended to extend to Mahdnuggur, which will be a station on the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Seven miles out of a total length of about 26 miles have been raised to the level of adjacent mulberry fields; but from the experience of the floods during the past season, the crest of road must be raised another two feet to be well above the highest flood. The quantity of earthwork executed has been 20,70,000, at a cost of Rs. 7,029. Compensation of land taken up has yet to be made.

Kathoom to Gooliahat and Ellakigunge.—From Kathoom to Gooliahat and Ellakigunge a branch feeder road was proposed to join a feeder road from the Bogra district at the latter place; but for want of laborers, only 2,000 feet in length of embankment was thrown up, when the superintendent was recalled. The expenditure on this road, including construction of a temporary bungalow, amounts to Rs. 246-7.

Burgatchi Channel.—Irrigation channel of Burgatchi was carried out for relief purpose at a cost of Rs. 434. The channel connects two bheels in the vicinity of Burgatchi village. By means of channel the surplus water from the south bheel can flow into the north bheel, which has led to 500 beeghas more being planted this season with "amoun" rice than would have been if the channel were not cut; so that the work, though undertaken as a relief work, is likely to prove a most remunerative one to the persons benefited.

Repairs.—Road from Godagaree towards Maldah.—A diversion was made from the old line of the road from Godagaree towards Maldah district, taking the road along the high ground on river bank instead of along the bheel ground formerly selected, and which would have required a very high bank. By taking the new line one mile only of high embankment is necessary, but about two and a half miles of jungle had to be cleared as far as Ubhoy Factory (an abandoned indigo factory). The cost of jungle-cutting and 8,785 cubic feet amounts to Rs. 3,190.

The road from Godagaree towards Dinagepore is the most important one in the district, if a road's importance is to be judged of by the traffic over it. Nearly seven miles of this road have been repaired. In several instances new alignments have been made where cultivated land did not present an obstacle, as the route was made shorter and earthwork saved by abandoning the old line, which was discernible only by a deep indentation in the country. The past season's repairs extended as far as the village of Basudebpore, and would have been carried to the limits of the district but that higher rates were given in the Maldah district than in this.

The rates in Maldah were Rs. 3-5-4 per 1,000 cubic feet, while the rate in this district was Rs. 2-10-6; consequently the laborers went into Maldah, only a few miles off, for the higher rates.

Several bridges were in bad repair, but immediately after receiving information, they were put into order, and remain serviceable according to the latest reports.

The quantity of earthwork executed has been 22,31,000, at a cost of Rs. 5,838; but the excess of this expenditure over the sanctioned estimate may be attributed to two causes: the road has been made higher than was originally intended, and heavy surface repairs were several times executed to facilitate the passage of the Government grain carts.

Road from Godagaree to Beaulah.—On the road from Beaulah to Godagaree the expenditure has been Rs. 1,180. Of this sum, a portion was paid for constructing a roadway across the "Dharra" at Kusha, which served as an embankment to protect a country from the flood water of the Ganges, portion was spent on jungle-cutting from Nowabgunge to Kjurcheke, and balance has been spent on raising the road between Coomarpore and Fureedpore.

Nattore Road.—The road from Beaulah to Nattore has been raised from the sixth to eighteenth mile, but not sufficiently so to be safe from very high floods. The raised portion has not been stopped by this year's flood, which was somewhat higher than usual, but was not so high as that recorded in 1871. Through the bursting of a dam at Mundangatchee, the bridge east of Beralda Bazar has been carried away, and the approaches of some of the wooden bridges injured by the rush of water from south to north.

Pootia Road.—From the Nattore road to Pootia the road was raised to the same height as the Nattore road.

From Jullmullia, on the Moorshedabad-khan, to Nattore surface repairs only were carried out owing to scarcity of labor.

Forty-two lakhs of earthwork were done at a cost of Rs. 8,700.

Road from Dighaputia to Bagshur.—Between Dighaputia and Bagshur 12½ lakhs of earthwork were executed at a cost of Rs. 2,749. It is to be regretted that a new line of road was not made direct to Tegatchee from near Dighaputia instead of raising the existing road, which is not used during the dry season.

Pubna Road.—The repairs of the road from Beaulah to Oremkola, on the borders of the Pubna district, have been superintended by Messrs. Deveria and Abbott, Mr. Deveria looking after the road to Surda, and Mr. Abbott the section from Chargat to the limits of the district. Rs. 775 were advanced by the District Engineer and Rs. 1,500 by the Collector for this road. The road from Beaulah to Magepara was kept in excellent order during the dry season.

The repairs of the road from Lalpore to Galimpore were carried out by Mr. Abbott. No account has been received of the actual expenditure.

Mr. Ridge, of Soorsa Factory, had the road from Bya Bazar to Nowhatta repaired and partially raised, and commenced the construction of a direct line of road from Bya to Soorjapore Ghât. The expenditure on the two lines amounted to Rs. 885.

Road from Badhaikhara to Bagmarrah.—Surface repairs were done to the fair-weather track between Badhaikhara and Bagmarrah thanas. These repairs, which cost Rs. 129, were carried out under the supervision of the subordinate police officer.

The fair-weather track from Bya to Nattore via Baghdhunnee was repaired as a relief work, on which daily wages were given without being able to exact a day's task in return; so that the expenditure, amounting to Rs. 3,584, is considerably in excess of the value of the work performed. This track crosses a line of country in which no embanked road could advantageously be made.

Nowhatta to Manda thana.—The track from Nowhatta via Saiparah to Manda thana was repaired at a cost of Rs. 1,629. During the past season this track was of much importance, as Government grain was transported along it from Rampore Beaulah to various depôts in the Dinagapore district.

These repairs were carried out by the relief officers temporarily appointed for that purpose.

Several minor tracks were repaired, which do not call for any particular notice.

In the cess year just commenced the metalling of the Bya road will be completed, and the construction of the bridge at Bya undertaken.

The feeder road from Tannore will be extended as far as Bagmarrah thana, if possible. The land which may be required will be taken up in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

The feeder road which was proposed from Khathoom to Gooliahat and Ellahigunge will be abandoned or transferred to the special division formed in Bogra.

Two schemes have been proposed for improving navigation—one at Bhangra Jangle; the second to deepen the channel between Bandhaikhara on the Attrai and Bagmarrah on the Baruloie, the necessary surveys, sections, and estimates to be prepared this year.

The road will be extended from Godagaree towards the Maldah district as far as the allotted amount, Rs. 2,000, will admit.

Rs. 1,500 have been sanctioned for the Dinagapore road, which will be sufficient to complete the road to the limits of this district, as the bridges will require petty repairs only.

The bridges on the road from Beaulah to Godagaree are in need of repairs, which should be carried out before any attempt is made to embank the road, which fortunately is, as a rule, above flood-level.

Survey and sections of the Nattore road are to be made with a view of improving the direction of the road, raising it above flood-level, and providing an adequate water way in the bridges, so that the road may become an efficient feeder to the railway, which passes close to Nattore.

The road from Nattore to Bagshur will not be further raised, but a new line from Dighaputia to Tagatchee will be made at an estimated cost of Rs. 2,000.

Several bridges in the Rajapur section of the road to Pubna require repairs, more particularly the bridges at Harcerampore and Gourcepore. The former is a masonry culvert of two openings, eight-feet span, and the latter is a bridge having masonry piers and abutments, but a timber platform.

The sanctioned estimate for the Lalpore-Gallimpore road will prove barely sufficient to meet the expenses for earthwork, so that the construction of a new bridge at Soondergarra is out of the question this year.

Surface repairs are to be done to the following roads or tracks:—

	Rs.
Nowhatta to Manda	500
Bya to Tannore	150
Pershadpore to Balehar	500
Ranbagha (Koormail) to Bogra district	200

Rungpore.—The Magistrate has not given any detailed account of what has been done and what he intends to do in the current year. He remarks as follows:—

The original allotment was Rs. 30,000, but on application, Rs. 3,10,000 was sanctioned by Government for relief works. The expenditure has much exceeded the grant, leaving a deficit of Rs. 1,41,654-7-10 at the close of the year. An application has been made for a further grant in order to enable the committee to adjust their accounts.

There were only eight main roads in the district, but 97 more were taken in hand during the year. The total length of the roads is now 925 miles as against 265. The roads have been widened, and the earthwork in most of them has been finished. A special Engineer has been appointed to look after the roads and to complete the unfinished portions of roads and bridges.

6. Rs. 34,631-10-11 have been spent on original works, Rs. 4,88,145-11-10 for repairs, and Rs. 4,264-0-1 for establishment. The result of this expenditure has been, a greatly improved state of communication between the principal marts and villages.

7. Bogra.—The district had only the following main roads, viz. Bogra to Rungpore, Bogra to Dinagapore, Bogra to Serajgunge, Bogra to Nattore, Bogra to Dupchanchia, Shibgunge road, Fuldighi road, and Chandpore cross-roads; but the late famine gave opportunity to open several new roads through the district. The following roads have been added to our list:—

- | | |
|------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 1. Sharia Kandi road. | 10. Shonamukhi road. |
| 2. Sallangunj road. | 11. Khetlal and Ghoraghal road. |
| 3. Matiduli road. | 12. Badalgachi and Adamdighi road. |
| 4. Nowkhila road. | 13. Badalgachi and Nowabgunj road. |
| 5. Nungula road. | 14. Panitola road. |
| 6. Sherepur and Gohail road. | 15. Dupchanchia and Boriganj road. |
| 7. Nasipur road. | 16. Dupchanchia and Adamdighi road. |
| 8. Khetlal road. | 17. Dhunat road. |
| 9. Madhapur road. | |

These new or famine roads have been partially finished, and as a special Engineer has been appointed to complete the roads, we expect in no distant time to see them in permanent condition.

Besides the roads constructed under the supervision of the Executive Engineer and the circle relief officers, the following three roads have been done by the Feeder Road Division, Northern Bengal State Railway. These feeder roads are now under the special Engineer :—

Road from Ghoraghat to Hilee.

Road from Shibpur to Damdama.

Road from Dupchanchia to Seetahur.

A bridge is being built over the Gazaria nudee on the Rungpore road. The piers are all up, but as we had no materials to floor the bridge, we were obliged to postpone the work. We now find the difficulty in getting good timber for our purpose, and we have therefore proposed to throw brick arches over the openings.

Two culverts have been built on the Serajgunge road.

Masonry bridges on other district roads received partial repair during the year under notice, but steps to be taken to provide special repairs to all the bridges during 1874-75, as most of them are in a very bad condition.

Besides the two roads, 23 tanks have been dug in the district.

As will be observed from the statement annexed, the total amount spent by the Public Works Department on the roads and tanks amounted to Rs. 3,21,689-14, which have been allocated, in compliance with Government order No. 6119 of 8th October 1874, as follows :—

						Rs.	A.	P.
Public works	58,129	13	3
Famine	2,63,560	0	9
Total						3,21,689	14	0

8. The late Executive Engineer of the district remarked on the roads as follows :—

I have divided the works into four classes—(1) district roads repaired ; (2) new roads ; (3) old tracks raised ; and (4) repaired tanks.

CLASS I.

Rungpore Road.—Very little has been done to this, as there was not much distress in the country through which it passes. It is in good order as far as ninth mile-post, but beyond that, and up to the borders of the Rungpore district, at the sixteenth mile, it wants raising and widening nearly the whole way. I started work on it at Mokamtola, but could not get enough of laborers to do anything. It is in many places barely 12 feet wide, and ought, I think, to be widened not less than 18 feet, and raised on an average one and a half feet.

Dinagepore Road.—This is the road on which most money was expended. The greater part of it, however, was of no value, as thousands of women and children were kept on for months topping, which was perfectly useless work. The road, however, has been put into good order by the able-bodied laborers for the first 30 miles. It has been raised nearly two feet, and widened to 18 feet. Beyond that, little was done, as labor was not available. A diversion to avoid the double crossing of the Tooshiganga was commenced, but only half finished, the western side not having been touched yet ; this probably can be brought under the special division.

Dupchanchia Road.—Was raised one-and-a-half feet, and widened to 18 feet. It is now in fair repair, except for a couple of miles near Dupchanchia, where the soil is very bad and runs with heavy rain. It is now under the special division as part of the road to the railway station near Adamdighi.

Naltore Road.—Raised throughout one foot, but not widened, as it was wide enough.

Sherpore Road.—Nothing was done in the way of relief works ; the road is for the most part in first-rate order, and requires very little repair.

Sharea Kande Road.—Raised about one foot as far as Baigonee, seven miles from Bogra ; beyond that, a new road was made for a mile and a half, when the old road was again taken up and raised about a foot. For the first five miles the road is fair and passable, but beyond that it is so cut up by khals and small channels from the Brahmaputra, that it never can be any thing but a cold-weather road. It is now under the special division.

CLASS II.

Shihgunge and Burigunge Road.—A good road, 18 feet wide and averaging two and a half high, has been made the whole way, it crosses over large nulla which, in default of bridge, renders it impassable in the rains.

Khetlal and Panitolla.—Sanction for this road was obtained too late, as the rains set in and stopped the work. It would have been a useful road, opening up a large tract of rich country to the railway ; only about one mile has been done.

Khetlal and Serhati.—A good road, 18 feet wide, has been made to within a couple of miles, of Serhati hat.

Khetlal and Sonamukhi Road.—Was completed to within half mile of Sonamukhi with a top width of 18 feet. These three roads do not actually start from Khetlal thana, but from the village of Sankrady, two miles to the east.

Dupchanchia to Gopenathpore.—Completed throughout, with a top width of 16 feet and an average of one and a half feet bank.

Sullangunj to Adamdighi.—Completed as far as Kundgaon; first two miles 16 feet, the remainder only 12 feet.

Nungola to Dargahat.—Completed with a top width of 12 feet.

Buriganj to Dupchanchia.—About four miles, out of a total length of nine miles, completed, 18 feet wide.

Badalgachi to Nowgong.—Only about two miles done, as very little labor was available.

Serpur to Gohail.—Completed throughout, top width to 16 feet.

Mutiduti Peergunj.—Completed throughout, 16 feet top width, and average three feet of bank.

Nearly all the small water-courses have been bridged temporarily with bamboos, but on each road there is at least one wide khal, which renders them impassable during the rains. They are all now under the special division, and it is proposed to put them into thorough order.

CLASS III.

Sullangunge to Nasipur.—Raised one and a half feet; in good order, but intersected with large khals and nuddees.

Bogra to Nowkhila.—Only some slight repairs were carried out for rice traffic. It is too much cut up by floods to be of any use except during the cold weather.

Gabkola and Modhupore.—Raised one and a half feet as far as Sukhanpukhuria. Very much cut up by floods.

Masthan to Sukhanpukhuria.—Raised in whole way about one foot; a good cold-weather road.

Mokamtolla to Madhupore.—About two miles have been raised one foot, the rest untouched.

Badalgachi to Adamdighi.—About three miles have been raised and widened.

All these roads are now under the special division, and will be thoroughly examined and reported on after the rains.

CLASS IV.

Tanks.—The work done on tanks in Bogra can hardly be considered as of any public utility; they were mostly old tanks containing mud in the bottom, some of which was removed, but it is questionable whether any of them are of any advantage to the villages to which they belong.

• Two new tanks were started, one at Sukhanpukhuria and the other at Dhawapara. The former has been dug down to spring-level; it will be a useful work, as there is no other water near, and a large annual fair is held close by.

The Dhawapara tank was not completed for want of labor; it would be useful if finished.

8. Pubna.—By Government order No. 257 of the 14th July 1873, a sum of Rs. 15,000 was sanctioned for ordinary road works. In addition to this a special grant of Rs. 20,000 was subsequently sanctioned for famine relief works under Government orders, as communicated in Controller of Public Works Accounts' letter No. 891, dated the 29th January 1874. There was also Rs. 3,672-7 available from local sources, receipts from ferries, &c., and a balance of Rs. 3,689-4-6 remaining unexpended at the close of the preceding year.

It would thus appear that the total amount available for expenditure on road works of this district during the year under report, inclusive of establishment, was Rs. 42,361-11-6.

Of this amount, Rs. 22,007-12-3 was expended on original works, and Rs. 7,781-6-6 on account of repairs, and a further sum of Rs. 228 was expended in purchase and repair of tools, and Rs. 1,198-14-9 on account of establishment required for road works, as well as for collection and management, as detailed at length in the tabular statement already submitted. Most of the works were undertaken for famine relief operations, and the allotments budgetted for have been distributed in consequence.

The total expenditure of the year amounts to Rs. 32,513-12-6, leaving a balance of Rs. 9,846-12 in hand.

Of the original works, the most important was the road from Serajgunge to Chandaikona, which, when completed, will connect that large mart with Bogra and the road system of Central Bengal. On this Rs. 10,540 was expended. The bridges have not been commenced, and there is a gap of some miles in the middle. It is hoped that the road may be completed during this season, temporary bridges being erected. It will be of great service, and even in its present state is found to be much used.

Temporary bridges were built on the Tantibund road at a cost of Rs. 856: these complete a useful work.

A commencement of what is called the Maligacha road, an alternative branch of the Rajshahye road, to be substituted for a part of that work which is being washed away by the Ganges, was commenced at a cost of Rs. 956.

Of the smaller roads and tracks, a branch from the Attaikula road to Gaeshpore village, costing Rs. 100, has been found of much use. Rs. 250 was spent on improving the track from Serajgunge to Ullapara; Rs. 150 on that from Paras to Harrial.

A road from Pubna to Chatmohor was commenced at a cost of Rs. 2,533; one from Sathbaria to Sujanagur at a cost of Rs. 2,400. Rs. 865 was similarly spent on commencing other tracks left incomplete. These works were undertaken to give employment during the scarcity, and are not likely to be finished in the immediate future.

All the existing roads have been repaired.

The following original works and repairs are proposed to be undertaken during ensuing year at an estimated cost of Rs. 33,940 :—

Original Works.		Rs.	As.	P.
(1)	Road from Pubna to Munshidpore via Maligacha, to connect the Rajshahye road, a portion of which has been entirely washed away by the river Ganges	8,940	0	0
(2)	Bridges on Tantibund road absolutely necessary	4,000	0	0
(3)	Road from Serajgunge to Chandaikona via Pangashi, the earthwork of which should be completed and temporary bridges provided to open communication	17,000	0	0
Total		29,940	0	0
Repairs.		Rs.	As.	P.
(1)	Bhowanipore road—earthwork and turfing	300	0	0
(2)	Rajshahye road—earthwork and turfing	500	0	0
(3)	Bridge-work on Rajshahye road	300	0	0
(4)	Cutting jungles	100	0	0
(5)	Maligacha road	60	0	0
(6)	Road from Pubna to Dhulori—earthwork and cutting jungles	400	0	0
(7)	Dagatchee metalled road—earthwork and metalling	790	0	0
(8)	Tantibund road—earthwork and turfing	780	0	0
(9)	Sojanugur road—earthwork and turfing	50	0	0
(10)	Road from Serajgunge to Wollapara via Tangrail—earthwork and turfing	270	0	0
(11)	Road from Hurrial via Tarash to Sherepore—earthwork and turfing	100	0	0
(12)	Road from Wollapara to Goita—earthwork and turfing	50	0	0
(13)	Road from Chandaikona to Dhungpara—earthwork and turfing	300	0	0

A further sum of Rs. 15,000 has been provided for in the budget for compensation of lands taken for relief works.

Besides this, a sum of Rs. 255 has been budgetted for establishment for collection of revenue, including contingent charges, and Rs. 1,260 for salary and horse allowance of the overseer.

9. The annual accounts are submitted under separate letter of this date.

HIGH COURT NOTICES.

Circular Orders by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

General Letter No. 1.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th August 1875.

As considerable misconception has been found to exist upon the point, the Court request that you will inform pleaders, who are candidates for the subordinate judicial service, that the formal enrolment of name immediately on qualification as B. L. or Pleader of the higher grade, gives of itself no claim whatever to be selected, even though a letter intimating that a name has been registered, or the like, may have been received.

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
(Civil.)

Circular Order No. 10.

Dated Calcutta, the 7th September 1875.

THE Court is pleased to declare that the provisions of the first portion of paragraph 5 of Circular Order No. 2, dated 26th January 1874, (which, for facility of reference, is reproduced on the margin) are equally applicable to the Statements A. and C., and to determine that, when a suit or miscellaneous case is transferred from one Court to another, the date of the transfer by the one Court shall be considered for the purposes of the civil annual and quarterly returns to be the date of its receipt by the other.

"Statement B. Whenever the columns shewing cases received 'by transfer,' under each of the several classes differ from the corresponding columns for cases disposed of 'by transfer,' an explanation of the discrepancy should be given in the column of remarks."

Circular Order No. 11.

Dated Calcutta, the 10th September 1875.

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
(Civil.)

* Vide letter from Secretary to Government of India (Foreign Department), No. 2312P, dated 21st August 1875.

ON the representation of the High Court, and at the instance of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council has been pleased to determine* that Munsifs shall in future be addressed in official correspondence as "Rai Bahadur" if Hindoos, and "Khan Bahadur" if Mahomedans.

2. It is to be clearly understood that the titles are in no way personal, and will cease to be held when office is vacated.

3. The forms of address now enjoined supersede those prescribed in the Sudder Court's Circular No. 9, dated 6th July 1838, so far as Munsifs are concerned.

Circular Order No. 12.

Dated Calcutta, the 11th September 1875.

At the instance of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the Court is pleased to direct that petitions in the Nagri character be accepted by Civil Courts equally with those in Urdu.

HIGH COURT.
ENGLISH DEPARTMENT.
(Civil.)

2. Judges of Civil Courts of every grade in the province of Behar are enjoined to see that their clerks make themselves acquainted as soon as possible with the Nagri character where they do not already know it. The Court will expect Judges to be firm in resisting prejudices or passive opposition in the matter, and it is requested that the progress made be specially reported on in the next Annual Report.

W. M. SOUTTAR, Registrar.

TREASURY* NOTICE.

BABOO BOGOLA PROSSONO MOZOOMDAR, Sub-Deputy Collector, has been placed in charge of the Noakholly Collector's Treasury, and authorized to draw bills on other treasuries.

EDUCATIONAL NOTICES.

Orders by the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

Mr. H. Woodrow having resigned, Mr. W. G. Willson is appointed to officiate as Registrar.

Mr. Woodrow made over, and Mr. Willson received, charge of the office of Registrar on the afternoon of this day.

H. WOODROW, Offg. Registrar.

SENATE HOUSE, the 20th September 1875.

Two months' privilege leave has been granted to Baboo Probhat Chunder Sein, Additional Deputy Inspector of Schools at Jamalpore, in the District of Mymensing, from the commencement of the Dusserah vacation.

F. B. PEACOCK, Offg. Commissioner.

AN examination for the Certificate of reasonable expectation of passing the B. A. Examination will be held at the Office of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, No. 22, Chowringhi Road, on the 22nd November, and following days.

Candidates must be bona fide teachers of known schools in the Presidency Circle, and must produce proof of their length of service for two years as teachers; or, if they have not completed the two years of service as teachers, they must show that they have completed the two years from passing the First Arts Examination partly as students in a college and partly as teachers of such known schools.

Failed students of the last year will also be admitted into the Examination.

A fee of Rs. 5 will be required.

A written application, giving the particulars required by the University, must be sent to the Inspector previously.

By order of the Officiating Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, CALCUTTA, the 31st August 1875.

The Hymns of the Rig-Veda, in the Samhita and Pada Text, by Professor F. Max Müller, M.A., in two Volumes. Price Rs. 21; packing and postage, Re. 1-12.

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

ESTABLISHING A ZOOLOGICAL GARDEN AT CALCUTTA.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated 24th September 1875.

It is not necessary to set forth, in any detail, the reasons which render it desirable to establish a Zoological Garden at Calcutta, the capital city of Bengal. There are great advantages for maintaining such an institution in Bengal, as very many varieties of animals are procurable readily and inexpensively. The natives of Bengal have a taste and aptitude for natural history, the teaching of which science is manifestly facilitated by the display of living specimens. A permanent exhibition of this sort will have therefore a good educational effect.

A particular difficulty, however, has always been felt in respect to the selection of a site for which a considerable area of ground is required, in a situation, on the one hand, not so near to the populous part of the city as to cause inconvenience, on the other hand, sufficiently near to afford due facility for popular resort.

In order to select the best available site, I appointed a Committee consisting of—

Lord Ulick Browne, Commissioner, Presidency Division, President,
The Hon'ble Stuart Hogg, Chairman of the Justices of the Peace,
Calcutta,

W. S. Wells, Esq., Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs,

T. Grant, Esq., Magistrate of Howrah,

Rajah Jotendro Mohun Tagore, Honorary Secretary, British Indian Association,

Moonshee Ameer Ali,

and their attention was drawn to the several situations from which apparently a selection might be made. After considering all the alternative sites, they chose the site which lies on the left bank of Tolly's Nullah, close to the Zeerut Bridge. In this choice I fully concur, after having carefully examined the spot in reference to the special purpose of a Zoological Garden. From this point of view, indeed, the ground seems to me to possess a remarkable combination of advantages, as regards accessibility, water-supply, shade from trees, and other necessities.

Further, it happens that this ground is at present occupied by a large village which is in a very insanitary condition, and in which sanitation after long trial is pronounced to be extremely difficult. On sanitary and municipal grounds it had been decided to clear this locality on an early opportunity, and to use the land for some public purpose. Afterwards, the project of a Zoological Garden presented itself, as a most fitting object. Irrespectively of this project, however, the clearance of this ground had long been desired as constituting a considerable public improvement.

Thereupon, orders were given to take up the land for public purposes, with the award of compensation under the law. This has been arranged by the civil authorities of the 24-Pergunnahs, and the land is about to be made over to the Executive Engineer in the Public Works Department, to be prepared for the reception of a Zoological collection. The property in the land will remain with the Government, and is a valuable acquisition, which, if the neighbourhood shall continue to flourish, may prove in the future to be worth more than the amount of compensation now to be awarded.

Complete and general plans and estimates will be deliberately prepared for the whole garden, on the understanding that the work must be undertaken in the simplest and most economical manner, and must be designed, so that it can be gradually executed, piece by piece, according as funds shall be available.

It is probable that, in the first instance, we shall be able to lay out only a part of the grounds, and to erect only a few cheap and temporary structures for the reception of the animals. I will sanction an amount of Rs. 5,000 (five thousand) for this immediate purpose. For this a special estimate should be taken in hand under the direction of the Chief Engineer.

The present time is specially suitable for opening the garden, inasmuch as we shall have a handsome collection to begin with by reason of the munificence of Mr. Schwendler, who has been so good as to place his numerous and interesting specimens at the disposal of the Government of Bengal, thereby conferring a benefit on the public which will, I am sure, deserve and receive general appreciation. We hope also to obtain specimens from other quarters, and to add to the collection from time to time.

If, as I hope, we shall succeed in opening the garden by an early date, there is hope that some support may be received from the public in the shape of subscriptions or donations. Admission fees will hereafter be charged, and if the visitors, European and Native, shall be as numerous as we hope, the moneys thus received will help in defraying the cost of maintaining the institution.

In the first instance, and for the time being, I desire that the management be placed in the hands of the Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs under the supervision of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division. Afterwards, as the affair develops itself, it may be desirable to appoint a Committee of Management.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

RESOLUTION ON THE SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN THE SONTHAL PERGUNNAHS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 25th September 1875.

READ—

A letter from the Officiating Commissioner of Bhagulpore, No. 1510R., dated the 7th August 1875, reporting on the progress of the settlement operations in the Sonthal Pergunnahs.

THE settlement of the Sonthal Pergunnahs under Regulation I of 1872 was commenced in December 1872, but during that season only one assistant was employed under the Deputy Commissioner, and very little progress was made. In the field season of 1873-74 operations were conducted on a larger scale, but the work was much impeded by the occurrence of the famine. The present report, though mainly devoted to an account of the proceedings of the season 1874-75, includes tabular statements which show the whole number of pergunnahs and talooks settled from the beginning of the operations.

2. The work has proved to be in many respects more intricate and difficult than was originally anticipated. The instructions of Government, issued in December 1872, directed that measurements should not generally be made; that rents should be fixed with reference to the number of ploughs; and that settlements should be made in lump sums with the manjhees on behalf of the ryots, without determining the share of responsibility attaching to each individual cultivator. It was hoped that there would in general be very little necessity for interference with existing rents, and that little more would be required than a record of village rights, and a protection against enhancements by a grant of leases for ten years.

3. These instructions, however, were applicable only to villages held on the Sonthal community system, under a manjhee or village headman. In practice, it was found that there were many villages in which this system had never existed at all, or had been disused for so many years that its restoration was now impossible. These villages were held under the ordinary land tenures of Bengal, and in these it was necessary to carry out detailed measurements, and to ascertain the amount of rent for which each ryot should be liable to the landlord.

4. Even in the purely Sonthal villages in which the community system was still in force, the progress of the work was retarded by obstacles which had not been fully foreseen at the commencement. In some cases the ryots refused settlement, except on terms which were manifestly inequitable to the zemindar; in others, the landlords complained that the rates had been unduly reduced. In many villages the old headmen had been dispossessed in favor of farmers, and it was difficult to determine with what parties the settlement should be made. Interested and intriguing persons took advantage of the ignorance and the excited state of the people to foment dissension, and to encourage the ryots to withhold payment even of legitimate dues. These causes combined to hinder the progress of the operations, and indeed threatened to make their eventual success a matter of uncertainty.

5. This condition of affairs was reported by the Commissioner towards the end of 1874, and the Lieutenant-Governor, in a Minute dated the 6th January 1875, recorded his observations and instructions on the points upon which difficulties had been felt by the local officers. Sir Richard Temple recognized the principle that the main object of the settlement was the peace of the country and the contentment of the people; that a moderate rental, which would regularly be paid, was a better arrangement for the zemindars than a nominal high demand which it was impossible to realize; that it was desirable that the settlement should be made for the longest period to which the consent of both parties could be obtained; and that disputes respecting the arrears of past years should be decided by the settlement officers rather than by the ordinary courts. The Commissioner was instructed to use his utmost efforts to complete the settlement as speedily as possible, and to report what additional establishment would be necessary in order to attain this object.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe from the present report that "the outturn of work in 1874-75 has been very much better than in the previous year," and that "several matters involving difficulty have been settled, and affairs have thus been placed on a much more satisfactory footing than heretofore." The number of villages settled during the year was 1,750, at a gross rental of Rs. 2,04,684-7-6, which was an increase of Rs. 30,576-7 over the former zemindaree jumma. But it is explained in the report that the rental entered in the zemindar's account was often only a part of the sum actually extracted from the ryot. An example is given of the holding of a ryot, the rent of whose land was Rs. 9-15-7½, but who was made to pay an additional sum of Rs. 7-1-7½ in the shape of various cesses. In the Luchmeepore zemindaree, in pergunnah Passyc, the zemindar's rents were Rs. 26,460-3: but the sum which he actually collected amounted to Rs. 30,132-5-3: and even this did not represent the actual payments made by the ryots; for the middlemen, to whom the villages were farmed, and who had to pay large salamis for the renewal of their leases, realized from the tenants a total amount of Rs. 42,322-14, or more than 50 per cent. over and above the actual rental of the land. The pergunnah has now been settled by Mr. Wood at a jumma of Rs. 39,741-12-9, which gives the zemindar a considerable increase upon his former receipts, while it reduces the sum payable by the ryots. Similarly, in tuppeh Burkope the zemindar's rental was Rs. 56,037-4-9, but the collections made by the lessees aggregated Rs. 76,957. The tuppeh has now been settled by Mr. Wood at Rs. 57,397-15-3,—an arrangement which improves the zemindar's rent-roll, while it is a great relief to the tenantry.

7. It is presumed that the settlement officers have been careful to explain to the ryots that the rents fixed at the present settlement represent the whole sum which they can, under any circumstances, be called upon to pay to their landlord. But it will be necessary, at least for some years to come, that the local authorities should exercise special vigilance to prevent the revival of unauthorised exactions. Unless care be taken in this respect, the good effects of the settlement will be only temporary.

8. The report does not deal so fully as might have been expected, with the question of the progress made in realizing the heavy arrears of rent claimed by the zemindars on account of former years. The Commissioner's letter of the 29th December 1874 showed that a sum of about five lakhs of rupees was claimed as arrears on six estates therein specified, but that a part of this amount was disputed by the ryots. It is of great importance that these accounts should be cleared, so as to prevent the possibility of payments, made under the new settlement, being credited in reduction of the old disputed arrear. It is satisfactory, however, to observe that all the information given in the report regarding the realization of these demands shows that good results are being attained. The largest arrears were in Sultanabad and Hendwa, and it is stated that in Sultanabad the greater part of the amount for which suits were brought was recovered, and it is hoped that the same effect will follow in Hendwa, the suits in which are now in course of being heard.

9. In accordance with the instructions conveyed in the Minute of the 6th January, the Commissioner submitted, in the month of March, a detailed report and statement of the establishment and expenditure required for completing the whole of the settlement operations by the end of the working season of 1875-76. It was estimated that about 4,000 villages would remain to be settled at the beginning of the field season of 1875-76, and to ensure the completion of these within a single season, the Commissioner proposed to increase the strength of the settlement party by the appointment of a Deputy Settlement Officer and five additional assistants; the total cost for eight months, from 15th October 1875 to 15th June 1876, being Rs. 91,458-10-8. This involved an increase of Rs. 22,132 over the annual expenditure incurred in 1874-75: but in view of the great importance of bringing the proceedings to an early conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor accepted the proposals, and they subsequently received the sanction of the Government of India.

10. The additional officers sanctioned under these orders have lately been appointed, with effect from the 15th October next, the date from which the Commissioner considers that their services will be required. It will now rest with the Commissioner to utilize the establishments thus liberally placed at his disposal in such a manner as to complete the entire operations by the close of the ensuing field season. The Lieutenant-Governor gathers from the present report, that in addition to the villages intended to be taken in hand next season, there remained on the 30th April last a balance of 2,371 villages belonging to last season's work, the actual settlement of which had not been concluded on that date. But it is stated that the Settlement Officer is sanguine that he will be able to complete these before November next. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to have a report at the end of October showing how far this anticipation has actually been realized.

11. The thanks of Government are due to the Settlement Officer, Mr. B. Wood, for the energy, patience, and tact which he has displayed in dealing with the many difficult questions which have presented themselves in the course of the settlement operations. "In no case," says the Commissioner, "will any settlement, approved of by Mr. Wood, be found to exhibit conditions oppressive to the ryots." At the same time, Mr. Wood has been careful to hold the balance equally between the parties, and he has not hesitated to enhance assessments when justice required that he should do so. The Messrs. Hand, Roberts, Rattray, Dempster, Moulvie Hossein Ali, Assistant Settlement Officers; Baboos Ishree Persad and Sant Persad, Sub-Deputy Collectors.

Lieutenant-Governor is also glad to observe that the services of the subordinate officers named in the margin have been favorably noticed by the Commissioner. To the Commissioner, Mr. Barlow, the Lieutenant-Governor is much indebted for the valuable advice he has given regarding the conduct of the operations, for the careful personal supervision he has exercised throughout the year, and for the useful instructions he has issued to the settlement officers on various matters of procedure. The Lieutenant-Governor has every confidence that, under the able management of Mr. Barlow, this important work will be conducted to a successful conclusion.

PROMPTNESS AND JUDGMENT DISPLAYED BY A ZEMINDAR IN BRINGING A MURDERER TO JUSTICE.

No. 1161, dated Calcutta, the 23rd August 1875.

From—W. M. SOUTTAR, Esq., Registrar of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

I HAVE the honor, by direction of the Judges of the division bench, to forward, for the Huri Churn Deb and Merjan Roshna charged with murder under Section 302 of the Indian Penal Code.

favorable consideration of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the accompanying copies of the orders of the High Court in the cases marginally noted, with extracts from the judgment of the Court of Session of Rajshahye regarding the good conduct of a zemindar, Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty, who, by his promptitude and judgment, contributed greatly to the speedy detection of the crime (murder) of which the prisoners have been convicted.

HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL.

CRIMINAL JURISDICTION.

Present :

The Hon'ble LOUIS S. JACKSON, } Two of the Judges of the Court.
The Hon'ble W. F. McDONELL; }

Merjan Roshna Appellant.

WE have considered this appeal in connexion with the reference and appeal in the case of Huri Churn Deb, who was sentenced capitally in the same case.

The evidence against the prisoner is chiefly that of the witness Ram Mohun, who fully inculpates him, and it is strongly corroborated by the undoubted fact that the prisoner was one of the party who gambled at Huri Churn's and lost money to the deceased; that the murder must have been committed by more than one person; and that although the prisoner was found in the morning sleeping at the house of Hachim, a short distance off, his clothes in the lower part were wet, a circumstance of which he gives no explanation, but which is well explained by his having gone into the river with the body.

He has no defence; and although the assessors do not find him guilty, we concur with the Judge in thinking the evidence quite sufficient for conviction; and we think the prisoner would properly have been sentenced to death, but in this respect we think it unnecessary to interfere. The appeal is consequently rejected.

It appears to us desirable that the good conduct of the zemindar, Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty, in this case, should be favorably noticed and perhaps rewarded. It is rare to find a small proprietor who shows such intelligence and public spirit in matters of this kind; and it appears plain that this gentleman, by his prompt and judicious conduct on this occasion, has contributed greatly to the speedy detection and punishment of this atrocious crime.

We desire that copies of these minutes, with the necessary extracts from the judgment of the Court of Session (it is far too long for transmission in extenso), be forwarded for the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL

Present :

The Hon'ble LOUIS S. JACKSON, }
The Hon'ble W. F. McDONELL, } Two of the Judges of the Court.

Huri Churn Deb, son of Ramanund Deb ... Prisoner.

WE consider the crime of murder most clearly brought home to the prisoner Huri Churn Deb, and we are satisfied that the conviction and the sentence are right and just.

It is true that in distinct contravention of Sections 25-27 of the Evidence Act, the confession of the prisoner made to a police officer has been allowed to be proved; and not merely such part of it as related distinctly to a fact thereby discovered, but independently of the matter so irregularly admitted, there was ample evidence, both direct and circumstantial, to establish the guilt of Huri Churn.

The fact that deceased, who was a stranger, had played long and won heavily at Huri Churn's house, and was never seen alive afterwards in any other place; that next morning there were unmistakeable marks of bloodshed in and about Huri Churn's house, in part carefully effaced, and on his own clothing; that on being questioned he gave contradictory and prevaricating accounts as to what had become of the deceased; that the blood marks and indications of dragging a heavy body were traced from Huri Churn's house to the river; that Huri Churn pointed out the spot in the river bed where the body was found, sunk by a weight attached to its middle; and also gave up from his house the blood-stained dao and knife, with which he admitted the deceased's throat had been cut: all these facts would have amounted to cogent, almost irresistible, proof against him, even without the direct testimony of his own servant, the boy Ram Mohun, who, although subjected to a most searching and exhausting cross-examination, has not been shaken or discredited. This witness distinctly proves the murder of Ram Coomar Singh by Huri Churn and Merjan, who has separately appealed; and his assertion, that Ram Coomar's throat was cut by Huri Churn, receives the most emphatic and remarkable corroboration from the medical testimony, which shows that the cut must have been made by a left-handed person as Huri Churn is shown to be.

The murder being therefore most amply proved, prisoner being the principal offender, and the case one of unusual atrocity, we have no hesitation in confirming the sentence of death passed on Huri Churn Deb.

LOUIS S. JACKSON.

W. F. McDONELL.

Extract from the Judgment of the Court of Session of Rajshahye.

It appears from the evidence that these men had been playing for a week before this, and that Ram Coomar had been a decided winner. It is clearly proved by the zemindar of the village, Rajchunder Chuckerbutty (witness No. 4), the chowkidar, Imam Sheikh (witness No. 2), and the villagers Hachim, Guru Pershad, and Brijogopal (witnesses Nos. 5, 6, and 8), that this was the party on Sunday night, and that they played till about midnight.

All this is very clearly described by the witness Rajchunder and the other witnesses above mentioned. Huri Churn was found sitting at a khirki darwaza (side door) in the west wall, and was questioned by Rajchunder as to what had become of his companions, and what was the meaning of the blood marks to be seen on the "bera" of his hut, and, still more suspicious, on the very chadar that he (Huri Churn) had on. To this Huri Churn said that a leopard had carried off a dog, and that Ram Coomar was asleep in the ghar, and that Merjan had gone home.

Not satisfied with this, Rajchunder looked for Ram Coomar and found that he was not in the hut; and he found more marks of blood and signs of scraping and laping the floor, and altogether a state of things so suspicious that he sent the chowkidar to the thana, taking precautions to prevent the absconding of Huri Churn, and the removal of any of the suspicious appearances that had been found. The sub-inspector reached the village about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and examined the accused, Huri Churn, at once, when he confessed that he and Merjan had killed Ram Coomar and had thrown his body into the Fuljor.

In the other hut the sub-inspector found the signs of bloodshed which Rajchunder and the villagers had noticed as already described, and a wet pillow, and a couple of dhotees the same.

Of the robbery, there can be equally little doubt as regards this prisoner; it was the motive and the object of the murder. That offence also he now palms off upon Merjan and Hachim, and even tries to implicate the zemindar, Rajchunder Chuckerbutty, of whom it is only right to say that his conduct seems to have been most commendable throughout, and that his demeanour in the witness box was thoroughly satisfactory.

Merjan himself says that he went to Hachim's about midnight, and stayed there all night. In the morning he says he went to Huri Churn's and saw him and Ram Mohun lapid the floor, and saw blood stains about which Huri Churn said were caused by a leopard having carried off a dog; and then he describes the coming of Rajchunder Chuckerbutty and his questioning Huri Churn; and even says that he himself went down to the riverside and saw the blood there, after which Rajchunder asked him where he had slept on the previous night and then let him go.

No. 2664T, dated Darjeeling, the 16th September 1875.

From—R. L. MANGLES, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Judicial Dept.,
To—The Registrar of the High Court.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1161, of the 23rd ultimo, with its enclosure, in which the Honorable Judges of the High Court bring to the notice of Government the good conduct of the zemindar, Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty, who, by his promptitude and judgment, contributed greatly to the speedy detection of the crime of murder, of which the prisoners Huri Churn Deb and Merjan Roshna have been convicted.

2. In reply, I am to state, for the information of the Honorable Judges of the High Court, that the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to sanction the presentation of a silver watch, with a suitable inscription, to Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty in recognition of his public-spirited conduct, and of the valuable services rendered by him.

3. A suitable letter has also been addressed to the Baboo, containing an expression of the thanks and acknowledgments of Government for the judicious and zealous manner in which he appears to have afforded information and assistance to the authorities in furtherance of the cause of justice.

4. A copy of the correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

No. 2666T, dated Darjeeling, the 16th September 1875.

From—R. L. MANGLES, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Judicial Dept.,
To—The Commissioner of the Cooch Behar and Rajshahye Division.

I AM directed to forward to you the accompanying copy of a letter, No. 1161, of the 23rd ultimo, from the Registrar of the High Court, with its enclosures, in which the Court bring to the notice of Government the good conduct of the zemindar, Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty, who, by his promptitude and judgment, contributed greatly to the speedy detection of the crime of murder, of which the prisoners Huri Churn Deb and Merjan Roshna have been convicted.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to sanction the presentation of a silver watch, with a suitable inscription, to Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty in recognition of his public-spirited conduct and the valuable services rendered by him. The watch will be forwarded to you hereafter for presentation to the Baboo.

3. I am also to request that you will be good enough to deliver the enclosed letter containing an expression of the thanks and acknowledgments of Government to Baboo Rajchunder Chuckerbutty.

No. 2665, dated Darjeeling, the 16th September 1875.

From—R. L. MANGLES, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Judicial Dept.,
To—BABOO RAJCHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY, Zemindar.

THE Honorable Judges of the High Court have brought to the notice of the Lieutenant-Governor that you displayed great promptness and judgment in connection with the case of murder committed by Huri Churn Deb and Merjan Roshna, and that the assistance rendered by you to the police contributed greatly to the speedy detection of the crime, and to the conviction and punishment of the offenders.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has learnt with much pleasure of the judicious and zealous manner in which you have afforded information and assistance to the authorities in furtherance of the cause of justice, and I am to convey to you an expression of His Honor's thanks and acknowledgments for the valuable services rendered by you.

3. I am to add that, as a recognition of your public-spirited conduct, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to order a silver watch, with a suitable inscription, to be presented to you by the Commissioner of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division.

SUMMARY OF A CORRESPONDENCE RELATIVE TO A CASE OF MONEY ORDER FORGERY WHICH OCCURRED AT RAJSHAHYE IN MARCH 1875.

ON the 9th March last it was discovered that the money order form book was missing from the Rajshahye Collectorate. A search was made, but the book was not to be found, and the loss was reported to the Controller General on the following day. Before, however, information could reach Calcutta, or before the several treasury officers could be warned of the loss, so as to guard against the misuse of the missing forms, thirty-six money orders of Rs. 150 each, aggregating Rs. 5,400, purporting to be drawn by the Rajshahye treasury, were cashed at the Burdwan treasury by a man who gave his name as Ramchunder Bhoomick. On subsequently receiving information of the loss of the book, the authorities at Burdwan discovered that these money orders had been forged, and police enquiries were set on foot in that district and in Rajshahye, and a reward of Rs. 500 was offered by the Magistrate of Rajshahye for such information as would lead to the apprehension of the culprits. In Burdwan some clue was obtained by the description which was given of the person who cashed the orders. Further enquiries showed that a person answering the description was stopped at the Nulhatty Railway Station by head constable Herasut Ulla, of the Government Railway Police, with a box containing specie, with which he was allowed to pass on his explaining that the money was being carried for the payment of law expenses.

2. The most important clue, and that which led to the detection and punishment of the culprits, was supplied by Inspector Prosonno Chunder Chuckerbutty, of the Rajshahye Police, who, tracing some resemblance between the handwriting of Nito Gopal, his brother-in-law, and that of the forged letter of advice received at the Burdwan Treasury, and on which the money orders were paid, suspected Nito Gopal as the probable forger of that letter. The Inspector, accompanied by Herasut Ulla, went to Kishnagur, where Nito Gopal had lately gone, and where, on finding him, Nito Gopal was at once recognized by Herasut Ulla as the person whom he saw conveying the box of specie at Nulhatty. Nitto Gopal confessed his guilt, delivered over Rs. 1,853 which he had with him, and named as his accomplices Khetter Nath Roy and Monmohun Roy, clerks in the Rajshahye Collectorate. The investigation at this stage was taken up by Mr. Cockburn, the District Superintendent of Police, Burdwan, and the result was that the whole of the money fraudulently obtained was recovered, with the exception of Rs. 726-9-3, and Nito Gopal and Monmohun were committed to the sessions. Both of them were found guilty and were sentenced, the former to ten years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 400, and the latter to nine years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 400.

3. Great credit is due to all the police officers concerned, and specially to Inspector Prosonno Chunder Chuckerbutty, who, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, is entitled to a large share of the reward offered. It was owing to information given by him that a clue was furnished which led to the discovery of all concerned in the fraud; and bearing in mind that he had a very invidious and trying task to perform in arresting and procuring evidence against his own brother-in-law, the Lieutenant-Governor has sanctioned the grant to him of a reward of Rs. 200. His Honor has also sanctioned the payment of the following rewards recommended by the Inspector-General of Police, viz,—

To Inspector Sseram Chunder Ghose, of Burdwan, Rs. 100.

To Head Constable Herasut Ulla, Rs. 40.

To Constables Kunga Roy, Tinkowrie Sheikh, and Behary Tewary, a bonus of one month's pay each.

The above summary is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 25th September 1875.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.
Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN.	1 Burdwan, Sept. 27,* '75	1.92	Rainfall at Calna 0.18, Cutwa 0.80, Bood-Bood 1.42, Raneegunge 1.55, Jehanabad 1.55. Prospects of crops continue favorable; amun , or early rice, nearly reaped. Sugarcane is doing well. Public health generally good.
	2 Bankoora, " 25, "	1.03	Partial showers throughout the district. The amun , or early rice crop, is being reaped; the yield is unusually good. The late rice gives a splendid promise; other crops are flourishing. General health good.
	3 Beerbhoom, " 25, "	2.87	Showery weather. State and prospects of the crops are excellent.
	4 Midnapore, " 25, "	1.47	Showery and seasonable weather. The prospects of all crops continue to be very good, and a 12-anna crop is considered to be already secured even if drought supervened from this date. With neither too much nor too little rain during October a 16-anna crop will be gathered. Mulberry has, however, been a failure this year.
	5 Hooghly, " 25, "	1.53	Rainfall at Mohanad 2.32, Chinsurah .89, Huripal 1.92, Serampore 1.20, Dhonakhally 1.15, Chunditola .76, Balagar 1.89, Bansberia 1.77, Kristonagur .70, and Pandooah .10. Weather fine, with occasional smart thunder showers. State and prospects of the crops are very good indeed, except that rain is wanted. Small-pox continues in two isolated places. Sporadic cholera reported in two places. Fever rather prevalent; but character of general health is good.
PRESDUNN DIVN.	Howrah, " 25, "	2.35	Severe thunder-storms during the week. State and prospects of the crops could hardly be better.
	Central Districts.
	6 24-Pergha, Sept. 27,† '75	1.45	Seasonable weather. The prospects of the amun , or late rice, continue excellent. Fever increasing at Barripore and Bussirhat.
	7 Nuddea, " 25, "	1.41	Occasional rain. The prospects of the late rice and other crops are good. The rivers are going down fast.
	8 Jessore, " 25, "	.53	Weather hot; scarcely any rain. State and prospects of all the crops are promising.
RAJSHAHY DIVN.	9 Moorsshedabad, " 25, "	1.41	Seasonable weather. Rain was wanting at Ramporchaut sub-division until 24th, when there was a slight shower of rain there. Late rice continue to promise well. Bhadai is still being harvested; estimated outturn 12 annas. Fever prevalent in some places. Cholera has re-appeared in thana Burwa.
	10 Dinagepore, " 24, "	1.43	Rainfall according to Magistrate's rain-gauge 1.74 inches. No rain from 10th till night of 19th instant; then heavy rain for 36 hours. Since that cool and cloudy, with showers. Weather favorable for the late rice. Neither bhadai harvest nor late rice transplantations yet complete. Jute mainly cut. Much fever at head-quarters. Small-pox at Roygunj; 15 cases and 6 deaths.
	11 Maldah, " 25, "	2.08	Weather generally seasonable; heavy rain on the 21st instant; previous days were hot and dry. Since the injury done to crops by the floods, the autumn rice crop is doing satisfactorily. It has not yet been reaped. The winter rice crops promise well. Twenty-one attacks and 7 deaths from cholera were reported during the week. In one village 14 attacks of small-pox were reported.
	12 Rajshahye, " 25, "	2.55	There have been light rains in most parts of the district during the week. The harvesting of the early rice crop has been completed; the outturn in almost all the stations is estimated at ten annas, and at Mandah sixteen annas. At Tannore the outturn is not good. The prospects of the late rice are good throughout the district. Thirty-one cases of cholera reported, chiefly in Beluriah thana, during the week; twelve proved fatal. There have been a few cases of small-pox about Natore.
	13 Rangpore, " 24, "	.28	Weather hot, with slight showers on the 22nd and 23rd. There has been rain in the east and southern divisions of the district, and the condition of crops there, is so far favourable; but in the north the condition of the crops is becoming bad for want of rain, and much of the high-land rice is drying up.
RAJSHAHY DIVN.	14 Bogra, " 25, "	2.39	Weather hot, varied by two intensely rainy days. State and prospects of the crops are very good.
	15 Pubna, " 25, "	1.53	Weather clear and fair at the commencement of the week, and rain at the end. State and prospects of the crops are good. Fever prevails in the town of Pubna.

BENGAL.—(Contd.)
Central Districts.—
(Cont'd.)
COCH BEHAR DIVN.	16 Darjeeling, Sept. 24, '75	2.56	A good many heavy showers of rain after the previous week of fine weather; this is probably the breaking up of the rains. All the crops throughout the district are progressing favourably.
	17 Julpigoree, „ 25, „	4.41	There have been two good falls of rain besides showers this week, and the anxiety caused by the long breaks of the previous fortnight has been relieved. The prospects are now good. These remarks do not apply to the populous southern portion of the district where, for want of rain, a less area than usual has been planted with the main rice crop. Sporadic cases of cholera continue to occur.
	Cooch Behar, „ 23, „	1.93	Weather hot and fair. There was not much rain during the week. It is feared that on account of the want of sufficient rain the outturn of the late rice and the jute harvests will fall below the average.
Eastern Districts
DACCA DIVN.	18 Dacca, Sept. 27, '75	45	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	19 Fureedpore, „ 25, „	03	Weather continues hot and sultry. The sky was occasionally cloudy, but little rain. If there be no subsequent rise of water, some heavy rain in the commencement of October will be required for the late rice crop. Public health continues good.
	20 Backergunge, „ 23, „	28	State and prospects of the crops are good.
	21 Mymensingh, „ 24, „	1.35	Weather unsettled. Appearance of early breaking up of the monsoon. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
	22 Tipperah, „ 24, „	60	Weather hot and steamy; a few slight showers of rain here and there. General prospects of the late rice crops are excellent. The water has subsided in the greater portion of the flooded tracts, and the ryots are ploughing and transplanting in every available bit of land.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23 Chittagong, „ 23, „	1.71	Weather very hot; much thunder. Prospects of the crops are good.
	24 Nonkholly „ „	..	Return not received.
	25 Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 21, „	1.16	Weather close; passing thunder showers at intervals. Joom paddy is being reaped. The cotton plants are in flower.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 22, „	0.12	No rain during the week, excepting a smart shower on the morning of the 21st instant. The prospects of the winter crops in the plains and hills are good. Fever still at Kailashur.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26 Patna, „ 27, „	23	Weather hot and oppressive. Prospects of the rice crops are favorable, but more rain is wanted. Health good.
	27 Gya, „ 25, „	4.32	Weather moderately cool. Heavy rain on 21st and 24th instant, but not all over the district. Maximum reading of thermometer 92.0. In Jehanabad sub-division there has not been sufficient rain, but what fell has somewhat improved the prospects of the rice crop. Elsewhere prospects are good still. Public health good.
	28 Shahabad, „ 25, „	1.61	Weather hot, with occasional showers. Bhadoi crops are being gathered. Rice crop promises well, but more rain is required. The rain which fell last week has done good. Lands for rubber crops are being ploughed.
	29 Durbhunga, „ 25, „	3.10	Seasonable weather. The bhadoi crops are being rapidly harvested, and the new grain is coming into the market. At Madhuban 1.09 inches of rain has fallen, but more is still required for the higher lands. The Ganges has again risen, and the floods have done considerable mischief in the south of the district.
	30 Mozufferpore, „ 25, „	82	Weather hot. It was raining heavily at the time of report. In Mozufferpore sub-division the prospects of the rice crops are satisfactory, and the bhadoi crops are still being harvested. In Sitamarhee sub-division prospects are bad; in parts of Sitamarhee thana jurisdiction a great deal of rice land is not transplanted. Bhadoi crop has been a fair one, but makai is selling very dear. Sathi is being cut. North and east parts of the sub-division have had better rainfall, and the rice crop there promises well. No rain fell during the week. In Hajeehpore sub-division there has been a commencement of makai cutting. The crop gives promise of fair yield. Prospects satisfactory. No rain fell during the week.

* Telegrams of the 27th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
PATNA DIV.—(Contd.)	31 Saran, Sept. 25, '75	·66	Rainfall at Sewan 1·63. Weather fair and seasonable, both east and west wind. A good shower of rain at the time of report. Light rains have been general. The bhadoi crops are being harvested with good outturn. Transplanting of rice has been completed; the crop is coming on well. More rain is still wanted. Cholera is reported at Barhram, in pergunnah Baree, in the Sewan sub-division.
	32 Champaran, „ 24, „	·78	The weather has been generally favourable, but more rain is wanted, and appears likely to fall. The prospects of the crops are excellent. The yield of the bhadoi crop has been unprecedentedly large.
BHAGULPORE DIV.	33 Monghyr, „ 25, „	0·66	Seasonable weather. The prospects of the crops generally continue good. There appears at present every prospect of a good rice crop.
	34 Bhagulpore, „ 27, „	·66	Heavy rain—over 4 inches—in south of district; .80 in Mudohpoora; in Soopool nil. Banka reports aghani , or late rice, on low lands does not require any farther water, that on high land will pass all danger by another fall within next fortnight. Mudohpoora reports aghani , or late rice, unusually good everywhere. Soopool reports only an 8-anna bhadoi has been gathered. The aghani , or late rice, promises about the same outturn. Rain is much wanted, especially in Naradeegur. General health very good. Cholera here and there in Banka sub-division.
	35 Purneah, „ 25, „	2·86	Weather seasonable and rainy. There has been a good fall of rain all over the south of the district, but more is still wanted in the north, as the reports from Kishongunge and Arrariah show only 1·79 at the former, and .27 at the latter place. Prospects on the whole are much better than they were last week; and cholera, which had broken out in some villages, is disappearing.
	36 Sonthal Pergha, „ 25, „	·39	Rainfall at Amtara 2·95, Godda 3·0, Deoghur 1·48, and Rajmehal 3·5 inches. Reports are good from all sides. Cholera has almost disappeared.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37 Cuttack, „ 18, „	6·92	Frequent rain in the early part of the week, and very heavy rain the last two days. Crops under water in low lands near the coast, but very little harm done yet. Early rice promises a fair outturn.
	38 Pooree, „ 23, „	5·91	Heavy rain up to 20th, and since sunshine, with overhanging clouds and occasional rain. The late rain has done good to the crops. The early rice is still being harvested with fair outturn. The first late rice is coming on. The main late rice plants are being weeded. The prospects of the crops are hopeful. Miscellaneous crops are getting on well.
	39 Balasore, „ 24, „	3·46	Owing to the heavy rains there were considerable floods, at the beginning of the week, in the Burrabalong, Salundi, and Hyturni rivers, causing damage to houses and the crops on the lowest lands. The weather has since moderated. The early crop of sons rice is being cut. On the whole the prospects of the rice harvest are unusually good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
	40 Hazareebagh, Sept. 24, '75	0·66	Seasonable weather. No change to report. Goradhan , goondlee , and murrooh millets are being cut. Here and there more rain is wanted, but the general prospects are very good.
	41 Lohardugga, „ 25, „	2·90	Seasonable weather. The high land rice is still being harvested; the crop is a fair one. The prospects of the late rice are excellent throughout the district. More rain is said to be wanted in Palamow. Cholera dying out.
	42 Singbhoom, „ 24, „	3·08	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are very favorable. The bad paddy (high embanked land crop) harvest is estimated to be 16 annas. Sowing of pulses and oilseeds has begun. Tusser silk is reported to have suffered from the late heavy rain. District is reported healthy.
	43 Manbhoom, „ 25, „	2·02	Favorable weather. State and prospects of the crops are promising. From the reports received from all parts of the district, it is estimated that from 2 to 4 annas of the crop, which would otherwise have been reaped, will be lost from the blight already reported. On the other hand, the area of cultivation is greater this year than of late years.

* Telegram of the 27th September, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

Published for general information.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower rain-gauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.
